The answers to these questions were transmitted by TEACHERS from the SPHERES of LIGHT. Paranormal voices appearing within the protocol were captured on tape and are marked with T.B: (Tonband). Any words that are underlined are authentic with the original transmission. This working circle grew out of a meditation group and commenced its psychic activities on October 25th 1995.

Meeting protocol	:	Extracts from P 161 to P 171 from the year 2001
Theme/special features	:	Genetic research
Questioners	:	Members of the Psychic Work Circle
Type of transmission	:	Verbal inspiration and automatic writing
SPIRIT TEACHERS	:	ARON, AELIUS, ALBERT, BALTASAR, BARTHOLOMEUS, EMANUEL, EUPHENIUS, JOACHIM, LUKAS, LEONHARD, MICHAEL, MAGDALENA, TIMOTHY.
Previous guests	:	AMENDON, ELIAS, TAI SHIN, SEATH SETHAN.

Introductory words:

GREETINGS IN THE NAME OF GOD AND PEACE ACROSS ALL FRONTIERS! We are welcoming all present from the OTHER WORLD very cordially. "Where two or three are assembled in my NAME there I'll be right in the middle of them," these CHRISTIAN WORDS shall guide all our meetings. We will do this work in HIS NAME so that it will serve everybody. Only HE is able to send authorized TEACHERS so that we can receive the TRUTH. We ask CHRIST to bless all present here with HIS spiritual PROTECTION so that we won't be a plaything in the hands of GOD'S antagonist. We know that we have to make the greatest contribution ourselves. – Our destination is to grow through spiritual TEACHING, then to be able to distribute the TRUTH there where it can fall on fertile ground. We are asking for GUIDANCE so that our mission on Earth will be justified. Without spiritual HELP, we cannot reach this destination under our own steam. We thank all HELPERS from the OTHER WORLD who support us in this. In this sense we are hoping for a blessed and enlightening evening.

Words from WHITE EAGLE:

Do not be dejected nor disturbed. Take every day the way it presents itself. Live within the consciousness of the LIGHT and in the knowledge that everything is heading towards perfection.

---

All meetings begin with an opening meditation and with a materialisation exercise under the guidance of the spirit teacher MAGDALENA. This is followed by the inspirational and automatic writing part of the spirit teacher EUPHENIUS and LUKAS.

---

Welcoming all present and starting with the questions.

EUPHENIUS: GREETINGS IN THE NAME OF GOD AND PEACE ACROSS ALL FRONTIERS!

This is EUPHENIUS speaking. May GOD'S SAFEGUARD be with you. We are pleased to see you here within a circle of LIGHT. You are settled within and your HEART'S SPARKLE brightens up this room. You are surrounded by a GARLAND of LIGHT. Many souls have assembled here to guarantee PROTECTION for you. We are enveloped by powerful CHANNELS of LIGHT and LIGHT FREQUENCIES, which surround you and which guarantee PROTECTION, giving us the opportunity to make safe contact with you. This work you do here gives you the opportunity to receive information and to convey this information to all those who are interested, in order for them to recognise just what form of existence they presently occupy and just what the meaning of life is all about. We are grateful that this is possible and that you are willing to receive us here.

We begin today with a new theme, one that represents an important chapter in your Earth's history and one that comprises a new episode in your existence here in the physical. This new theme is pioneering in regards to the whole planet Earth and it contains a testing challenge for every single soul on this planet, one that will show whether you are ready to discern the new CONSCIOUSNESS and the new ENERGY STREAMS.

- The divine SIDE will give you a great insight into the regeneration of your own body and your own development. You have the chance to accept this gracefully and we hope that those amongst you, who deal with these factors on a professional basis, will provide this information to all and sundry and this in a divine sense.

We are here as GOD'S envoys, here to answer all the questions you have in regards to this theme as best as we can. It is your assignment to communicate these answers to other people. The insight, that there are more things hidden behind these words than you are trying to put into practice and trying to accept, is important. We thank you and we are pleased that you always manage to come up with new questions and new themes. It is important to spread and proclaim the TRUTH here on Earth. All of you here, and others also, are virtually the broadcasters of this information and we thank all of you for your co-operation.

- But remember that not a mission of missionary work ought to be behind this, but an open opportunity to regard this from a different point of view in order to expand one's own sphere of thought.

LUKAS : GREETINGS IN THE NAME OF GOD! I would also like to greet all of you very cordially, that is, my TEAM and myself, because we utilise this medium in order to make our presence felt within your world. This work that we carry out here is important, because times are getting tougher and GOD'S WORD, that is to say, the TRUTH is needed more than ever on this spiritually dark planet. We hope that we can continue to count on your co-operation. We are pleased about your co-operation, because it is something we need so very much. Your world is like a dry sponge that absorbs spiritual KNOWLEDGE. This is why the work here and that of similar circles cannot be rated highly enough. All of us accompany you on your journey and we are now looking forward to your questions.

Question : The title page of a 13th century bible shows God with a pair of dividers in his hand as he creates the world. The text reads as follows: "Here God creates Heaven and Earth, the sun and the moon and all the elements"; this illustrates a constructive concept of the universe. On the other hand there is the idea of an aimless creation of the world, Darwinism, which defines evolution as a result without plan and objective, the result of the fall of a dice and coincidence. What stopped man from redesigning the title page of the bible and to create a more plausible theory than Darwin's?

EUPHENIUS: Because man has relinquished his responsibility. Because it is easier not to listen and not to see. Man has found an opening that allows him to renounce his responsibilities in regards to himself, his fellow man and planet Earth. If he had accepted this responsibility, it would mean that he would have to seriously consider his actions and his deeds in order to accomplish the meaning of his existence here on Earth in a divine sense. This solution has placed him in the position of a neutron, one that accepts no responsibility, thereby trying to shirk the divine LAW of CAUSE and EFFECT.

But this is a fallacy and a false indoctrination!

GOD'S CREATION is based on many successive chains of development, which present you the way you are today. It represents a PLANNED INTERPLAY, one that intertwines and one that makes you take on the responsibility in regards to your development, whether you're prepared to do so or not. You arrange your own development through the various lives lived on Earth and you are substantially involved when it comes to the development you find on Earth and in regards to future developments. The most important think is that you recognise that GOD is the one that guides the QUILL and that HE provides the PLAN and all CREATIVE ENERGIES. You would not be born here on Earth without these CREATIVE ENERGIES. Your development would be at a standstill, without these CREATIVE ENERGIES. It would mean standstill and rigidity. Your developmental history goes hand in hand with GOD'S PLANNING. You would still occupy the level of a Neanderthal Man and the STREAM of ENERGY would reach you with great difficulties.

- You soul ought to mature to a level where it can decide to enter the DIVINE and not to accept a standstill in its development.

Question : Couldn't Neanderthal Man decide for himself to go towards the divine?

EUPHENIUS: Neanderthal Man was at a level of development that entailed the forming of the body and of the physical. A certain development is necessary to attach a soul to such a physical module in order for it to be inclined to understand the divine LAWS in their basic substance. It takes a mind, logic and presence so that a soul recognises that one does not have to beat one another senseless in order to communicate with one another.

- GOD'S LOVE grows there, where you are ready to keep in the background.

Question : One thing is certain, namely that present day man does not represent the pinnacle of creation. Is GOD more interested in the universal development of one's consciousness?

EUPHENIUS: The development of the consciousness is the highest quality that should be accomplished, because the separation from the physical takes place automatically.

- The aim is for you to move about and to live without matter, that is to say, outside the physical.

Question : Christian doctrine confirms in many instances and declarations the feasibility of the world. It is therefore the next logical step from "go forth and subject the world to your will" to "allow us to do as we please". Has the time to deal with genetic research simply arrived?

EUPHENIUS: The time is right, because new CONSCIOUS ENERGIES are flooding planet Earth. It is time for you to open up your consciousness to the things the ethereal world has on offer and to what ANGELIC BEINGS hold ready, in order to inspire you and in order to confirm for you that there is more than meets the eye here on Earth. You must gain the insight that something ETHEREAL does exist and that it accompanies you in a divine SENSE. This is the reason why UFO sightings are presently subdued, because the emphasis is presently directed at inspirational guidelines. It is our wish to reach you within your heart, in order for you recognise GOD and particularly in order to cultivate the knowledge of your soul's life after death within your consciousness. Your consciousness is now ready to absorb and to evaluate this information.

- You will recognise that the physical world does not serve the purpose of satisfying your innermost needs and of healing your soul. - You will recognise that your soul becomes substantially ill from the disequilibria within your worldly existence.

All of this is based on the fact that you have lost contact with your inner CORE. Many people are now beginning to heal their soul and to do so they reach for alternatives, especially for other religions in order to find their salvation. This gives the LIGHT of GOD a great opportunity to shine within large sections of the population.

Question : What is the moral status of a newly created creature, if a number of human genes are transferred to another species? Does it still represent an image of GOD?

EUPHENIUS: Genetic research ought to serve the purpose of helping you to recognise that these fields of research offer opportunities to free the world particularly from illnesses and other afflictions or flagellations. They also serve the purpose of bringing changes to physical deformities. Genetic research allows an insight into a world of wonderment, one created by GOD in order to portray CREATION'S filigree work to you. The insight into this is like a glimpse into GOD'S GARDEN. The genius of how CREATION'S individual buildings blocks are put together can be recognised. The body represents one of CREATION'S marvels and ought not to be copied. But the exchange of genetic molecules makes it possible to create a more content and viable human being.

Question : Man was created "in HIS image". What exactly does this mean?

EUPHENIUS: The soul and the spirit are meant here, they are supposed to mature in order to become the image of GOD. Look into a mirror and you will see how close you are to GOD. The body only represents a physical shell, one that decays and decomposes.

- The soul, the spirit and your consciousness are the most important things, necessary to enlighten and to amplify LIFE'S FREQUENCY here on this planet.

Question : Would a viable, but deformed body still represent an image of GOD, because the spirit with it, the spirit that animates the body, originated from GOD?

EUPHENIUS: That's the way it is. It is not what's outside that counts, but the inner FRAGMENTS that are of importance.

- It is important to recognise that GOD might have allocated such a body to a soul, in order for it to make the necessary experiences within the physical world and within the physical body.

This has nothing to with one's spiritual development. Such a body can certainly accommodate a higher soul than a more beautiful body, one that only shines on the surface, but atrophies inside.

Question : Is the genetic research done here on Earth part of man's development?

LUKAS : One can't really say that genetic research "is part of it". It is to be regarded an experiment. You were once again handed something through inspiration and we will see how well you deal with it or whether you will fail once again. The inspiration comes from the spheres of the spiritual realm. Look upon it as a test of your maturity.

---

Question : Genetic research is therefore not something negative?

LUKAS : The atom is also not something negative. When the scientific connection was inspirationally placed within your consciousness, you failed in spite of it. You utilised this inspiration right away to kill hundred of thousands of people. Genetic research also comprises negative developments you could pursue. We will see. May everything take place according to your free will.

Question : What positive aspect can you see for us in regards to genetic research?

LUKAS : Well, not everything is negative, therefore not all the subject matter of genetic research either. Hereditary diseases and other disfigurements causing genetic defects and the like can certainly be eliminated. One will then be able to neutralise these defects in future generations, so that normally configured children are born once again, these defects might have been caused by environmental influences. But this entails an intensive co-operation with the spiritual realm, because you wouldn't know whether someone's deformity is possibly specified through karmic connections.

Question : Does it take spiritually open minded researchers to make this co-operation with the spiritual realm possible in order to pursue this line of research in a positive way?

(T. B: Exactly right!)

LUKAS : They don't necessarily have to be spiritually arranged. What is important here is a deep seated belief in GOD, because all inspirations will then originate from divine REGIONS. Everything negative would simply ricochet, like a ball of a wall. One's inner, spiritual reconciliation is therefore of importance! Such a scientist does not have to be a spiritualist, because all of his inspirations would come from the right direction and they would be according to GOD'S WILL.

Question : Does genetic research bring about a change within the molecular structure of the DNA?

LUKAS : The double helix of DNA and its codes are the keys that allow genetic researchers to intervene. Illnesses like diabetes for instance, could be completely eliminated.

Question : Politicians insist that genetic research represents "a commandment of brotherly love" and that this Christian maxim prohibits the disregard of the ethics of healing. Are they correct?

EUPHENIUS: One has to add here that genetic research has been discredited here with you, within your Earth's structure. It is important to recognise that this research may only be carried out within the boundaries of human dignity. It may not serve the purpose of creating robot-like, human machines or optimised fighting elements, which might serve the purpose of wielding power over other people.

- Genetic research may only serve the purpose of guaranteeing human beings quality of life here on Earth and this in a divine SENSE and to gain an insight into the CREATIVE PLAN, which continues to reveal the wonderment of the physical body to you.

Question : As you mentioned before, genetic research burdens mankind with an enormous responsibility. One can correct genetic disorders on the one hand, but one can also develop monstrous, human-like machines. I ask myself whether we, as human beings are mature enough to receive something as momentous as this and whether we're cut out to carry this responsibility?

LUKAS : How else can this be put to the test? As you pointed out, in regards to the spirit, man is either an angel or a monster. A physical body is hardly viable, if its external attribute are monstrous. You always only see externalities. The monstrous is within your mind, within your non-physical consciousness, outside of the physical.

The tests you are presently faced with are necessary in order to ascertain whether you are mature enough for far more further-reaching inspirations, which will have a global effect, like for instance an independent energy supply, one which doesn't diminish any of Earth's resources, but one that is fed by the SOURCE of all BEING. These energies are available and there are ways to utilise them. But they could also be used to wage wars. The user of this energy would be unassailable and would also have absolute first-strike capabilities.

This is why a different, comparably harmless agent, is necessary, one that has now been inspired to test you. The new energy source will only arrive through inspiration once the tests have been passed. Even thou there are some serious thinkers amongst you who have recognised the sunrise on the energy horizon, they are not quite sure about what to do with it. All will fall into place. You will always have a choice!

Question : In early 2,000, an American company triumphantly announced that the human genome has now been deciphered to a large degree. A fierce battle has erupted over therapies, patents, clones and manipulations ever since. Is mankind already in possessions of means to free itself from illness and from suffering?

EUPHENIUS: Not yet. You can see that mankind once again begins to plot various power-plays here and there. GOD gave you little fragments and a brief insight into the structure. It will still take quite some time to shed some light on the true knowledge, the truth. Genetic research is still in its infancy and it is certainly not over and done with.

- Important is that mankind considers the following: What do I want to achieve with this genetic research? - What good will it bring me? - What advantage will it bring individual people? - Ethics and human beings must be the main focus here also!

This is the responsibility that you have to deal with here on Earth, especially all research laboratories, because they try to line their own pockets in order to signal their aspirations for power. We know that the negative side tries numerous things in order to have an ENERGETIC influence in the proceedings, but it is GOD'S WILL that you mature through this field of knowledge also and this particularly within your level of consciousness.

Question : A lot of confusion is caused by the appeal to maintain man's dignity when it comes to discussing gene technology. Man's dignity is an abstract concept, one without a concrete, definable perspective. This is why one includes just about anything under its guise and one does so assiduously. Both sides of the abortion debate for instance call upon man's dignity: One side on behalf of the pregnant women, the other side on behalf of the embryo. What are the CREATOR'S thoughts on this problem?

EUPHENIUS: Man's dignity is a word that you have coined here on Earth. This word does not exist in GOD'S vocabulary, because every soul has the right to incarnate here on Earth. Animals also have a soul and it is up to you to decide whether you are willing to torment animals in the name of research or not.

- It is certainly not within the framework of CREATION that animals die in the name of research. But the deliberations of the sciences do not go that far.

Every embryo here on Earth has therefore the inherent dignity to receive a soul. Being born is the most important thing that GOD gave you here on Earth. From a divine point of view, what exactly does "man's dignity" mean?

- From a divine point of view, man's dignity means the realisation that every human being is independent and that every human being can make his or her own decisions based on their free will.

There is a pivotal point here that continuously repeats itself, namely the realisation that every soul here on Earth has the right to begin its growth, be this soul physically deformed or mentally handicapped. Only the CREATOR has the right to abort the process! Genetic research gives you a minute insight into the CREATIVE PROCESS.

Question : One does not necessarily have to believe in God to support man's dignity, but it seems to be the norm these days for most researchers to look upon any devout, religious critics with contempt. It is a fact that religion can give us insights into questions of ethics in away that would otherwise not be possible and this not necessarily based on religious auspices. What can you tell us about this?

EUPHENIUS: The various religious basics that exist here on Earth are basics derived from GOD and whatever you have received in the form of divine LAWS - from us also. We are dealing with fundamentals that are supposed to improve your existence and make your cohabitation more plausible. This knowledge is not just a moral and ethical foundation, but something that your heart should also emanate. You could not exist as human beings without these basics. You would be the equal of animalistic entities, which would live here on Earth without scruples, restrictions and barriers. What would be the state of affairs then? You would take a retrograde step within your development, from which you have managed to emerge.

- The divine MESSAGES contained within religious scriptures are variously emphasised and contain various points of view. If you take a healthy mixture from all that's proclaimed you have a wonderful, divine DRINK that will refresh your soul and that will allow you to recognise yourself, so that your heart will shine with LIGHT and with joy.

Question : Should the Church endorse these new developments and if they should, how can they do so without losing their basic tenets?

EUPHENIUS: The Church would have to acknowledge and respect the fact that genetic research will bring changes to the gene's structure with it, that the CREATOR provides the soul and that incarnations of souls here on Earth conform to the TRUTH. It would have to abandon some of its enormous dogmatic "laws". The Church is entrenched behind the idea that GOD had something in mind when HE created man. This is only partially correct, because one may not overlook the karmic LEGISLATIONS. Genetic research brings with it a reduction of all illnesses suffered by man and mankind's major flagellations will be eradicated. The Church would have to accept that for every reaction there is also a prior action.

Question : According to certain concepts, GOD is the non-caused first cause of everything there is, created from nothing. Man is also non-caused, he can create nothing from nothing, he has to rely on what he finds, rely on nature and the laws of nature, laws he didn't create. Basically nothing has changed when it comes to genetic research, man proceeds in the way he always has. He discovers natural laws and makes use of them. There is nothing objectionable about this, is there?

EUPHENIUS: This is not objectionable. But man must accept the fact that there are laws of nature for instance that do also have an effect on you, as human beings. Nature is also a part of the interplay between you and your soul and genetic research will also be in a state of interaction with you, because your DNA can be changed in many areas.

- You must recognise that everything you do has an effect on yourself and on your development.

All of this is an interplay between giving and taking. It may not be that one man is the subject of another. The scales must be balanced and weigh with equal measure. They may not topple over; otherwise the natural equilibrium reigning on Earth will be even more disjointed.

Question : The daily press reported that embryos were going to be bred for genetic applications. Is this according to GOD'S WILL?

LUKAS : It would not be necessary to breed embryos, if one was in tune within oneself to such a degree that divine INSPIRATIONS could flow more easily. It wouldn't even get to that point. There are much more elegant ways, but they will only be communicated to those who are worthy of receiving this inspiration-, "worthy" in a broader sense.

(T. B: That's correct.)

Question : Do these artificially produced embryos have a soul?

(T. B: No, not.)

LUKAS : You know or you should know that the soul is in attendance to build its own DNA structure and to create its own body, from the very moment fertilization take place.

- But the soul enters the body at birth and nor before!

The same applies to grown-ups: Your physical body is also connected to your soul through an energetic CONNECTION CORD, even when you distance yourself from your body when you sleep. It is the same when it comes to building the little body in progress, the only difference being the fact that the CONNECTION CORD, the SILVER CORD, is only solidly connected with body and soul, once the birth has taken place.

- The extraordinary complex linkup of the ENERGY CORD with the nascent body takes place during the whole building process of around nine month. The rate of growth takes place simultaneously. Only the actual birth makes the final enmeshment possible. Like a painter executing the last brush stroke in order to complete a great work of art. Be it small or large. - Be it large or small.-

Question : Is genetically modified food a bane or a blessing? What can you tell us about this?

LUKAS : Well, only that you should leave well enough alone.

- The non-natural elements, respectively plants, can trigger allergic reactions by the immune system and also illnesses of an up-to-now, unknown nature.

You are left with the choice of eating it or not. We are not satisfied with the genetically modified plants already on the market and the results achieved by your researchers and therefore reject them.

Comment : Some corn and soybeans, originating from America, are genetically modified but are not identified as such.

(T. B: That's terrible.)

LUKAS : Yes, and a lot more is kept secret. One starts by feeding it to animals, which have always been utilised as acceptable, experimental souls. By doing so one wants to find out how appropriate it would be for human applications. Due to the mindfulness of certain people, the furtiveness applied at the beginning to clandestinely introduce these products didn't bear fruit.

Question : Are genetically manipulated vegetables basically damaging for our body?

LUKAS : Yes and no. There are different kinds of genetically modified vegetables. There are plants, which have been made resistant to certain things that have certain side effects for you and there are modified plants, which can be harvested a multiple times during one season in order to curb the hunger in certain countries and they have a lesser effect on you. There will always be two sides to the coin until man has learned his lesson and until he will develop new ideas only from within his spirit, things which are good for him and for his environment. But it takes a healthy, positive spirit to do so and you are not quite advanced enough.

Question : One wants to carry out genetic research in order to prevent famines on Earth. Is this a good enough reason to carry on in this direction?

LUKAS : It is the same in regards to human genetic research, because there is also two sides to this research: One can certainly modify plants to a degree where they bear fruit a number of times a year, respectively where they can be harvest a number of times. - But one can also make plants resistant against certain pesticides through genetic technology, which these companies manufacture themselves. This creates a condition where, generally speaking, the manufacturer is only interested in the financial side of the situation. To eat these plants is dangerous! But plants that can be harvested a number of times a year are less so.

Question : Wherein lay the reasons that so many people are afraid of the fallout from genetic research and reject it totally?

LUKAS : My dear friend, one only fears the unknown and this field of knowledge is completely unknown and for most people inscrutable, because they lack the necessary knowledge. But even those that have gained a certain amount of knowledge on the subject are not able to completely understand the world of the microcosm, the world of genes.

- People sense SIGNALS, warning SIGNALS from their GUARDIAN ANGELS, but these are not recognised for what they are and are interpreted as "funny feelings" or a foreboding that there lie dangers here.

It seems that you are obviously not spiritually dead enough and still allow your GUARDIAN ANGELS the opportunity to reach you. But this is unfortunately not always the case with the people in a position to publicise this and on whose voice and opinion your world places great importance to.

Question : What positive effects does genetic research have for mankind?

LUKAS : Well, illnesses one hardly gets the better of with today's medicines could be eradicated.

- Because it is your medication's harmful side effects that make you feel worse than you should be feeling.

These side effects can be significantly reduced with the help of gene technology. But to what degree the pharmaceutical industry will slow down this development can not be determined at this stage, because the presently available medicaments make them a lot of money. Like everything else, research into the field of genetics costs money, a lot of money and many despots shy away from investing, because - to the detriment of others - they can live very well with the available and cheaper agents.

- We are always dealing with egotistical points of view which dampen any positive development and the same applies to contemporary genetic research.

We will see how this develops and whether there are people who will keep an eye on proceedings and who are not afraid to bring this to the public's notice. This takes a lot of courage and TRUST in GOD, something not a lot of you possess these days.

Question : Can the manipulation of the genes of certain plants bring about mutations within the animal kingdom, something that will then be impossible to stop?

LUKAS : Changes within the genetic make-up are mutations. You, as human beings, have also developed through mutations. These mutations were of a divine nature and within GOD'S PLAN. Mutations are therefore nothing negative, but they can have extremely negative effects. - GOD'S antagonist sometimes also interferes with the gene's development and brings about certain changes. It happened in the past that a HIGHLY EVOLVED SOUL wanted to incarnate here on Earth. The antagonist interfered with the physical body during its developmental phase and manipulated the genes in such a way that this SOUL ended up receiving an instrument that made it impossible for it to carry out the intended ASSIGNMENT. Certain conditions were present that allowed the PROTECTION around the developing body to be breached, respectively allowed it to collapse. This allowed the anti-spirit direct access. Fortunately something like that doesn't happen all too often.

Question : Is there a danger that gene manipulations unwittingly interfere with karmic fate?

LUKAS : That would be excluded if the scientists would place their research activities in GOD'S hands. It's the same situation as with a good psychic healer, he or she would also be aware whether there is karma involved or not and whether he or she is allowed to help; this only applies if they have dedicated their work to the LORD.

Question : According to a German newspaper report, two German scientists had to be placed under police protection because they had received embryonic stem cells from Israel for research purposes. Stem cell research is not necessarily directly connected with genetic research, but how can this research genre ever be developed in a positive fashion if there is so much outside resistance?

LUKAS : We are aware of this. The general public is often up in arms when certain mass media, in their typical noisy style, embellish reports about this kind of research with half-truths. There will always be someone willing to act as a spokes person, on behalf of the mass media. But this is way of the mark.

- The idea of stem cell research is a valid one, because stem cells can also be harvested from one's own body. It is imperative to pursue this line of research.

Question : As far as you're concerned, stem cell research is therefore justified, because it could quite possibly conquer diseases or even save lives?

EUPHENIUS: We look upon stem cell research as something positive and approve of it. But this research should be carried out in a divine and positive way. It should serve the purpose of healing your physical maladies and to eliminate genetic-biological idiosyncrasies. There are more than enough illnesses on your planet that could be repaired and healed. Genetic research is also a part of this and it should be looked upon favourably. The highest gift a human being possesses is his health and this enables him to undertake his journey here on Earth.

Question : What is your standpoint in regards to so-called clones?

LUKAS : Well now, it represents an encroachment and a messing with the divine PLAN and it is therefore to be rejected and this without ifs or buts. But a lot of people unfortunately see this differently and to make things worse, these people occupy powerful positions.

Question : According to some press reports some members of an American sect try to clone people, even Hitler and Jesus are mentioned. This sect is supposed to have received enormous financial support from a millionaire. Their aim is to conquer death and to become immortal. What do you say to their intentions?

LUKAS : Well, these are the things that make man's ignorance oh so ridiculous, if the consequences weren't so terrible. They know nothing about the HELMSMAN in charge of the body and this is why their ideas perform such somersaults. There is nothing we can add to this, because you are able to recognise these people by the fruit of their erroneous assumptions.

EUPHENIUS: You will recognise that your innermost fears are marked by negativity, something you experience through your environment. A situation exists at the moment where a lot of attention is given to this field of research and where press releases reach you. Do have the reassurance that you, as living souls, are controlled by your soul and you will recognise that a lot of positive ENERGIES and developments emanate from this field of knowledge also.

- Genetic research is a building block and you need it in order to survive the next century. Without this control and the knowledge that you are in a position to initiate a process of renewal within your body through this new field of research, you would not be able to exist within the environment you have created for yourselves.

Question : Assuming that gene technology slides into negative areas and mankind does not pass this latest of tests. Would all of those who would have had the power to make their own decisions and who would have placed this research under GOD'S PROTECTION also be dragged into this whirlpool?

EUPHENIUS: We must explain to you here that these souls would also be dragged into this whirlpool. It is like in a war where also positive souls, those against the use of force and wars, still have to endure misery, sadness and destruction.

- If the majority of all the souls here on this planet decide to side with and support negative ENERGIES and if this brings with it the spread of the DARK SIDE on this planet, positive and enlightened human souls will also lose their earthly existence. But this doesn't mean that these souls will not occupy their rightful place within the spiritual realm!

I have tried to make it clear to you through earlier explanations that you are standing on a new threshold. Genetic research is an important element, because it gives you the ability to maintain your viability as human beings here on planet Earth. It represents another examination on behalf of the CREATOR, namely that you sense and anchor the DIVINE and the perception of your soul and your divine SPARK within in order not to travel the road into darkness, but into the LIGHT. All of this takes a long time to develop. You are a part of a UNIT wherein all the pieces are connected.

Question : Every now and then one reads about little, grey extraterrestrials, which apparently kidnap people and which behave in a completely unemotional manner. Did these entities - if they actually exist - change their emotional make-up through experiments in gene technology to such a degree that they now terrorise sections of the universe?

EUPHENIUS: The whole development of these creatures has completely changed. They are subject to IMPULSES from the dark SHADOW REGIONS and they developed through a false evolution. They are messengers from the dark REGIONS and they have the assignment to attract attention through their visible appearance here in order to trigger fear and destruction and to paralyse your consciousness. - We would like to prompt you to collect specific additional questions on some of the individual themes we've dealt with in order for us to answer these questions at a predetermined time one evening over the next weeks, an evening when we only communicate verbally, so that you can expand and complete your themes. I am sure that it will be a colourful, relaxed and decidedly successful evening.

Question : The importance of ethical, social and legal questions comes ever more to the fore. Do we have to pay as much or even more attention to these questions in the future than to questions in regards to genetic research?

EUPHENIUS: These are the prerequisites necessary to achieve a positive development within genetic research. The mentioned values, applied by you to your situation as human beings and the importance you give it can only come to fruition when mankind begins to deal with these values. This is presently only turned to account through the mass media's headlines. The true content of individual values is hardly recognisable. Who would actually deal with these standards and values? These values - when scrutinised more closely - comprise the divine LAWS, which the CREATOR would like to convey to you here on Earth. Once this has been recognised genetic research will automatically develop in a positive direction. The insight that genetic research will shed some light on a very important subject, one that will make it possible for mankind to intervene in the creation of the microcosm of your physical body in order to correct any malfunctions. This is the next "miracle" that the world should comprehend.

Question : The so-called pre-implant-diagnostic (PID) is presently one theme under discussion. Should it be allowed in future to analyse fertilised ova for genetic defects in a test tube, before they are implanted in the womb?

EUPHENIUS: This is once again a theme that brings with it encroachments within the divine and creative PLAN. Your scientific and your spiritual attitude is presently not at a stage where you will be allowed to undertake such a correction. You are at the start of an important road. But you only progress with little steps in order to find security and a foothold.

Question : When compared to abortion, what is worse in regards to pre-implant-diagnostic?

EUPHENIUS: In the case of abortion, it is the mother that makes the decision and the prerequisites under which the mother has dealt with this mentally and physically are of great importance.

- An abortion can be classified as something positive when substantial arguments in regards to the health of the mother endorse it.

The development of the embryo within a test tube and the implantation after doesn't always guarantee that a soul will always take control of the body. For a soul to take control depends on its willingness to accept the body. It is always difficult to find a willing soul in the spiritual realm, with this type of fertilization.

Question : Is there a danger that pre-implant-diagnostic opens the door to the ulterior selection of life? It might be on the cards that one might not just try to eliminate genetic disorders, but search for desired attributes.

EUPHENIUS: This specialised medical research gives the sciences and you the opportunity to influence certain attributes like looks and also character IMPULSES. This can result in the creation of a race of people with a very specific intelligence and outward appearance. But this is not within the realms of the creative PLAN!

Question : Would a completely new human race be conceivable?

EUPHENIUS: We don't quite go that far with our assumptions that you can "only" - and this with inverted commas please - develop further through your soul, your spirit and your consciousness.

- A new human form would indicate that the soul's core changes in this regards. But remember that the soul comes from the spiritual realm in order to enter the physical body and that the soul is therefore the pivot and swivel point in regards to all the things that make a human being.

Question : Are you saying that if a new human race were to develop the soul would have to change first, because the soul - as we were told - creates the human DNA for its own body within the nine month gestation period?

EUPHENIUS: That's the way it is. - A new human race is presently not on the cards. This is why we negate this question with three exclamation marks!!!

(T. B: We are present.)

Participant : The Evangelic-Lutheran Church advocates the opinion that any research and analysis which threaten the existence and dignity of the embryo is unacceptable. The Church's opinion also includes pre-implant-diagnostics. What has the spiritual realm to say about pre-implant-diagnostics?

EUPHENIUS: The spiritual realm looks upon this as an intervention that is not tolerated by the CREATOR in this form. Many important chances are annulled through these interventions, chances you dictate. The CREATOR also thought about why there are various nations, various looks and various languages. You are not yet able to recognise the horizon in that direction.

- The Church advocates a good and positive attitude in this regards, and they deal with the human dignity and one's own divine existence you mentioned before.

This is one area where the Churches on your planet Earth can once again gain power and strength. Many voices will be raised in protest against this line of research.

Objection : How can a soul work with such a defective tool, if one is not allowed to pre-select handicapped bodies in their embryonic state? The best of tradesman cannot work efficiently with damaged tools.

EUPHENIUS: This is an intervention in the soul's life plan, an intervention into a period of the soul's existence it has predetermined for its own self. It is a partial intervention in karmic spheres. Who is willing to bear the responsibility if a soul cannot fulfil its potential development? - You are presently not in a position to assess this and to guide it along positive tracks. Karmic dissolutions can only be replaced by other means.

Question : Has every embryo, whether damaged or not, the right to live?

EUPHENIUS: An embryo has then the right to live, when an attachment of a soul takes place. The soul will then decide whether it will choose redemption through an early death in order to receive a fresh chance of an incarnation or not.

- Interventions in the embryonic development cycle are only a god idea when the causes and the effects of divine REALITIES is completely recognised and internalised.

Question : Can one harmonise the image of what a human being represents with reality, if one can treat embryos as “consumer goods” and produce or discard them at will?

EUPHENIUS: Nobody has the right to scientifically breed embryos according to the concepts of embryonic manipulation. When it comes to furthering the development of human beings, the genes from both parents are important. It is not right that humanoid machines are created in a test tube. The CREATOR will not allow souls to participate in this scheme.

Comment : If this was the case, the sciences would receive additional, circumstantial evidence that the attachment of souls to physical bodies exists and that it is governed by a HIGHER AUTHORITY. Let's hope that genetic research will help to open the eyes of scientists.

EUPHENIUS: The core of the subject you mention here is exactly the mechanism that will hopefully open the eyes of your scientists and also the eyes of mankind, namely for the things that DIVINITY has in store for you. This is a further development, one that will help you recognise and accept that there are presently more things here on Earth than you are willing to accept. It provides proof of the soul's existence and proof that reincarnation exists in various forms. GOD'S existence is thereby underlined and the knowledge will take you to a situation where an eventual and different development, one in the spirit of peace and harmony and in the spirit of brotherly love, can begin. It represents the beginning of a new epoch, one connected to this age. It also represents a chance for further development in a spiritual sense, so that the augmentation of your third eye can be supported by the divine side.

Question : Could it lead to mankind's annihilation, if it pursues genetic research in a negative direction only?

(T. B: Yes)

LUKAS : This would be akin to an exclusively negative nuclear research. An apocalyptic situation would arise, something that can not be precluded in regards to technical, genetic research either. Well, times will tell. The powerful and the scientists inner attitude in this respect and the attitude of other people are important.

- If the majority of people contest this with appropriate positive thoughts, positive VIBRATIONS would dominate and they would negate any negative activity. You have the choice and we will do what we possibly can. All these VIBRATIONS will flow into Earth's morphogenetic field created in context with genetic research.

Question : What would the consequences be, especially in regards to nature and Earth's inhabitants, if negative research would dominate?

LUKAS : It will result in acute changes to the divine genetic information, so that it will be impossible for any soul to dock with such deformed bodies in order to live here. It could possibly be a case where such a body possesses some sort of existence, but it could only be a negative existence, with a kind of robotic behaviourism, without intelligence, dull and without any feelings for social behaviour.

Participant : These are terrible prospects!

LUKAS : Yes indeed. It is up to all of you to subjugate the Earth to your needs. But this "subjugation" - in inverted comas - actually means that you must take responsibility for all the creatures in your trust. Whether you're willing or not!

Question : What opportunities do Churches and other religious societies have in this respect, if they would like to positively influence the direction genetic research is taking?

(T. B: None at all.)

LUKAS : Virtually none, because most of your economic, state and scientific leaders impose atheistic behaviourism. This is why only the people, the masses, with their weapon of a positively attuned spirit can fight against this.

- The PRAYERS of LIGHT from the "SHIELD of LIGHT", you're entrusted with represent a keen sword. Other WEAPONS will be added later. All in good time and all in the required quantity.

The BATTLE of ARMAGEDDON will not only be fought here on Earth, but also in the spiritual realm. The physical arena is planet Earth and also other planets, planets you don't know and have no reason to know about in order to successfully pass the tests in front of you. Ask GOD, CHRIST or us and you cannot fail!

Participant : What prospects we are faced with...

(T. B: Good ones!)

LUKAS : These are similar prospects as at the time when the laws of nuclear power were inspirationally transmitted and you could begin to physically apply this inspiration. The possibility existed then - and still exists today to a lesser degree - that you would explode the whole planet with everybody on it. But that would never have been allowed to happen and this is why contact with the SANTINER was especially intensive during those perilous years in order to establish a positive potential amongst the people of this Earth. This has functioned very well up to now.

Question : You said that cloning was conterminous with an intervention in the divine PLAN and that this was not admissible. We are now told that one has already experimented with stem cells from a cloned embryo. It seems that one has already been assiduously busy to do exactly something that doesn't comply with the divine PLAN. How can one trigger changes here? Or is this research already going in a negative direction?

(T. B: This is your fate!)

LUKAS : Yes, this is correct. Research goes - as well as - in both directions. We said that one ought to take a closer look at fully grown people when it comes to harvesting stem cells for healing purposes.

- This type of cloning, that is to say, the duplication of identical cells for healing purposes, could quite conceivably be a positive application of cloning. But the cloning of people and animals on the other hand is to be regarded as something negative and should therefore be rejected.

Question : Let's assume that a pregnant woman smokes during her pregnancy or that she comes into contact with toxic or radioactive substances at work with the result that the physical body of the child suffers severe genetic mutilations. This gives the soul a physical body with restricted capabilities even though the soul might have been promised a healthy body. Is the LAW of unconditionally supplying every physical body with a soul a just one?

EUPHENIUS: The fact is that the soul, whilst still in the spiritual realm, has the last say about whether it assents to enter such a body here on Earth. That every life form receives a soul is a divine LAW and this in order to further its development in another way. It doesn't depend on the length of time a soul remains here on Earth.

- The soul, with the assistance of the KARMIC COUNCIL, has the authority to decide to either accept or to reject the body of this life form. It decides whether it will step back and wait for another body or whether it will use the opportunity to undertake further development here on Earth.

Not all development on Earth depends on a fully functional body to accomplish its fulfillment.

- Especially mentally handicapped people that have preserved their child-like nature have hardly a chance to stray into negativity! As mentally handicapped people, many non- intelligent life forms preserve their divinity, their goodness and their LOVE within.

Question : How can a soul know what happens to its physical body during pregnancy?

EUPHENIUS: During the whole development of the physical body, the soul of the child is with the soul of the mother, sometimes intermittently, sometimes for extended periods of time. This is the agreement between the soul of the mother and the soul of the child about to incarnate. It is a connection that is carried out via mental ELEMENTS of VIBRATION. The mother receives intensive information through the SIGNALS coming from the child. These feelings do not emanate from the embryo, but from the soul that is hanging about.

Objection : You told us that every physical body must receive a soul. We now hear from LUKAS that in regards to very deformed life forms, only a kind of “vegetative existence” predominates in such a body and this with a “robotic type of mannerism”. According to this, not every life form is therefore animated by a fully viable soul.

EUPHENIUS: These life forms are not even created by GOD, but are a product of your own scientific domain. These life forms were not created according to divine LAWS and according to the divine PLAN. They do represent human shapes on the outside, but lack the CORE and in particular that inner, divine SPARK, the soul, necessary for the divine ASSIGNMENT here on Earth. I mean the divine life form GOD endowed you with here on Earth, including everything that comprises the human form you represent, which exists here on this planet.

Question : Bio-science in particular astonishes us with the diversity within Mother Nature it can delve into. The question that becomes apparent here is: What will actually benefit man? Where do we find the answer? In nature? In all the technological possibilities?

EUPHENIUS: Only through yourself will you find the answers, through what you anchor as TRUTH within. Only through your free will is it possible to decide about the things that are important and beneficial for your planet and yourself, disengaged from matter and from the moral dogmatic the Churches and governments expect from you. This is an area that represents new ground for you. If you go quietly within and if you look to Mother Nature in order to observe the way she reacts to poisons and natural catastrophes with its life forms and adaptations, you can receive a lot of answers to your questions. Mother Nature is something wonderful and in spite of suffering all that destruction, always produces opportunities for new life. Your short sightedness is paired with nature’s farsightedness.

Question : The basic law states that man’s dignity is inviolable. Certain potentialities and endeavours of bio-technology and gene-technology seem to be in contradiction to this basic value concept of man’s existence. Do you concur with this view?

EUPHENIUS: You, as human beings, always leave a backdoor open when it comes to decide what is important and what is right. You have created these basic laws yourself, but who amongst you adheres to this plan, to these laws? - You are life forms that will continually try to step out of your self created arrangement in order to find new laws and new guidelines. You do not accept the simple and logical LAWS of NATURE or biological LAWS. You behave completely contrary to what your feelings and your mind tells you is right. How often do you act against your inner feelings and do the exact opposite? You do not possess an inner balance, but transgresses into areas you have not brought LIGHT to banish the darkness and you don't recognise the fact that this releases a lot of ENERGIES and VIBRATIONS that have the potential to harm you.

Question : A lot of people mistrust the protestations that everything runs along ethically guided principles. Whenever this uncomfortable moral question has come up for discussion, genetic researchers have only answered it half-heartedly up to now. Can you shed some light on the matter and indicate the correct path one should take in regards to this delicate balancing act?

EUPHENIUS: We will travel this path with you, but we will not determine it for you! It would constitute an encroachment into your legalities. We are not going to do this, but we will try to help you through inspired thoughts. Many people are on the right track, but many still travel in the wrong direction. It still takes a little more time and patience before all of you gain enough insight to arrive on the correct level. But it also still takes a lot of knowledge and that is something your researchers are still lacking.

Question : What would you do, if you were in the position of these genetic researchers?

EUPHENIUS: We would proceed according to divine LEGALITIES and we would only undertake experimental research that would improve the quality of life on this Earth. Only research into human stem cells can change and neutralise pathological illnesses. This is only possible with the correct inner attitude and with divine ALLIANCE. But this can only function when brotherly love ranks highest and with the knowledge that all of this is a GIFT from GOD in order to find the right direction. Faith and an insight into DNA'S double helix expose a further sphere of knowledge to you, namely that a soul does reside within your body!

Question : On a scale from 1 to 10, where does genetic research stand at this stage?

LUKAS : Well, you're at around one and you are contemplating on how to proceed from there. You haven't even recognised the ten, because in regards to this subject, you aimlessly prod around like children playing with matches.

Question : The press reported that Australian scientist acquired stem cells from brains. A step in the right direction or the wrong approach?

LUKAS : It would certainly be the right place to start, but not in such a way where embryos would have to be bred in order to cannibalise them. There are other opportunities, namely that stem cells are isolated and harvested from mature human beings.

Question : What are these opportunities?

LUKAS : One can isolate and segregate stem cells from the body mass of adults. But the direction your research takes is your affair and the more important objective has not yet been defined. There are other potentialities besides harvesting stem cells from the brain.

Question : What is the objective?

LUKAS : That my dear friend is your business. We will not define the objective for you, because gene technology represents a research assignment that doubles as a test for you; the way atomic research was and still is, a test you have miserably failed.

Question : It is the aim of many people to gain immortality here on Earth. Will genetic research ever fulfil their aspirations?

LUKAS : Genetic research will not bring you eternal life. How can genetic research give you something you already possess? Genes are a part of your physical world and they are transient. The thing that is not transient is the spirit and that's the point here:

- It is the soul that has programmed its own physical body with the help of genes, that is unless external influences had a negative impact on the proceedings. The spirit constructs its physical body and it is created meticulously according to stipulated criteria. This is the reason why the soul is near the mother from the beginning and this is why it is connected with the mother and the nascent body through an ENERGY BAND.

Genetic research will make it possible to repair defects caused by environmental influences or other causes, but it will not make eternal life in a physical world possible.

Question : Can genetic research arrest man's ageing process?

LUKAS : Delay, but not prevent. In its present constitution, your human body would be viable for a maximum of 120 years. But this very much depends on one's nutrition and above all on one's mental health.

Question : Is freezing human beings (cryogenics) in order to bring them back to life at a later date a lot of nonsense?

(T. B: A lot of nonsense!)

LUKAS : Well, what do you expect from people that know nothing about life after death? They try to salvage their physical shell across time and try to maintain their youth without ever wasting one thought about life beyond the grave.

- Question : Should one carry out the usual genetic tests on people or on animals?
- (T. B: Neither nor.)
- LUKAS : One should trial this technologically, respectively through technical means. Your technology certainly allows you to undertake preliminary analysis, without tormenting animals and without negatively affecting their existence.
- Question : Is it actually possible these days to pursue a positive goal in regards to genetic research, because there are still such a lot of negative VIBRATIONS present on this planet? Do these ENERGIES have an influence on this field of research?
- LUKAS : These VIBRATIONS naturally influence the researchers, but if these researchers possess a solid spiritual foundation, that is to say, have faith in GOD, believe in the survival of the spirit and in reincarnation, these VIBRATIONS cannot affect these researchers. What's more - this will open up a door that will allow us to support these people with the appropriate inspiration. This kind of co-operation would be - as described earlier - within the LORD'S PLAN, the LORD who offers this opportunity.
- Question : Is what you describe not more of an ideal situation than what actually takes place every day? Most researchers are too involved in themselves and in regards to spiritual things, have no idea of their actual relationship.
- LUKAS : There were by all means researchers that are famous and in spite of that possessed a profound faith in GOD, Max Planck for instance and many others. Researchers like that concern themselves with genetic research, but they are careful not to openly confess their faith. The human wolves would tear them to pieces. You will recognise them by the fruit of their labour - in spite of that, that is to say, by their ethical argumentations and the results of their work.
- Question : We can see a danger here, namely that one will breed human beings for instance with a heightened robustness, so that these new breeds can be deployed in war zones. Do you share these concerns?
- LUKAS : This has also been considered - and completely different things also! But as I have mentioned before, gene technology and the inspired splitting of the atom will put you to the test. We will see whether you have learned something in the between time. Earth represents a large playing field for learning and refinement and this is why one cannot expect only positive things here. But a time will come when, polished by many incarnations, you will recognise just what is good and what is inappropriate in regards to the WHOLE. Unpolished diamonds will have become processed jewels and they will light up this Earth.
- Question : The debate over gene technology has been running for just over a year. Enormous energies are apparently hidden within the argumentations and world views and they clash with one another. What should, respectively can gene technology give society from your point of view?

EUPHENIUS: To begin with we have to say that there are various areas where gene technology can be applied. There is for instance the area of interest that deals with famines on Earth, research elements and structural changes to plants will give them a different quality, one that is greater, more enduring and more stabile and this might solve your shortage of food here on Earth. On the other hand - as mentioned before - this technology can regulate and eliminate many defects within your physical body. In regards to defects in new born babies, you are then in a position to correct deformities and bring an end to mutilations of the physical body. This field of knowledge not only gives you the opportunity to heal you body, but also your soul, because when you body and you soul are in tune with each other, your QUALITY of VIBRATION is enhanced and you can concentrate on the things that are important for your level of consciousness. These harmonised VIBRATIONS give you the opportunity to concentrate on your ethereal qualities, necessary to guarantee your existence here on Earth.

Question : What has ethnic to do with genetics?

EUPHENIUS: Ethic comprises of what you understand under the premises of what we have handed down to you in divine LAWS. Many people connect ethics with moral fundamentals like love and the non-killing of dissimilarities and life forms. Ethics on Earth is the highest word in your vocabulary, a word that you apply to just about everything in regards to humaneness, brotherhood and togetherness.

Question : One loves people because they are compassionate, only then can LOVE flow naturally. This is verified by the fact that women do not want to have mongoloid children. They feel that they don't want them. But many naturally say that LOVE can flow in one's relationship with mongoloid children in spite of that. But does it really do so? Most women don't want to be burdened by this.

EUPHENIUS: Is this really a fact? We have had experiences here on Earth with souls who have come to you with this form of illness and we have found that these people, these souls, allow true LOVE to flow to the outside and that they also embody LOVE. These souls do not question evil or malevolence. We are dealing with soul-children who walk on Earth with an open heart and in spite of their affliction, give back a lot of LOVE, not just LOVE, but UNLIMITED LOVE. And that is the difference!

Objection : Most women do not want to put up with such a burden anyway.

EUPHENIUS: These are additional human attributes and they are related to your society's structure. These women are afraid of being ostracised from your society and your community. They are afraid of having to deal with this "calamity" - in inverted commas - here on Earth all alone. They are afraid of not having the strength to be here for such a child, not just when it's a baby and an infant, but also during its adult years! They are afraid of not being able to do justice to this task and are therefore afraid of accepting this fate.

Question : Who should also be able to have a say when it comes to an abortion, considered because of severe genetic defects: The state, the Church or only the mother in question? Or must the mother carry this baby full term?

EUPHENIUS: First and foremost, the mother should make the decision of whether this child should have the opportunity of a life here on Earth. That the mother is the one that has to come to terms with and deal with this ought to be the first principle. Her soul must be strong enough to do justice to these demands. In regards to a handicapped child on this Earth, nobody else but the mother takes on the responsibility. This is a decision that is made between the mother, the soul and also the KARMIC COUNCIL and this on a subconscious level. This is not within the conscious awareness of your terrestrial life form. These are thought processes that take a conjoint effort to work out before a decision is finally made. As always, there are always pros and cons to be considered. What is often the case in a situation like that is that not just the soul of the child, but also the soul of the mother has to work out karmic processes. The KARMIC COUNCIL and the soul about to incarnate will do everything they possible can to encourage the mother to bring this child into the world.

Question : An entitlement should eventuate from the logical wish of parents for a healthy child, an executable claim for a healthy child. And such a claim - so the saying goes - then imparts the authority to weed out genetically defect embryos or to abort them as foetuses. What has the spiritual realm to say to these intentions?

EUPHENIUS: These are peripheral requirements you have installed here on Earth. It clearly shows how you deal with one another and what you understand humanness to mean. You must remember that foetuses are not always endowed with a soul due to karmic circumstances, but that many foetuses suffer damage due to your environmental influences. It is your decision to react here, that is to say, to decide for yourself just which way you want to go. As you are aware, killing is never according to GOD'S WILL and it is governed by strict rules and valences and always depends on individual situations. Our side can therefore not give you generalities.

Question : Does unborn life already represent life?

EUPHENIUS: Unborn life without a soul is not part of the factors we take into consideration.

Question : Does the foetus represent a person?

EUPHENIUS: The foetus is not a person, because the soul enters the physical body only just before birth. The foetus changes its shape a number of times during its development. These are not forms that represent a human being; it is simply a development you here on Earth have to experience and it is verified by your doctrine of evolution.

Question : Human life must therefore only be protected absolutely from the moment of birth?

EUPHENIUS: That's the core of it!

- Once a human being is born here on Earth in its physical form and receives a soul, it is subject to the divine OVERALL PLANNING. We cannot regard a foetus inside the body of the mother as a human soul.

Question : But how are we to treat those unfortunate ones whose genes do not allow a meaningful existence?

EUPHENIUS: Such a life is not a life, because there is no guarantee that it will grow into a durable life form.

Question : How do you define the term "meaningful existence"? - When looking at a mongoloid child, one could argue whether it actually represents a meaningful life or not.

EUPHENIUS: It is a meaningful existence for such a soul. There is a difference when a child dies due to some handicaps after it is born, because is then an act of grace on behalf of GOD, designed to avoid exposing this child to these torments. The soul will then receive a different shell in order to begin a new life here on Earth. A mongoloid child on the other hand has a viable and certainly a warranted reality here on this planet. Because these souls are also in a position to lead a partially successful life within your society.

Participant: The Charité Berlin published a series of photos of foetuses that didn't have eyes or only one single monumental eye, others had head and rump connected without a neck. Others looked like old men. - Terrible!

EUPHENIUS: It is important to note here that the CREATOR does not endow these bodies and shells with a soul, but that these lifeless creatures were able to deny their shells a viable existence.

Question : Is a doctor allowed to carry out active euthanasia in such a case?

EUPHENIUS: Yes, because GOD cannot allow a soul to enter these shells, these physical bodies. Many foetuses - and that is quite natural - already exit during pregnancy. A soul will enter the body at birth here also, but in cases like these, the soul will not remain with the body for long. But it is certainly possible that a short term existence here on Earth suffices for a soul to be able to continue with its next steps within the spiritual realm.

Question : Physics revealed to man the stars, elementary particle and the spaces between, infinitely large and infinitely small. What has biotechnology in store for mankind?

EUPHENIUS: A flurry of information, not just in regards to this planet, but also in regards to the things outside of your cosmic farsightedness. These steps give you the opportunity to enhance your technology to a degree where you will be able to establish contacts out there in space.

Question : How do you mean this?

EUPHENIUS: We compliment this answer with an addendum, it is certainly on the cards that ENTITIES will announce their presence here, that they will make themselves visible here on Earth, making the exchange of bio-energetic elements possible in order to accomplish complete ethereality, thus encouraging your development in that direction. This is just a tentative prediction, without stipulating a time frame.

Question : Testing genes promises to fulfil one of mankind's dreams: It allows certain insights into people's future. But what happens when these tests discover that the genetic make-up indicate an incurable illness and a premature death?

EUPHENIUS: Your present day sciences are not advanced enough to realise such advancements in this area. It can only be accomplished step by step and only if your development in regards to mental and spiritual respects and technological respects keeps pace with one another. It may not take place that your inner attitude capsizes and you don't know how to deal with this highly important information. All of this must take place in unison. This is why it is so important to expand your level of awareness.

Question : It is the desire of many people to become as old as the hills and to remain fit at the same time. One or more genes in control of longevity are supposed to reside within the chromosomes of a certain genetic segment. They are supposed to increase the chances of living 20 years beyond the average and this in relatively good health. If this is correct, what does it depend upon whether one is endowed with these genes for one's earthly existence or not?

EUPHENIUS: Every one of you has these genes within you. But the way you treat your cells and live your life varies a lot. Your age limit certainly doesn't solely depend on your inner attitude, on what you imbibe and your conscious state. It also depends on the time table arranged in the spiritual realm beforehand. There are a lot of components intermingled in all of this.

- What is of importance is the realisation that cheerful people live a healthier and more intensive life, thereby prolonging their earthly existence.

Be aware of nutritional influences, which affect your cells and make them ill. It represents a link in a long chain and all of them are inter-connected. You are a micro-organism connected to a macro-organism, because you are linked to your nature and with every individual living thing that exists here in this world. You possess SENDERS and RECEIVERS within you and it is imperative that you live in harmony with one another.

Question : Can certain genes fortify one's resistance against ageing symptoms and illnesses?

EUPHENIUS: There are by all means ageing symptoms and illnesses for you on Earth that can be reduced or even completely eliminated. Old age diabetes and mental deportment for instance are areas where you can have an influence in regards to regenerating and upholding your healing process via your soul and your body. What is important is that you recognise the fact that everything is inter-connected.

Question : Can you explain to us how these genes accomplish their life-prolonging task?

EUPHENIUS: We are dealing with the release of certain substances and they activate and invigorate your brain and especially the functions of certain centres. You're aware that research into the brain's functions is not advanced enough for you to recognise in detail just how the brain regulates its various tasks. Many areas are still a mystery to you. You have only discovered the five senses up to now, the senses that are important for you here on Earth. There are still more areas that have not yet been activated because they are of an ethereal nature. Opening these areas can activate and stimulate the genes.

Question : Is there such a thing as a genetic predisposition for normal behaviour?

EUPHENIUS: A controversial subject, because everybody has a different concept of what is normal and what is not normal.

- A normal predisposition in a divine SENSE would be the display of divine elements to the outside, that is to say, to be compassionate, not just in regards to self, but in regards to everything that lives and blossoms.

This doesn't just include the "with each other" or "amongst each other", but extends to embrace nature and all the elements that are united here on Earth.

Question : If there is a genetic predisposition for normal behaviourism, there must also be a genetic predisposition for the extremely cold-blooded behaviour of individuals, which know no emotional reactions of their conscience?

EUPHENIUS: This is the duality you experience and are confronted with on a daily basis here on Earth. All of you here in this circle also carry these predispositions within you and they could also be activated and externalised.

Question : The number amongst biologists that believe in a GOD who listens to prayers is virtually nonexistent. In spite of this, are there things that these researchers should not attempt under the pretext of any actual or alleged advantages?

EUPHENIUS: The greatest dangers you presently expose yourself to are biological weapons, because research in this field is on the increase. This is not something positive, but is identified through its NEGATIVE VIBRATIONS, which are presently active here on Earth in large portions. Biological weapons are destructive elements that have arisen from nature. This is not according to the CREATORS WILL.

Objection : Why do you say that biological weapons have emerged from nature? Man has developed these weapons.

EUPHENIUS: The weapons were developed by mankind, but they find their reflection in nature.

Question : What use is genetic research of a quality GOD intended for it, if we kill one another anyway, something that is all too obvious all around us?

LUKAS : That is the question, even though one has presently nothing to do with the other. But to ask the question about any future advantages now is something that is actually very difficult to answer. It seems that the main emphasis is presently given to the act of killing, because enormous amounts of financial incentives and a lot of thought energy from various people are invested in this killing pastime. Genetic research, respectively biotechnology presently run on a parallel course and it proceeds unhindered, but the politics of the day has set a different emphasis and because on the ever changing goalposts, changes can be on the horizon. The rational question in regards to war, respectively in regards to killing and murdering isn't ask at this point in time, because war is senseless anyway and an ungodly act to boot.

- To send the LIGHT of GOD into the dark consciousness of the powerful is the great chance of the potential that is inherent in the masses. This potential, when fully activated, will sweep the Earth clean of any dark ENERGIES.

Question : Has the general attitude here on Earth changed since September 11 2001?

LUKAS : Oh, yes, negative, very negative, because thoughts of revenge pulsate around the planet here and there. Compared to the billions of people on this Earth, there are only a few who have recognised the signs of the times and hold sway with the help of LIGHT and positive thoughts, sometimes alone, sometimes partially organise, and supported by divine ENERGY want the positive to triumph absolutely. These are the LIGHTS that pave the way for planet Earth and all those who have not yet gained spiritual knowledge.

Question : Just recently human tragedies like sexual abuse, infanticide or abductions are increasing. Are these criminal acts connected to these heightened NEGATIVE VIBRATIONS?

(T. B: Darkness approaches.)

LUKAS : That is part of it, yes and again yes. It isn't just terrorism you read about in your papers. Oh, no! There are also other TERRORISTS who have received an impetus through these attacks and this from certain AREAS of the spiritual realm. They approach people with psychic abilities and try to instil thoughts and feelings in these people so that they think these are there own. But that is a mistake they will unfortunately become aware of too late. They awake as if from a nightmare and are unable to explain what has taken place. Parallel to all of this, there is a distinctive instability to be observed with most of the people who perpetrate these acts you talked about and you read about in the papers. People who run amok are also a part of this. But there are also people amongst them who prepare their atrocities with great care and with great cold-bloodedness. These people are active in a different sphere, but they are marionettes just the same, even if they do not demonstrate a heightened instability.

Question : You were talking about a “DOOR” that was opened that leads to the negative WORLD. What does that mean and how can this “DOOR” be closed again?

(T. B: No bright spot there.)

LUKAS : Yes, that’s the question. You pushed this DOOR open. You would say: “A DOOR between two dimensions” - even if this terminology only just touches the core of the matter from our point of view. This DOOR was opened through thought ENERGY and it can only be closed again through thought ENERGY, that is to say, with VIBRATIONS of a different polarity, one you must create yourself. Because this open DOOR only exists here on Earth and not the universe. The universe is divine and pure - predominantly so anyway.

We will give you corresponding suggestions within the framework of your questions; respectively we have given you some of them already. As EUPHENIUS already mentioned, you must read more between the lines of our messages, because there is certainly more behind it than just an interesting sentence. You must learn to recognise the deeper meaning and philosophy behind all of this and you will only achieve this when you do more with these protocols than merely file them.

Question : What type of ENERGIES will allow us to close the DOOR?

LUKAS : I already wrote that it takes thought energy. You have received sufficient tools to accomplish this, particularly the PRAYERS of LIGHT from the SHIELD of LIGHT.

Question : Our scientists here in Germany have complete freedom to conduct their research and this guaranteed by the constitution. Should one change this law?

EUPHENIUS: On the one hand, this law allows research and development in all sorts of areas according to one’s own impulses and inclinations. On the other hand it naturally brings with it the dangers that these things can develop in a negative direction and that one scientifically deals with things that do not necessarily help with the things mankind and the community at large actually needs. In order to recognise what is actually essential takes a direction that is somewhere down the middle. You will not be able to have an influence there. It once again depends on finances and these finances in turn are dependent on those who supply these finances. If there are forces in play that want to push certain research elements in a specific direction, they will find investors will to finance this, because they possess a different perception and do not see what is strictly speaking meaningful from a human point of view. It is always advisable to look for the motive in order to recognise whether this is positive or negative.

Question : In the USA one tried to heal people suffering from Parkinson Disease with gene therapy and in their over assessment of their own capabilities, they ended up making their patients condition even worse. Wouldn't it be better to just leave this alone?

EUPHENIUS: They were too eager to cure this infirmity in order to give these people the opportunity to live a meaningful existence in this society. It is always important to proceed step by step and not be swayed by self-aggrandisement just so one can say: "I was the one who found the cure". There are powerful corporate groups hidden in the background and all of this is linked to the production of pharmaceutical drugs and the production of medical instruments. Remember that the motives there are once again power, recognition and money. And this is the reason why the result of this research had such a negative effect.

Question : Over a year ago, 18 year old Jesse Gelsinger from the USA died from the consequences of gene therapy. The experiment was supposed to cure a liver complaint Gelsinger suffered from. But his immune system reacted so severely to the treatment that the young man died. A fact that has serious consequences for gene therapy worldwide. Are these also just initial problems, virtually sacrifices that have to be made?

EUPHENIUS: No. The way one presently deals with genetic research is wrong and not in a divine SENSE. You only possess little pieces of a giant puzzle and you try to fathom the depths of the overall structure with that. It is simply not in a divine SENSE when people are used to propel any kind of research methods. The craving for self-aggrandisement was predominant here also. You presently don't possess the necessary level of consciousness to undertake the next step. You are affected by so many VIBRATIONS that you fail to recognise the next step you should take, even though it is clearly visible and tangible. You don't have the necessary foresight at this point in time and fail to recognise the long-term benefits that can be gained from this field of knowledge. You entangle yourselves in your own human dilemma with your own human factors and you continue to trip over your own human weaknesses. Your all too human way of thinking is behind this and it is marked by power, greed and an obsession with affluence and also a desire to place yourself above your fellow man.

Question : The long-term objective of genetic research, amongst other things, is to find the causes for genetic disorders, thereby making a cure possible. Are these endeavours supported by the spiritual realm?

EUPHENIUS: The endeavours to interrupt such a flawed genetic chain are certainly fundamental factors why you should be given this instrument of genetic research. It ought to make it possible for you to prohibit genetic disorders of non-karmic origin, so that these illnesses no longer have an effect on Earth. It represents an chance to gain an insight into the biological cycle of your own existence, in order to recognise that you flow back - namely back to the ORIGINAL CELL which establishes your body in so many individual parts.

Question : According to that, gene therapy has definitely got a future?

EUPHENIUS: Genetic research is very stalwartly supported by us, because it unmasks this area, specifically the positive side of this area in a divine SENSE, so that you can identify the ORIGINAL CELL you spring from.

Question : The blue print necessary to construct a human being take up just around 2 centimetres of the 1.8 metre long DNA strand entangled within almost every cell of the body. How can so little information bring about the creation of those hundred of thousands of components necessary for man's existence?

EUPHENIUS: This is the wondrous thing about this and the reason why GOD created you, namely in order for you to recognise this uniqueness, this POWER and this opportunity you have within you. An individual cell can give you information to all the questions that concern you especially in this area, information about the meaning, the sense and the benefits of your existence.

Question : Can all this research bring with it a new PERCEPTION of GOD?

EUPHENIUS: This is the concomitant RAY of LIGHT connected to this. This is the reason why we make such an effort to support and encourage these scientific endeavours.

Question : French judges have decided that the foetus doesn't represent a human being. One could only talk about killing a human being in regards to an infant, if it "breathed and had a heartbeat at birth". This was verified by the highest court in the land. A human being can only be murdered after it has been born. According to your astonishing explanations at the last meeting you share this opinion, don't you? Or maybe not?

EUPHENIUS: The soul enters the body with the first breath and a part of GOD enters the created body. It would constitute murder if the soul had to return to the spiritual realm in order to strive for another reincarnation.

- The foetus represents a biologically constructed work of art, on its way of becoming a human being. But it is without a soul and therefore isn't subject to the divine LAW.

Participant : A six month old foetus was involuntarily aborted after a car accident in Germany. The drunken driver who rammed the car of the young couple was convicted for causing an accident involving injury. One now debates whether he should have been convicted of involuntary manslaughter of an unborn child also.

EUPHENIUS: This is subject to the administration of justice you, as human beings, live by and the regulations you are subjected to. It represents the destruction of a carnal shell, but not a living thing, because the term "living thing" assumes that a soul is present. And as the soul has not yet entered the body one cannot talk about murder in this case.

Question : Is it really true that embryos are not living things?

EUPHENIUS: Not divine creatures - that's how I would like to express it, because there is no divine soul residing in this creature.

Question : Two to three million people die every year from mosquitoes carrying pathogens like malaria, dengue fever and yellow fever. Introducing an artificially produced gene is supposed to stimulate the mosquitoes own defences to such a degree that the pathogens are already destroyed within the body of the mosquitoes. In a few years from now millions of genetically modified mosquitoes, - equipped with an overdose of antibodies and willing to breed with other mosquitoes could be released. Could these genetically modified mosquitoes mutate and spread a strain of malaria that could prove to be resistant to any antibodies?

EUPHENIUS: This is certainly possible, because one does not know how these mutations proceed. These are points of dangers that have to be taken into consideration and that ought to be strictly watched. What takes place is that toxins make the mosquitoes resistant to poisons and - in this particular case - one will not be able to kill them because they process and break down this poison completely differently. Experiments like that are always questionable, because they are closely related to experiments with biological weapons.

Question : Has the spiritual realm any objections to this type of experiments involving animals?

EUPHENIUS: One should obviously have the opportunity to defend oneself if one is attacked by a mosquito. But one ought to guard against killing these creatures with toxins and similar fatal substances, because one doesn't know how these substances progress through the food chain. It could happen that another animal consumes this poisoned mosquito and that a chain reaction takes place that is unpredictable.

Question : Could a person be infected by the sting of such a mosquito?

EUPHENIUS: That is also possible. For instance bees, which you spray with special compounds to protect them from diseases, they then carry substances that can cause certain pathological processes within your body.

Question : What has the spiritual realm got to say about the discussed production of embryos for research purposes?

EUPHENIUS: This is subject to a natural law that has to be taken into consideration from a different perspective. These embryos are biological forms without a soul and they will never be inhabited by a soul. They are there for research purposes, helping your sciences to advance individual research studies.

- But guard against undertaking experiments on fetuses inside the womb of the mother!

Question : Clonaid, the first company to endeavour cloning human beings was established by Raël, the founder of the Raël-Movement and a group of investors in February 1997. Clonaid advertises on the internet with the following commercial:

“Why fear cloning, if it means the end of all our fears? Which parent isn’t afraid that a child is born with deformities? Who isn’t touched by the tragedy of children who, in spite of a normal genetic code, suffer throughout their life from the results of a genetic accident that happened at birth, where the brain didn’t receive an adequate supply of oxygen? For these children and their parents, cloning represents a means to repair the damage suffered at birth. To be born in a healthy body is their greatest dream. Who dares to deny them this dream?”

As we heard from you, you categorically reject cloning. Don’t these expositions by Clonaid also contain positive aspects?

EUPHENIUS: These are not positive but selfish aspects. When a child is born with a handicap - we have answered this a number of times before - and goes through this experience here on Earth, this handicap might have meaning for the parents, the environment and also for the soul that utilises this handicapped body. It also represents a lesson learned here with you on Earth.

The cloning of any human being is akin to the production of any kind of machinery. To interfere with this divine PLAN just isn’t an option. All you can do is to draw attention to the facts that everything that takes place has meaning. Nothing is meaningless and nothing here on Earth is possible without the approval of the CREATOR.

Question : What is your opinion in regards to the next expositions found in the advertising brochure of this company:

“When looking at senile people, who amongst you isn’t filled with fear and asks the question of “will I end up like that one day?” or “will I end up in an old people’s home?” Who isn’t afraid that one’s mental capacities will disappear to such a degree that one’s life will simply turn into a fight for survival? Cloning represents the beginning of a new youth, until we’re in a position to transfer our memory into a new body, one that vibrant and ours to keep. This will take place if we allow our scientist to concentrate on “life” instead of luring them with millions of Dollars to undertake all that unhealthily research for military purposes and for destruction. Why should we fear something that will take away our fear from dying? - Death will then be nothing more than going to before our reincarnation in a new body.”

EUPHENIUS: Reincarnation can only take place via the spiritual realm, the KARMIC COUNCIL and via ENTITIES that accompany a soul. It will not do that you, the people on Earth, are the ones that decide when a soul can or may occupy a new body. What would happen once again would be that only the few with enough money would be able to realise this for themselves. This would create a totally elitist faction and that would certainly not be in your best interest.

- Only the CREATOR has the opportunity to send souls back to Earth so that they can affect their further development.

The people behind all of this have not yet realised that they interfere in GOD'S WORK. They try to emulate the CREATOR but that is impossible. They try to do business by preying on the people's fears, fears of dying, old age and passing away. It is always a cycle: Coming here, then dying, returning here, then dying... And this is something they have not yet recognised. They think it's the same and they try to justify this by saying that all that money wasted on weapons technology would be better invested in their research. They simply do not recognise the fact that they do exactly the same as all that armament research, namely further the destruction of man.

Question : Raël, the founder of Clonaid and leader of the religious organisation Raël-Movement advocates the opinion that life on Earth was scientifically created in the laboratories of extra-terrestrials, whose name "Elohim" is actually to be found in the Hebrew Bible and falsely translated as the word meaning "God". The movement also advocates the opinion that thanks to cloning, Jesus could resurrect with the help of the Elohim. Is there any truth in this?

EUPHENIUS: They distort the picture. You did not emerge from test tubes, but progressed through evolution. You were sent down to this Earth endowed with souls and you were accompanied by the SANTINER, they were with you on this level of existence and stood by you through the whole developmental period.

- This company utilises this knowledge for their own advantage. It veils the TRUTH!

GOD is in everything and in everybody and CHRIST is also a part of GOD. CHRIST also donned the human form here on Earth to then return to the spiritual realm. This is a cycle everybody will and must pass through and it will only be interrupted when you are ready to ascent to the higher spheres.

Question : According to their own statements, Clonaid will soon be in a position to begin with cloning animals, because unlike the legal implications in regards to cloning human beings, there are no legal restrictions when it comes to cloning animals. This company will soon offer a new service: Cloning pets for rich people, those who desire to bring back to life their lost pets. This service will also be offered to the owners of race horses, a very lucrative market due to the high prices paid to the winning horses. What is your opinion on this one?

EUPHENIUS: We would not like to answer this question anymore.

Question : We could read in the papers that an Italian doctor relocates to England because the opportunity to clone human beings exists there. There is a legal loophole in England that we don't have here in this country. What is your opinion in regards to prohibitions put in place by legislators that make something like that possible?

LUKAS : We are aware of this and also of the ambitions of many scientists to be the first to receive the fame and recognition. This is a character trait that occurs very often here on your Earth. The legal situation in a number of countries still allows these endeavours by certain record seeking souls. A situation can then arise where these souls carry out their work and apply their knowledge according to the principle of “after me the deluge”. Whether present day politics is in a position to stop these people is a question of inner attitude and forte. Time will tell which direction the dangerous opportunity of cloning will take.

(T. B: It remains open.)

We are only observers of this scenario and are not allowed to interfere with your freedom of choice. What we are allowed to do is to work in an educational capacity on this planet. But we will not tell you what you have to do and what you have to leave alone!

Question : Why are scientists so mesmerised by cloning?

LUKAS : Genetic research is a discipline they are familiar with and whereby they can reap fame and fortune and immortalise their name within the history of chemistry and biology. They believe to obtain immortality through this, but have no idea about the horrors they unleash upon themselves. It is a combination of their ignorance and their fixation with breaking records, something one can observe in many areas you deal with.

Question : Illnesses often have mental origins. Does the manipulation of genes also have an effect on the soul?

LUKAS : Often. The soul becomes ill, because it possesses a completely different VIBRATION. The soul no longer receives the NOURISHMENT it needs and ails and this will affect the physical body sooner or later. The cloning of a body doesn't include the cloning of the soul. That is impossible! But every viable body born naturally on Earth must receive a soul. The unnatural nature of cloning will also attract unnatural spiritual components. This is one LAW.

Question : What effects would cloning have on animals?

LUKAS : In regards to animals, there is another point to consider, because animals do not have the same type of soul as human beings. What can take place is that such a body might function halfway correctly, but that it exhibits certain imperfections that make a prolong existence of such a creature an improbability. It is more of a vegetative life, comparable to a running motor without an intelligent operator.

Question : What will happen with the cloning of a human being carried out in a secret laboratory? There are often power authorities involved, because they are the one's who supply the financial backing for this type of research.

LUKAS : What exactly will happen is in the hands of the CREATOR, because it is the prerogative of this GREAT SPIRIT to create souls and to decide which body will receive a particular soul. We will see what will eventuate; we don't want to frighten you unnecessarily.

Question : One can read in the bible that JESUS healed the blind and the lame. Can we regard this as a kind of prophecy in regards to present day genetic research?

LUKAS : No, absolutely not. The actions of JESUS have absolutely nothing to do with your amateurish experiments with man's genetic make-up.

Question : The right of protection of any early life, one not yet endowed with a soul, is the absolute highest tenet in the eyes of the Church. Wouldn't the Church be better advised to take the urgent requests of patients into consideration by judging them according to professional criteria?

EUPHENIUS: The Church was a little more open minded years ago when it formed consulting services for young women and mothers about to decide on an abortion and thereby also deciding the fate of a foetus. This gave these women the opportunity to receive the support of the Church. These consulting services were unfortunately discontinued by the Church. Women with a very strong anchorage in religious beliefs find it very difficult to prevail against the Church when it comes to morals and ethics. The Church once again tries to win back power here on Earth with their dogmatic laws. It reverts back to the way things were in the Middle Ages, when it manipulated and confused people with the help of fears.

- It would be desirable if the Church would recognise that they do not make the laws here on earth, but that they are supposed to proclaim GOD'S MESSAGES.

The Church continues to try to set their own standards and in doing so forgets the inner values GOD would like to see put into practice, values the Church are a part of. But these days is unfortunately unable to differentiate between what is right and what is wrong. This is the reason why many souls leave Church communities to undertake their own pilgrimage in search of the TRUTH. The Church ought to ask itself the question of why this is happening and what their contribution is in this game.

Participant : The press released the commentary of a priest who was of the opinion that the Church had little to offer to people and that this was the reason why Church pews remained largely unoccupied. This in contrast to esoteric beliefs in which direction a large majority of the decamped are heading.

EUPHENIUS: This once again underlines what has been said all along, namely that many souls do not agree with what is preached from the pulpits these days. People ask more questions and recognise that a lot of things are not what the Church demonstrates them to be. The expansion of people's consciousness and the enlightenment of people's soul have begun. They are no longer willing to accept everything without question, but try to find INNER VALUES through their own aspirations. People investigate their own suffering. This is often in connection with calamities experienced in the past and due to the fact that they didn't received the hoped for solace from the Church. All those empty words uttered in most Churches no longer reach the hearts of people. They move in a different direction and the try to find their own CHURCH within themselves.

Participant : If man was created in the image of GOD, it would never do that he turns himself into a god or in any way destroys GOD'S WORK with the help of gene technology. There is no way it is going to work out alright!

EUPHENIUS: The fact is that all of you have GOD within you. You have a physical body at your disposal that is transient. You are here on Earth for a limited period of time only and you will then return home to completely different SPHERES. To recognise and to accept this fact is the highest necessary for you to bring this within your consciousness here on Earth.

- Gene technology and genetic research offer opportunities to continue the completion of your level of consciousness. They are a part of your DEVELOPMENTAL PLAN! A new level of development awaits you and genetic research is part of it, providing that your DNA can also change and mature to completion. It represents one opportunity for you to sharpen the perception of your senses and to effect changes to your genetic make-up.

Question : Many people are simply afraid of gene technology. What can one say to pacify their fears?

EUPHENIUS: Your fear is warranted, because negativity is also present here on Earth. Don't forget that not only luminous souls exist here, but that there are also shady sides to this. Man's fears are original fears, namely that these negative VIBRATIONS could change the positive GOD gives you into something negative. And as this fear is certainly justified, it should be looked upon as something real and not be ridiculed. We are dealing with sensitive souls here and they perceive these VIBRATIONS; they are afraid that genetic research here on Earth will not be utilised for positive things, but for things that are negative. These fears are justified because this can certainly come to pass.

All we can say to these souls in this respect is that everything that takes place here on Earth is a part of you, a part of your TRUST in GOD and a part of what you have to offer to GOD. Every one of you is a part of the WHOLE and your thoughts and actions will be an indicator of where this game will take you. You are the instigators and in charge here on Earth - every one of you! To consciously become aware of this ability and of the POWER that is within you is the most important thing.

Approach every situation in your life with LIGHT and with good thoughts and you will recognise that you don't just change yourself, but that your environment also treats you completely differently and your relationship with your environment also changes. You are a mirror image of all the souls around you. Every one of you here on Earth is a mirror image of their own self. This insight can have the effect that all of you together can totally change the world - and this for the good.

Question : You told us that one can recognise positively engaged scientists on the work they do and on what they say. What is your opinion in regards to the following statement by a leading genetic researcher from the Max-Planck-Institute in Leipzig:

“The distinct genetic conformities between man and other living creatures must first and foremost be a “source of humbleness and reverence for nature.”

EUPHENIUS: Your biological, genetic connection, your substance, is always a mirror image of nature and all natural laws. It represents a cycle and more or less a web. You can learn a lot from nature, it will help you to recognise how far your own development and your own evolution have advanced. This insight gained by this researcher shows you that these people are also concerned about divine LAWS and PRINCIPLES, which are the most important and the most logical here on Earth.

Question : A sign of hope?

EUPHENIUS: We can affirm this and this with five exclamation marks.

Question : To the question of a newspaper journalist, “Is the genetic alphabet just a series of biochemical molecules or a kind of code from GOD?” the boss of the International Gene Projects said:

“To have this text in front of you and to see how elegant the system of recording information is build up is very inspirational. To decipher this script wasn’t just a scientific, but also a spiritual experience. But even if we end up understanding the sequence, many aspect of what it means to be a human being will remain incomprehensible. We are not just mechanical beings: And this is why we shouldn’t utilise this discovery to end up looking at ourselves as mechanical objects.”

This man seems to have comprehended more than many of his colleagues. What is your opinion on this?

EUPHENIUS: I find it difficult to add anything to these words, because it is the meaning of these words that are important when it comes to helping you comprehend your own life form.

- It is imperative that one understands that there is not just a physical side to one’s existence, but that there is also a mental-spiritual SIDE. Only with this in mind will you find the answers to all of your questions.

Question : Upon reflection, do you think that one will be able to virtually heal all types of cancers one day, because one has learned to understand the genetic basis of the disease?

EUPHENIUS: A great many cancers will be healed through this and what is the most important thing here is that they are identifiable in their early stages. Biological processes can be inhibited and cells can be restored, the cell's contents can be stored anew and programmed with new information. This represents a chance to heal your body from the outside also. But this is only possible, if you have brought your soul into a state of equilibrium and harmony.

- The cognisance that body and soul form one unit is the most important basic element when it comes to reprogramming cells with new information.

It is an amalgamation of various components, the level of consciousness of the first stage, namely:

- The cognisance that a lot and everything is subject to divine LAWS and thereby to natural laws also.
- The cognisance of the function between the soul, the body and the spirit.
- The cognisance that everything is connected and everything is in contact with one another, inside as well as outside, the SPHERES of spiritual entities and the CONNECTION to the spiritual realm.

It is an amalgamation of all the knowledge you gain here step by step. The most important thing thou is the realisation that everything belongs together and that it shouldn't be looked upon individually.

Question : Are we already able to detect cancer in its early stages through specialised blood tests?

EUPHENIUS: You are able these days to detect cancer in its early stages with your technology through specialised blood tests. You are able to diagnose and to recognise where and if cellular changes take place.

- This insight is important, because it is possible to gain information about any malfunctions within the body through blood cells.

School-science is unfortunately not always able to advertise this intelligence, because a lot of these scientists cannot accept certain areas of this intelligence.

Question : Information represents a kind of energy that makes its presence felt through psychosomatics. Meaning that if someone receives negative information he can become ill, but if he receives positive information his immune system will be fortified. All this information about the TRUTH you teach us here would therefore have to contain a very high CHARGE indeed and it would also have a psychosomatic effect. Can you confirm this?

EUPHENIUS: We can confirm this, because this knowledge enables you to put your own healing process into operation. You are able to put healing energies and energetic PROCESSES into operation within your own body, so that illnesses dissolve and disappear. But this can only be accomplished with a very high degree of TRUST in GOD and with the knowledge that other ENTITIES exist.

- This will only then be possible if people are able to surrender in divine HUMILITY.

It is unfortunately often the case that people ambivalently stand between the physical and the spiritual WORLD. Their opinion fluctuates, unsure which direction to turn. They do not completely trust the divine POWERS. Their intellect gets in the way.

Question : If an unprepared person receives a lot of such information about the TRUTH, his consciousness would have to be elevated to a higher evolutionary level accordingly. Can the beginning of this process be accompanied by a spontaneous and very active division of cells within the physical body through psychosomatic influences, so that cancer could develop?

EUPHENIUS: When you tell uninformed people about the TRUTH within the framework of what you know, it often happens that you encounter rejection and that your words are not taken serious. With the acceptance of this divine TRUTH a spiritual maturing process is set in motion, namely that the soul receives its long-awaited spiritual NOURISHMENT necessary for its developmental process and that inner, divine LIGHT will begin to rise. The soul starts to expand and to emit ENERGETIC PROCESSES and VIBRATIONS.

- Happy people emanate a different aura than grouchy people. Their behaviourism and emanations make them seem to be a lot younger. They don't age as fast. Their knowledge brings their body, soul and spirit into accord.

Critical situations, mental anguish and external coercions endanger these people also, that is to say, their soul, because ENERGETIC changes will then take place within.

- Illnesses represent externalised INFORMATION put out by the soul, indicating that something is not in order in their behaviour and mind.

Their thoughts are not pure! They supplant and suppress these thoughts and they don't try to organise them and cleanse them. We are dealing with people here who - due to the environment - have a mantle of stunted growth imposed on them. These are often soul who have allowed a part of their own ego to atrophy.

Question : Can pure information be lethal for human beings? If that is right, it would constitute an explanation why people dealing with esoteric and ufology die from cancers just the same!

EUPHENIUS: The TRUTH doesn't necessarily mean that you receive a divine SHIELD around you that will keep you free from illnesses. Just like every other individual, you are also subjected to the various GRADES of spiritual VIBRATIONS. The possession of the TRUTH doesn't free you from illnesses, because illnesses can by all means constitute an examination and an imposed karmic evaluation, serving the purpose of promoting the spiritual journey of your soul. Without their knowledge of the TRUTH, these people would surely go to rack and ruin and succumb to misery even more. They would not learn their lessons from their illness, but the illness would destroy them and that is not the idea at all. The TRUTH represents the knowledge about what happens after death. People in the know approach their infirmities, their environment and their own experiences with a completely different attitude. They possess an inner strength other people can even gain some energy from! You will become aware of the fact that these souls, basking in the LIGHT of GOD'S TRUTH, never moan and never destroy their environment through dark thoughts, but that they begin their journey into the spiritual realm with their head held high, like JESUS CHRIST.

Question : Is it true that a human being can only absorb as much of the TRUTH as his filtering mind, in control of his comprehension, allows?

EUPHENIUS: This is only partially correct.

- Your soul absorbs all information, even if your mind is not able to apply it in your everyday life. The soul is a LIGHT POLE representing all the positive information within your thought processes here on Earth. What the soul and the mind externalise is not always something that can be regarded as a unit.

Question : When one follows reports in regards to genetic research in the mass media one has to ask the question whether market pressures and the associated ambitions of the researchers can still be arrested. Do you also see a danger that these researchers might miss the mark?

EUPHENIUS: This danger is certainly there, but Columbus would not have discovered America without ambition and drive.

Question : According to statements made by experts, it will be possible one day to breed chimpanzees that possess the intelligence of a ten year old child and have human characteristics. These creatures would be ready to serve, they would be strong and certainly in a position to do a lot of the work presently carried out by human beings. Does this eventuality really exist and how does the spiritual realm rate such an endeavour?

EUPHENIUS: This eventuality is not accepted by the spiritual world and it is not encouraged. The life of animals on Earth has a totally different function and should not serve the purpose of serving you as tools, subjects or slaves. Their assignment is an entirely different one.

- Every animal must maintain nature's equilibrium otherwise one or more chains within this system will disappear. And you are the last chain in that system! Meaning that somewhere along the line you would also cease to exist.

Question :Let's assume that this would eventuate anyway, how would one treat such artificially bred creatures, because one couldn't rate them on a par with human beings?

EUPHENIUS: The way coloured slaves in America were looked upon; they were also not considered to be independent personalities or people with souls, but as objects that could be kicked about, killed and destroyed. This is not according to GOD'S WILL and it will not be condoned in regards to the soul of animals.

Question :This is also about gaining organs suitable for transplantation. Is it permissible from your point of view that a human heart is bred in the chest cavity of a pig so that the life of a human being can be prolonged?

EUPHENIUS: You are probably aware of the results, these experiments are actually carried out, but the chance of a prolonged existence didn't eventuate.

- The reasons why these organs do not meet the criteria for transplantation into human beings are based on the facts that their ethereal MANTLE and ELEMENTS of VIBRATION do not correspond at all. It is not within CREATION'S parameters to undertake these experimental analyses.

Question :Gene technology allows human beings to take evolution into their own hands. Does this mean that we are actually meddling with ourselves?

EUPHENIUS: It will still take some time before you will be given this device, because your level of consciousness is not advanced enough to deal with this insight. You have only travelled a short distance of a very long journey. The completion of this intervention into your own history of evolution will open a door to a completely different dimension for you.

Question :We continue to gain more knowledge about the biological processes within our physical systems. Just how will our DNA react if we continue to advance with our genetic research?

LUKAS :Well, the DNA will restructure, that is to say, the souls that are going to incarnate here on Earth will adapt to any future physical bodies on hand of a new BLUEPRINT. Whilst still in the spiritual realm, the souls will receive the MATRIX that will enable them to develop their own physical body for their next incarnation. The result of this is going to be a more ethereal physical body. But this only applies to divinely-ordained, positive developments within the field of bio-sciences, the way we explained it during earlier meetings.

Question :Does this mean that if we advance our level of consciousness we will be more successful in the field of genetic research?

LUKAS :Successful yes, but the results can also be negative. Only when your consciousness, respectively your inner attitude is positive will the divinely-ordained progress into a very RADIANT future eventuate. It can come to a point where the soul will be able to decide when it would like to separate from its physical body in order to continue its evolution in the spiritual realm. But if your consciousness is negative, you will record successes, but they will lead you into perdition.

Question : If we heed your warnings and proceed with genetic research in a divinely-ordained direction, we will be able to eradicate many illnesses, hereditary diseases amongst them. But all of this only takes place on a physical level. But what does it mean in regards to our mental and spiritual development?

LUKAS : Well, this is always conditional to something my dear. All the points you made were positive and this positive evolution presupposes a positive consciousness, a divinely-ordained alignment of the mind, otherwise these positive results would be an impossibility.

Question : Are the reasons why we become more ethereal based on the fact that we will then fulfil a development that is a part of GOD'S LEVEL-BY-LEVEL PLAN?

LUKAS : Ethereality proceeds with a positive consciousness, that is to say, with a consciousness focussed on GOD. Your planet is also positively influenced by your thoughts and receives further IMPULSES of VIBRATIONS, which will also make it more ethereal. This can reach a point where you will no longer be visible to a physically less ethereal visitor.

The soul, being a part of GOD, is influenced by this, because it is already ethereal and this in a way that is far superior to anything physical. The further the distance between the soul and the body becomes, conditional to one's thoughts, the more delicate the body becomes in regards to illnesses. You are aware of this. The redemption of your mind finally allows the soul to receive the nourishment the confused mind withheld from it up to now.

Question : One could presently gain the impression that our development is not moving forward, but rather in the opposite direction. If one looks more closely at the reasons why certain people support genetic research, namely to gain immortality, something must have gone astray somewhere. Aren't you of the same opinion?

LUKAS : Well, one may fall flat on one's face on one's journey towards the LIGHT. But he who remains on the ground and doesn't get up to continue this journey, will eventually wander aimlessly about and possibly brings misfortune to other people and the divine SIDE finds it difficult to help them. Researchers dealing with gene technology will probably fall flat on their faces a number of times in the future, but nobody can predict just how they will react. It is a dangerous game, but appropriate in order to advance all of you together.

Question : What information do those so-called stem cells contain that are presently undergoing such intense scrutiny?

- LUKAS :The ORIGINAL INFORMATION is contained within stem cells. One could also say that the MATRIX from the spiritual realm for the construction of the physical body is contained within it in its purest form. These cells emanate a very intensive, pure and spiritual LIGHT, that is to say, they are full of divine VITAL ENERGY ready to begin their assignment on Earth. If you were successful in getting rid of defects with the help of these stem cells, it would be as if you would receive an INJECTION of LIGHT full of VITAL ENERGY. But this is just a comparison.
- Question :There is no doubt that one is going to clone stem cells. Is this a step in the right direction or does this lead into negativity?
- LUKAS :Well, this is also possible. To clone stem cells is not something abhorrent, because one needs stem cells for the aforementioned technology. Stem cells do not possess a soul and you are therefore free to utilise them. Where do you see a problem here?
- Participant :I see a problem in as much as I'm not too sure whether we are advanced enough on Earth to deal with this technology in a sensible manner. Especially theses day, with such a lot of negative things are happening on Earth; the DARK forces have lots of energy and opportunities to divert these explorations in the wrong direction.
- LUKAS :The way one deals with this is a completely different kettle of fish. We cannot predict the outcome. It is up to your freedom of choice and we are not allowed to interfere. We have discussed this quite often. You too should concentrate a little more on the positive side of this research and outwardly reflect it and not focus on a possible negative outcome, this only encourages the negative.
- Everything is possible! What eventually does happen in this world is in the hands of all of you. The deciding factor here is the way humanity as a whole thinks about this and whether it mentally supports the positive aspects of this technology. There are two sides to everything! You have to decide which side you want to give your THOUGHT ENERGIES to.
- Question :If the potential inherent in genetic research is inspired by the spiritual realm, then man may apparently control his own evolution and must not subject himself to the control of nature?
- EUPHENIUS: It represents co-operation. Nature also goes through cycles of evolution the way you do as human beings. Nature is also subject to elements of evolution, the way you are also subject to elements of evolution as human beings. All this information is stored by the spiritual realm and it flows via ENTITIES who have taken on this assignment. Both sides can be seen. It represents an interrelationship. If one side stands still the other side will also stand still and therefore cannot catch up. We are dealing with ELEMENTS of VIBRATION who are in accord with this and who activate and move one another. The control of this information and FREQUENCIES is guided and escorted by us and this from the spiritual realm.

Question : The human genome, the simple set of chromosomes of a cell that represents the genetic pool is supposed to consist of billions of letters. Is physical life a kind of universal library of a legible evolutionary text?

EUPHENIUS: A plurality of information is stored within these elements. It represents an applied multiple index that has been assembled over all the years of your evolution. We are dealing with recording organs of all your various lives and your own development. These are areas that deal with the spiritual development you have experienced in the spiritual realm. These are multi-layered pieces of information, assembled from different levels. It is also an evolutionary text that mirrors the time span whilst you transform here on Earth.

Question : If this is a text, why are we allowed to rewrite this text in regards to organs, genes and molecules?

EUPHENIUS: You have approached a level of development that encourages you to internalise this. You should utilise your free will in order to take your own fate into your own hands. This evolutionary level makes it imperative to know more about this theme. It ought no longer be a theme that's taboo.

Question : Does gene technology offer an opportunity to escape from the constraints of time and space and with it an escape from the constraints of Darwin's theory of evolution?

EUPHENIUS: It is an expansion and a new beginning. What will take place is that you will get to know new areas, areas presently still hidden from your field of perception. You will recognise your senses and your ethereality and you will apply them wherever necessary during the new decades.

Comment : Assuming that it actually heads in the right direction.

EUPHENIUS: That is subject to your characteristics here on Earth and always includes the prerequisite that you turn in a positive direction. Every individual is the architect of his own fate and only in unison can you recognise this and promote this LIGHT so that many will be able to integrate in order to create a powerful beam of LIGHT.

Participant : Your answers sometime give the impression that you don't even take a negative direction into consideration.

EUPHENIUS: We only see the positive and divine in every individual person! Every one of you possesses elements that are turned towards the LIGHT and the SUN, namely towards GOD. You are subjected to duality here. We are certainly aware of that. You are prisoner of your own self and you are vulnerable to negative ENERGY. It is very important to us to continuously show you and make the positive side discernable to you. Only the positive side is presently important to us, because we couldn't work with you otherwise. Even you here in this circle have a shadowy side to you character, but we fade them out this evening in order to be able to work with you.

Question : Assuming that all individuals possessed the same genetic code, one of the basic elements of human beings personality would also disappear. Is this genetic individuality we are so proud of, the source of almost all our suffering?

EUPHENIUS: This uniqueness, the phenomenon that every human being feels differently and ought to be evaluated individually shows how multifarious life can be. The fact is that there is scope and space available to develop in billions of different directions; it is a mirror image of your own souls.

Question : How come that identical twins, in spite of their down to the last detail identical genetic make-up, develop a completely independent personality through their individual lifestyle, even though they remain enigmatically linked to one another?

EUPHENIUS: This is identified by the fact that everyone possesses a divine SPARK within that reacts individually and differently. Every human being is a personality that cannot be compared to anyone else. This opportunity for an individual development promotes individual thought and also promotes the questioning of one's own self, otherwise a possible suspicion that one hides behind others arises and one might say: "Others do exactly the same". - All of you are unique and responsible for your deeds and actions. Identical twins also have to live an independent existence and cannot make others accountable for what they do. There is an individual soul, an individual level of development and an individual structure to the assignment of everyone of these identical twins and they are to be mastered differently.

Question : Doesn't this conversion take place within the spirit and not in the genes?

EUPHENIUS: It represents a connection.

- If the spirit undergoes changes the genes will also change, because spirit is superior to matter!

The spirit embodies the first level of connection in regards to changes to genes. Only once the spirit is redeemed, pure and flooded by LIGHT will you gain the knowledge that will enable to control your own reflectors and to realign them.<sup>2</sup>

Question : What side-effects does the manipulation of genes have on the whole organism? For instance, is the disposition for an athletic body bought on the back of a heightened risk in regards to cancer?

EUPHENIUS: This will only bear fruit and come to pass if it isn't carried out on a positive, spiritual level. Those who undergo these kinds of machinations, the way many athletes do these days through medicinal treatments, endangers their own health.

- If negative hereditary factors are recognised and if they can be eliminated through repaired genes, no other illnesses will be triggered by this.

Question :In regards to genetic research, scientists talk about a “better” and a “happier” human being. What do you say to this interpretation?

EUPHENIUS: They only see the physical side of the individual. They once again make the mistake of not taking the soul and the spirit into account. They only see the physical tissue, the organs - and that the genetic make-up can be transformed. They do not bear in mind that the soul is also enriched through this and receives information in order to exist as spiritual components in the body.

- Misinterpretations take place if one only and exclusively looks at the physical body!

Question :To what degree does the question of whether a person is good or bad depend on his environment and his genes?

EUPHENIUS: It represents collaboration between various sections, which allow a person to take positive or negative control from his own personal level of understanding. It can happen that the environment has an influence. It can happen that one's upbringing has an effect. It can happen that this soul opens the door to the negative, thereby becoming heteronymous. It is certainly possible that the NEGATIVE SIDE uses souls in order to trigger wars and severe catastrophes on Earth. The only possible way to protect oneself from this is to envelop oneself with LIGHT and to try to ponder the difference between good and evil and ethics and honour. All of these are elements you're familiar with and they are nothing new to you here on Earth. But a lot of people forget this, because they only strive for power and material possessions. Therein lays a great danger and it is the reason why many allow themselves to be diverted from the right direction.

Question :If a gene test indicates a severe hereditary disease, wouldn't it also automatically give away the individual's hidden mental qualities? Otherwise it could happen that mental giants, like physicist Stephen Hawking who is confined to a wheelchair, could accidentally be overlooked.

EUPHENIUS: If it would become possible during this century to select according to these bio-genetic criteria, you would place yourselves above GOD, because at that point in time, you would not have the mental capacity to assess the quality of this comprehensively. You would place yourselves above GOD and regard yourselves as the one who decides over life and death. - These people, with this elevated mental capacity, or often very religious and divinely anchored. They know that there are no further processes taking place along those lines at this point in time. Currently, you do not have the prospect of fathoming these mental qualities.

- There are elements of substance and information within the genes that not only contain the intellect, but especially your human qualities and your overall functionality.

The mental capacity in these genes is not visibly apparent; they are only a kind of mirror image of the soul. This secondary effect is not a proper reality, because otherwise the soul would have lost its assignment.

Question : Where does the positive spiritual realm stand in regards to the intended production of embryos for research? Are we allowed to waste human embryos - bodies without a soul - in order to possibly promote the health of many?

EUPHENIUS: We have discussed this before. It forms a part of your science and it desperately hopes for information in the field of stem cell research and about the interplay between individual cells. It represents an opportunity to make great strides in this sector. We do not regard this as something negative.

- The motive is always the deciding factor!

Only those areas that will get you a little bit further in this field are presently accessible to you. It isn't a case where what you have hitherto discovered is the gist of the matter - as you like to say.

- The greatest insights will be gained in a completely different area.

Question : From your point of view, is there a difference between physically producing embryos for research - if one was able to do so - or if one only uses those that remain in a test tube after artificial fertilization?

EUPHENIUS: What we can say to this is that these physical elements are not blessed with a soul and our SIDE therefore thinks that it is irrelevant whether these physical elements stem from a test tube or not.

Question : Is it unethical to consider whether it is justifiable to also utilise economic opportunities in this respect?

EUPHENIUS: The health aspect should always be first, because it is the basis for any further advances for you here on Earth. It is an unfortunate situation that economic aspects always play their part here on Earth and that every person also carries his own dark machinations within. Economic aspects are legitimate, because you live in a system of duality here.

Be aware of the dangers of being carried away and thereby neglecting the positive and the divine. The divine, the bright and clear must always retain the upper hand. All of you must work in order to exist here on Earth. We are aware of this. But the development should not continue the way it is the fashion these days that organs are imported from other countries and that people are murdered only because a rich personality is in need of a certain organ.

Question : Are you talking about the so-called “Death squads”?

EUPHENIUS: I wouldn't like to deal with this any further. But that is the point. It represents a dark chapter in your history and you will have your hands full in dealing with this.

Question : Because everything is connected with everything else, the question arises whether there are also people involved that have nothing to do with this?

EUPHENIUS: You should always remind yourself that you are a part of the totality. You are definitely not directly responsible for all the unjustness carried out by many here on Earth. But pray that these souls find their way into the LIGHT so that they will desist from doing anything negative. But you are co-responsible for all the things that take place here on Earth, because you are a part of a totality and you have the opportunity to light a candle and to pray for these things.

Question : Does this mean: If we omit to pray, we are guilty of not doing everything we could have done?

EUPHENIUS: As member of this circle you bear a certain degree of complicity, because you know that there are divine opportunities to convert such NEGATIVE ENERGY into something positive. You are not the blind and not the deaf, you are the ones informed about divine LAWS!

Question : Is one's own right for life unlimited?

EUPHENIUS: The right for life here is based on what has been agreed upon before a reincarnation. You obviously have the opportunity to shorten or to extend your life and this when you recognise that your assignment here on Earth has not been completely fulfilled, but are willing to fulfil it and if you have the insight into what you have to fulfil here. The KARMIC COUNCIL and your spiritual ESCORTS will then extend your stay here on Earth. - But you know that there are also unforeseen and unplanned calamities. We must accept this and so must you.

Question : Is one's own right for life limited by other people's right for life?

EUPHENIUS: The quality of life and the right for life are both dependant on what you actually do with this life. You have been equipped with everything you need to direct your life on Earth in the direction you need to go. In every opponent you meet you will find a part of you and a reflection of your own self. You can learn from every single one you meet and if it serves the occasion, mentally envelop them with LIGHT in order to give them the opportunity to release themselves from the apocalyptic CLUTCHES of NEGATIVITY.

Question : Does this right include the safeguarding of one's own life at all costs, even if it means the destruction of the life of others?

EUPHENIUS: Your life can and will be taken away - even by the divine SIDE. If a soul instigates great destruction here, as for instance Adolf Hitler managed to do, the spiritual realm is certainly able to take such a soul across to the spiritual realm. But these are exceptional cases and they only apply in extreme circumstances, otherwise you're subject to the GUIDELINES set and ascertained before your reincarnation. You have the right to begin and to conduct your life here on Earth the way you chose to. You have your free will and it allows you to move about freely here on Earth, whether with knowledge or not. But you will always be responsible for your deeds and your actions.

Question : We cannot quite understand this. Adolf Hitler destroyed more than enough human life and he wasn't prematurely recalled back to the spiritual realm, in spite of this. On the contrary - he was able to act out all of his hatred to the detriment of others.

EUPHENIUS: The fact is that his suicide was controlled from somewhere. Do you honestly believe that this power-obsessed man would have been able to take his own life?

Objection : But the suicide happened after a lot of destruction had taken place!

EUPHENIUS: These are set points along the track, which you received in order to work off parts of your karmic history. Accept it as a test and a challenge for your own self, namely to change your way of thinking and acting.

Comment : It is astonishing that one single person can murder millions of people.

EUPHENIUS: It wasn't just one man, there were a number of them and they occupied many powerful positions. The NEGATIVE made one step further in order to show just how far the negative POWERS can allow their ENERGIES to flow over you so that a whole nation turned away from DIVINITY and brought great destruction to itself and onto others.

Question : What do you make of current world politics and its associated risks and difficulties for mankind on this planet?

LUKAS : Oh, that's a special theme. It has become quite dangerous in your little world. We find it inexplicable why you do fight one another the way you do. You have come here on your own accord in order to perfect and to redeem yourselves. All of you have the same goal and you still fight one another just the same, wherever you can. This starts in the family, continues on at work and ends up in world politics.

- If you can't get this under control - and this only functions through recognising your CREATOR - your planet is heading towards terrible times and events and they will no longer be locally limited.

You must acknowledge that your path is the same, regardless whether you're a Moslem, a Christian, a Jew, a Hindu or any other religious denomination. Because of your religious beliefs you radiate in all directions away from one another, instead of searching for the TRUTH together. Searching for the TRUTH is very simple: You have to make a start and then begin to discard all false dogmas and any other narrow-mindedness. You can only survive by recognising GOD!

Question : If we didn't possess our free will, we would not be able to spiritually grow, because the freedom of choice, to choose between one direction and another, would be lacking. This is why the duality we experience here on Earth has some special meaning. Do I see this correctly?

LUKAS : This is a learning process! Learning without this duality would be impossible. How would you recognise anything good, if you were not also presented with something negative? The SANTINER also possess things that are negative, but these things are exclusively utilised to show the difference between good and evil, for learning purposes only. Small children are already taught what negativity is all about and what consequences can spring from it.

- You only talk about GOD from your pulpits. You should also include HIS opponent and not portray him as a "Punch and Judy" character or as a "silly devil", one who always loses anyway. You would scream your heads off if you would recognise the true form of the antagonist and his spiritual POWERS!

(T. B: (That is true!))

Question : What spiritual or divine attitude must one possess in order to recognise in the first place that peace on Earth must be secured implicitly and that one must travel the divine path? Isn't a little insight necessary to do this? - And how can we open this door so that we can take a closer look and question our own daily deeds and actions? The Church is unfortunately unable to guarantee this.

(T. B: That's correct.)

LUKAS : Only faith is necessary here. You live in a world that is invisibly pervaded by your actual WORLD - HOME to all of you. You are aware of quite a number of things that are invisible and you know what's behind them. You can't see the air around you for instance, but you know that it is there. You can't see your radio waves but you know that they exist in spite of that. You have built receivers for that.

- Why don't you use yourselves as RECEIVERS for FREQUENCIES coming from the spiritual realm?

You seem to have an inexplicable shyness in this regards. Why? - This would give you the key to solve all the problems of the world, even illnesses would no longer exist. All of your energy supply could possibly be free of charge, with the co-operation of Mother Nature and its spiritual ENERGIES.

(T. B: And not only that!)

But you are so confident in your abilities and in your technological developments that you fail to see that you destroy yourselves and you even laugh when other people, with more delicate ANTENNAS, report about the world of the SPIRIT and about GOD. Do you also disown your natural parents? No, you don't do that! But you laugh in the FACE of THE ONE who created all of you and say: "We only believe in what's physical and not in such fairytales!"

Question : According to your statements, genetic research ought to make it possible for us to heal our physical bodies. Will it also be possible to heal our souls? Namely that one acknowledges that the soul is an important part of the healing process, that the natural environment is also included and that one must look upon a human being as a WHOLE?

LUKAS : Genetic research - if it is going to be positive - and as you pointed out, if it is going to abolish your illnesses, by absolute necessity must include the co-operation of the CREATOR. Only then will its objective be achieved! Only then will genetic research make it possible to recognise the absolute bond between the soul and DNA. But this will take some divine INSPIRATION, which will only be given to those researchers that perform their work in a DIVINE SENSE and only once this has been established.

Just how you deal with this is really not predictable. Because one thing is unpredictable, namely: How man behaves on hand of his free will. There have been individuals who promised Heaven on Earth, but when the time approached to act, they erratically changed their original attitude and this to the consternation of their fellow man and often to the consternation of the spiritual realm also. We can only try to positively inspire someone and we can only reach this someone, when he has attuned himself to the DIVINE, otherwise that person cannot be reached. It would be akin to a wall - impossible to breach. We hope that this has answered your questions.

Question : Would it constitute a step in the right direction if all nations would co-operate in the field of genetics, dynamically exchange information on the subject and allow other areas of interest to intermingle with this research?

LUKAS : A "With each other", no matter whether in science, politics or religion is always positive and absolutely desirable.

- Once a common goal in this direction is announced in a general manifest to all the nations of the world by the UN in New York, you will have made the first step into a bright future.

The majority of members of the UN are often called to assemble in order to decide on questions of war and other measures. It would really be about time, and apart from that very important, to do the same in regards to a common goal for genetic research. A yet to be established administration could control any advances in the field of gene technology on a world wide basis and introduce essential corrections whenever researchers deviate from the divine PATH. It would then be possible for you to recognise this, because GOD would then bring HIS POWERS to bear.

Question : Have human beings been cloned in secret laboratories here on Earth?

EUPHENIUS: We can answer this question in the affirmative. In various scientific laboratories human beings have been cloned, but they could not be vitalised, because the CREATOR has not allocated any souls for these carbon copies. These cloned human beings are “mechanical robots” - in inverted commas please.

- No souls have been allocated for this by the CREATOR and there never will be.

Question : Therefore cloning didn't function?

EUPHENIUS: This type of cloning cannot function, because it is not within the CREATOR'S PLAN and because HE regards every life form as an individual life form. You are unique and exceptional. You are no carbon copy of any other personality.

Objection : But the cloning of animals did function alright.

EUPHENIUS: We are talking about a sheep here and it showed you that something like that is possible. But guard against trying to apply this to human beings.

Question : Is the soul linked with DNA?

EUPHENIUS: DNA represents one source of information for the soul, just like your heart and the convolutions of your brain. DNA contains the storage units for all of your human processes. DNA contains all the information necessary to exist here and to give your brain the appropriate impulses. Your upright deportment and your intelligence would otherwise be an impossibility.

Question : What about consciousness?

EUPHENIUS: Consciousness represents the CREATOR'S special challenge for you. Consciousness comprises realisation! It ought to empower you to recognise DIVINITY and to allow your free will free reign here on Earth. Your consciousness represent a CENTRAL STORAGE FACILITY you have access to with the help of certain methods, methods you're already aware of here on Earth. It is a part of your overall history and you will be able to scrutinise after your departure from this Earth. It is a compilation and contains all of your soul's past history in the physical world.

- Your consciousness is a SOURCE of ENERGY that freely moves about within your ethereal PHYSICAL FORMS.

Question : A kind of RESERVOIR?

EUPHENIUS: If you want to call it a “RESERVOIR” we will concur in order to enable you to give it substance.

Question : How does the soul make contact with the brain, for instance when driving a car?

EUPHENIUS: The soul has ethereal VIBRATIONS at its disposal so it can reach every individual organ and also your brain. This happens at lightning fast speed, something you cannot presently conceive.

- The soul is an “IMPULSE APPARATUS” that is connected with every individual cell of your body, with every single fibre of your physical body and also to ethereal membranes outside of your body. These are CONNECTIONS you could call an OPERATION CENTRE or a SWITCHING DEVICE. We are dealing with ethereal FREQUENCIES here that are interconnected and anchored to one another.
- Consciousness, your consciousness - what you express as a soul - is situated in your ethereal body. You have a SWITCHING DEVICE in the cosmos, where all types of consciousnesses from Earth, of all the souls living on Earth, are also stored and centralised. From this consciousness karmically springs national karma, because you are not only regarded as individuals or as individual souls, but also as a whole.

Question : Is there also a common, terrestrial karma?

EUPHENIUS: Yes, you are also subject to this terrestrial karma, because all of you are interconnected with one another and your divine FLAMES make contact with one another on various LEVELS. You are also subject to this OVERALL STRUCTURE. You are a part of a WHOLE and this WHOLE is not abolished by the fact that you are subject to various nationalities.

Question : When the soul exerts influence on the physical body, does the physical body also exert influence on the soul in return or is this a one-way street?

EUPHENIUS: It is an interaction. The body has the same kind of influence on the soul as the soul has on the body. Remember that the soul is connected to your physical body and therefore the physical body is also connected to your soul. That’s the only way it can function, namely that they both communicate with one another. Is the body ill, the soul ails also and is the soul ill, the body will also become ill.

Objection : How can physical matter have such an influence on the spirit when the spirit is rated higher than the physical?

EUPHENIUS: That’s the way it ought to be, but remember: You have not yet reached a point in your development where your spirit can influence your biological and vegetative elements that way. The spirit is the highest AUTHORITY, that is correct. But it will still be a long time before your spirit possesses so much LUMINOSITY that it will be able to take full control.

Question : Certain varieties of corn were made resistant against certain herbicides with the help of gene technology. This allows the growers to spray his corn field with a certain herbicide without causing any damage to the corn. But whether these herbicides, now incorporated within the harvested plants, damage human being, is of little interest to them. How do you assess these technologies?

EUPHENIUS: There are by all means positive aspects related to this, namely that due to this development, famines can be reduced. This research and especially your human scientists have all come to the same conclusions. They utilise poisons to make this corn resistant against nature's weeds. It is wrong to work with these poisons.

- It would be more appropriate to utilise nature's natural poisons as a weapon. One can find natural agents that will guarantee the same yield and the same results.

You just don't see beyond the bridge of your nose. You try to concoct this poison in your laboratories and you overlook the fact that nature offers a lot of other opportunities to find an antidote.

- Nature holds the key to your whole existence! You scientists have not yet come to that conclusion.

Question : Gene technology robs evolution of the privilege of writing the script of life. Evolution is revealed as a program, whereby the rearrangement of letters or syllables creates a new word. The rearrangement of the code produces therefore something new. Is evolution nothing else but a rewritten text within the universal library of physical life and the human body only an assigned series of letters within this text?

EUPHENIUS: Evolution shows you that there is a history of evolution. The necessary messages in regards to this development were reconfigured and rewritten here also. You now have the opportunity to write your own book and your own history. But you are still at the beginning. Please don't forget this! You will receive the talents to redesign and rearrange a part of this text. You have the opportunity to partially interfere with your biological process. You have a chance to apply your positive thoughts to this process. You have the opportunity to partially influence your development and your procreation. Take advantage of this opportunity, because it represents a challenge for your whole future.

Question : Is one also going to discover the original PROGRAMMER when researching DNA?

EUPHENIUS: This is the desired expectation, namely that higher knowledge can only function along the tracks of divine faith. It represents one opportunity to gain a new world-religion and a challenge for a new "with one another" here on Earth. It is one opportunity to gain the insight that we can only reach our common goal "together". This can only be accomplished through faith in GOD and through the ability to accept this challenge with the help of nature and the divine. It is a chronological beginning of a turning point.

Question : One last question which includes our thanks to you for all the messages you conveyed to us up to now to this theme: We have heard a lot about the theme of genetic research during the past meetings. Can one say in recapitulating that from your point of view genetic research ought not primarily be there to release gene-technological fantasies about the manipulation of human beings, but to basically interpret the creation of the world, any myths about creation, theories about evolution, the development of life and in context to all of this, the evolution of man?

EUPHENIUS: "Genetic research" is only an expression and only the tip of an enormous iceberg. Beneath lays hidden a divine ADMINISTRATION, with all its challenges and faith and with all the factors that lead to a point where you can bring your soul to mature here on Earth. The DOOR that is opened is an important one, it gives you knowledge and the opportunity to learn more about the reasons for and the necessity of your existence here on Earth. It represents an opposing polarity to what the Church preaches in the NAME of GOD. The Church has unfortunately lost its significance. Faith must be pursued on a completely different level and on a completely different FREQUENCY.

Genetic research offers an opportunity to look behind the veil and over the edge of the table. It is one opportunity to recognise that there is more than this life here on Earth and that it is important not just to see what one wants to see and to hear what one wants to hear, but that there is a lot more, things one cannot recognise, see or hear at this point in time. It is an opening of an unknown region, behind which a bright and lucid WORLD exists - and the knowledge that death does not possess the finality it is presently portrayed with and the fear associated with it. You are here on Earth for a particular period of time only. Your true EXISTENCE exists somewhere completely different! This gives you the knowledge that there is such a thing as the survival of the soul and that you are only pressed into a physical shell in order to wander a path here on Earth to develop and to bring you the realisation that there is life after death. This knowledge and all the things you know about the spiritual realm are concealed behind the science of genetic research.

We hope that this research will to some extent enrich your lives here on Earth so that your souls illuminate and GOD'S antagonist looses his power and his strength. This research contains the opportunity of recognisance, namely that one can only successfully travel along this route together and that one has to stop facing one another in battle. GOD'S PLANS represents a network of many factors and they ought to lead to the conclusion that everything is interconnected and that everything is part of a great and enormous creative SPIRIT. All of you are on the way to this insight and we are happy to be able to accompany you part of the way.

We are convinced that some of the answers from our side are not always that easy to understand. Some of the areas under discussion still need more supplementation and explanation. But we are astonished and also pleased that so many questions have reached us from your side in spite of that and that we were able to give you a little more insight into such a large field of knowledge. It is difficult to bring the spiritual world and the world of the CREATOR onto a common denominator when looking at the activities that take place here on Earth. Remember, it is an interrelationship and it brings with it a new weaving frame. One stitch follows another and it can only have a positive outcome if the spiritual SIDE is included. The dark POWERS also try to have an influence in this regards, because this research gives you new and important knowledge about the structure of cells.

- Genetic research represents an important element for the further existence of your species during the next century. It is important to undertake this step. But the question whether this is going to be in a positive or negative manner remains open.

I bring this theme to a conclusion and thank you for your interest. We thank you for your questions and especially for dealing with this theme, it will capture your attention in the near future and it will continue to help you connect with your inner self. Remember, it is an influence that will affect all of you here around this table also, because it will deeply affect every one on this planet. We hope that all researchers accept this chance with a positively attuned mind, so that they can recognise that a lot of changes can be effected. But even EMINENT ENTITIES are not always successful when it comes to influencing someone! We hope that mankind realises that certain developments can only be undertaken in connection with divine LAWS and in harmony with natural laws. This is what our side hopes for. We close this meeting with the words:

May your development proceed in a direction that will show you just what you can accomplish with your thoughts and your HEART'S positive VIBRATIONS, in order to save this world from ruin and to guide it towards a new level of development instead.

We salute you with divine HUMILITY.

EUPHENIUS and the TEAM.
