Protocol extracts from the Menetekel from the years 1956 to 1975.

Theme : Science, technology and art

Addenda 2 from the years 1956 to 1975

The following text to this theme was psychically received by the Medialen Friedenskreis Berlin (MFK)¹, a Christian/Spiritual community, between 1956 and 1975. The transmissions form a part of the Menetekel, a collection of protocols of around 4,500 A4 sized pages amassed over 20 years and they have recently been restructured. All of these mediumistic messages were left in their original form, even if similar questions were repeated. The work of the two automatic writing mediums, Monika-Manuela Speer and Uwe Speer, began when they were 15 and respectively 17 years old. The total production of the MFK-Berlin (Medialer Friedenskreis Berlin), the Menetekel and the 21 transmissions from the space-brothers are considered the absolute pinnacle of psycho-scientific research. Other spiritual circles have often tried to copy the work of the MFK, but its quality was never achieved. The reproduction and distribution of these rearranged messages and protocols is explicitly encouraged and is not covered by any copyright.

Preface

The way faith cannot do without common sense, the sciences can also not do without faith. At the beginning of any insight, wherever it was possible, there was always a belief, a trust. This is the very reason why this continuing battle between faith and science is absolutely unnecessary. Eminent scientist believed that something was doable, they would otherwise not been able to discover anything. Faith therefore proceeds everything. Faith and sciences sit in the same boat, because either of them can fall ill in their own way:

- The maladies of faith are over-enthusiasm and ecstasy or the application of force, because they all deaden the common sense portion of faith.
- The malady of rationalists is the discrimination against the faithful, a special kind of extremeness. Something that is often overlooked is that fact that religion nowadays defends common sense.

Seven out of ten of our fellow men die as patients in a clinic. We simply push the dying into bleak and solitary death chambers. Death as a subject is taboo. We banned death from our everyday life. Most do not believe in a hereafter and the fear of death is the fear of nothingness. We do not live unpunished in our Age of the Sciences! The scientist Galileo Galilei defined the duty of the sciences thus:

“Everything determinate must be measured – and everything indeterminate must be made quantifiable.”

Researchers have been trying to grasp reality according to what he said by measuring, weighing and calculating. With great success! They not only amassed an incredible amount of knowledge, they actually created a new reality with the help of technology. Intoxicated by their triumphs, the ESSENTIAL remained unheeded: Everything that could not be measured was simply factored out. Everything was reduced to either physics or chemistry – human beings finally also. Everything that differentiated human beings from inert matter was simply detached from them.

The majority of natural phenomena are however of a non-mechanical nature. Our sensory perceptions – hearing, smelling, taste, sense of colours and warmth, our feelings, fears, sentiments like love, awe, humility, our individual problems, our spirit and our conscience – everything that cannot be quantified by physics, was left behind. Because all of this is really “illogical”, ego “not reasonable”, “not scientific” and therefore less real or even “unreal”.

A professor for theoretical physics in Vienna, Professor Herbert Pietschmann, also spoke out against the pauperisation of our lives in his book “The End of the Scientific Age” (Zsolnay-Verlag). He also complains that his colleagues created a simplified model of reality and that they now think that this one-sided image is the reality. But what have they done to the plethora of natural phenomena that cannot be grasped mathematically? Pietschmann completes Galileo Galilei’s phrase with:

“...and what cannot be quantified, denied!”

The supernatural is therefore also denied.

The natural sciences have rendered our antennas to the hereafter useless and exiled modern man to the torture chamber of spiritual isolation. The emptiness of man existence consequently ends up in nothingness, respectively in psychosomatics. The German physicist C. F. von Weizsäcker made the comment that this is our punishment for having elevated the natural sciences to the “controlling religion of our times”. The astronomer Johannes Kepler demanded that scientific thought processes should not get in the way of the “soul’s wellbeing”. Other eminent scientists have also acknowledged the limits of their own abilities to comprehend. So the mathematician Blaise Pascal:

“Everything that can be perceived neither shows a complete absence nor an apparent presence of the divine, but certainly the presence of God hiding behind it. Everything bears his hallmark.”

The nuclear physicist Max Planck was certain that nobody would suggest that he was a dreamer when he ascertained:

“There is no physical matter as such! All physical matter develops and exists through one force. We must assume that there is a conscious, intelligent spirit behind this force. But as a single spirit cannot exist on its own, we must compellingly assume the existence of spirit entities. The atom opens mankind the door to the lost and forgotten world of the spirit!”

Does mathematics hide in Mother Nature? This question must be answered with a clear “yes, everywhere” Einstein said: “The actual creative principles lie in mathematics”. Example: The golden ratio (lat: proportio divina). Wherever pentagrams or spiral formations appear in nature the principle of the golden ratio plays a part. One should think of ivy leaves or bellflowers as well as pinecones. The arrangement of the pinecone’s scales promotes the utilisation of the light that falls upon it. Another example: Natural growth is called exponential function. The next question automatically follows: Who taught Mother Nature mathematics? There is only one answer to this: GOD is a mathematician! Leibniz formulated it thus: “When God calculates and contemplates, the world is born.”

Fear of dying?

Our fate is certainly not nothingness!

Spiritual science

Spiritualism and Spiritism are unfortunately mistakenly confused with one another globally, or at least regarded as the same in regards to “moving tables” and “knocking” sounds. There is however a big difference. We therefore produce an excerpt from the Brockhaus Encyclopaedia:

Spiritualism (From Latin: Spiritus, spirit), a metaphysical view whereby the last substance of the universe is of a spiritual nature and everything physical is just a form of apparition or imagination. (Contrast: Materialism) A distinction has to be made with Spiritism, because it is often also called Spiritualism.

We can see that the Brockhaus Encyclopaedia indicates that Spiritism has to be differentiated from Spiritualism, but that it is often enough denoted as Spiritualism.

- Spiritism deals with making contact with the hereafter on the basis of a physical level. It endeavours to prove that the world of the hereafter exists.
- Spiritualism already left the basis of a physical level and directly turns to otherworldly INTELLIGENCES.

Spiritualism does not have the task of verifying the hereafter, because based on its infinitely extensive previous research, it already acknowledged the existence of the hereafter to its full extent. Otherworldly INTELLIGENCES verify their own existence through their high intelligence and experience through Spiritualism.

Spiritualism is therefore an empirical science, one that still waits for academic recognition.

January 1966

The exploration of the Realm of the Spirit (By Viktor Herbert Speer)

There are scientists that accomplish outstanding things in their field of expertise. These are people with a matter of fact mind, equipped with excellent logic. These characteristics do however not entitle them to have the final word on the phenomenon called Spiritualism. This requires more, because only those that encounter a genuine phenomenon or have a genuine, reliable medium at their disposal, can observe it sufficiently critical. Most scientists within all fields of knowledge hardly have an opportunity to do so. They simply judge at random, just the way they imagine it and how it fits within their view of the world. They naturally miss the point altogether. Genuine phenomena exhibit a plethora of trifles that can constitute great evidential value.

Which scientist has for instance the advantage of having participated at 1,000 séances? Of having two mediums in his own family that excludes all deceptions? – Who is one to believe more, a scientist or a practical man? – Every reasonable person will make the correct judgment here. It isn't all about academic wisdom here, but about a practised truth.

When one examines all the phenomena of Spiritualism and of Spiritism one finds a large accord in regards to the utilised means, even when the phenomena took place continents apart. There is also a complete accordance in regards to beliefs in the world of spirit amongst native tribes, even when they are also separated by continents. Superstition is not the fact of a spiritual existence, but the practised cult that stems from an erroneous definition of the world of spirit is. Pastor Johannes Greber, who intensively dealt with the world of spirit, wrote the following words:

“The Christian Churches cannot produce evidence for their doctrine of inspiration from the New Testament itself.”

But Spiritualism can furnish this evidence, because it corresponds with the world of INSPIRATION SPIRITS. INSPIRATION SPIRITS can become active either telepathically through a trance, through automatic writing and also through materialisations. Whether these spirits possess great abilities or have a high intellect must be decided case by case. There are naturally also walloping lies bandied about that can also be revealed in a psychic fashion. An otherworldly inspiration must not necessarily be positive. There are actually more negative than positive inspirations.

But when all human beings – not only those with psychic abilities – gradually begin to think and act positively, human beings will lawfully also attract positive INSPIRATION SPIRITS that will help them intellectually. But woe to those that leave the path of virtuousness, the spiritual influences will then make a complete turnaround, they will then be negatively manipulated until they have become unconscious instruments in the hands of base, spiritual POWERS. These are not theories, but facts that have been verified all over the world.

The people that nailed CHRIST to the Cross were already such instruments in the hands of the EVIL one, who was able to become active in this way. The blame for this deed goes more on the account of the INTELLIGENCES of the WORLD of SPIRIT than on the account of the terrestrial instruments that acted under duress.

- This is why no blame can be apportioned to the Jews in regards to this question, but rather more to INSPIRATION SPIRITS, because one does not know what religious order or what lineage they belonged to.

What is important is that we know about these things and that we adjust accordingly!

Questions and answers

January 1966

Question : Astronomers discovered a small planet on course towards the Earth. One assumes that this heavenly body will collide with the Earth. Are these fears justified?

ELIAS : One assumes that this giant meteor will collide with the Earth in three years from now and make a hole the size of Hamburg. But the meteor will not crash down on Earth. Only small fragment of it will fall as shooting stars. The SANTINER take great care that something like this doesn't happen. They have the power to deflect such a heavenly body with their anti-gravity energies, the way they parted the Red Sea and the river Jordan. You can rest easy. If the SANTINER did not interfere, something completely different would have already happened. The comet from 1910 would then have inexorably collided with the Earth. An arbitrary change of course makes such things impossible.

April 1966

Question : Vivisection has become very popular in the USA. Are such experiments really necessary?

ELIAS : No. The sciences are mainly interested in behaving like GOD. One wants to discover the secret of the CREATOR. One would dearly like to produce artificial life.

June 1966

Question : American scientists undertake attempts of transferring intelligence and memories from one individual to another. One carried out experiments with rats and they had to solve certain tasks. These rats were then killed and a specific substance from their brains were transferred to other rats. One now expects that the ability to solve certain tasks will have been transferred to the new rats. What do you say to this?

ELIAS : I am familiar with such experiments. I could add a few more. Even though such things lie certainly in the region of human possibilities, one important possibility is excluded, namely the transference of the human consciousness. An electronic-brain is capable of accomplishing more than a human brain and it can store all kinds of memories within itself that can be retrieved within seconds. The computer does however not possess a consciousness. Everything is just an electromagnetic, ergo a mechanical process. Similar things happen when one transplants intelligence cells.

Question : You once told us that memories are recorded cosmically. What are we to make of this then?

ELIAS : When a brain cell, that is to say an intelligence cell, no longer exists, the respective memory is cosmically stored in spite of this.

Question : Does this mean that brain cells actually store memories?

ELIAS : However a COSMIC RECORDING of all thought processes takes place simultaneously. The COSMIC RECORDINGS are however of gigantic proportions. It is akin to an iceberg with seven-eighths of its mass under the surface.

- One could say that the brain is involved in one-eighths of the cells' activities, whilst seven-eighths takes place in the cosmos.

Comment: A factor of deception is explained to us here, one that causes physicians to regard the soul as a part of the brain. The reality is that the brain does indeed work on its own, but only to a smaller degree. COSMIC PROCESSES take place parallel to the brain's activity and they have nothing to do with the brain.

The memory cells and the intelligence cells of human beings are destined to dissolve after a person's physical demise and this in turn extinguishes the memory stored within the brain. But the lifelong, simultaneous COSMIC RECORDINGS of all processes, all experiences and conceptual thought processes remain intact! The souls is capable of utilising this COSMIC RESERVOIR after its disembodiment.

The explanations from the MESSENGER of LIGHT ELIAS throws a different light on the psycho-scientific doctrine, but it is also of great importance to medical research. A powerful reference to contemplate.

Question : Is there a difference between the recordings of the COSMIC and the physical brain as it were? And what is being recorded?

ELIAS : The essential, that is to say the brain records very specific instances, whilst the COSMOS records everything. If the memory of the brain falls short, the soul can utilise the COSMOS. The soul only utilises the COSMOS after death.

- Feelings like joy, hatred, love or pain etc. are not recorded by the brain. They are direct sentiments of the soul. One will never be able to transplant such memories. Feelings are not anchored in brain cells.

Question : What role do brain cells play in a genius? Is such a brain constructed differently?

ELIAS : Cells play no role at all in the case of a genius. If one assumes that ingenuity has something to do with the furrows of the brain, one is sadly mistaken.

- Geniuses are almost exclusively people that are very powerfully INSPIRED.

Comment: Inspiration here means the telepathic transference between otherworldly SPIRIT ENTITIES and terrestrial human beings.

Question : Do genies exist that are ingenious from within themselves?

ELIAS : Naturally. This is why I said: Almost exclusively inspired people exist. The majority is inspired. – If humans were able to create a robot that would hardly differentiate from them, one they could have conversations with, it would indeed be a marvel, but this robot would not have feelings like joy or sadness and also no conscience. It would not feel the difference between good and evil.

Question : Dear ELIAS, one thoroughly deals with dolphins these days because their intelligence is quite considerable. Do dolphins use a kind of language?

ELIAS : Dolphins have no language in a human sense, but they do emit sounds of specific meaning and they are understood by their own kind.

Question : What is the great philanthropy one finds with dolphins based upon?

ELIAS : Dolphins experienced a peculiar development:

- Dolphins lived on land thousands of year ago. They used to accompany people as faithful as dogs do these days. This development brought about a lasting friendship between dolphins and human beings. This memory is hereditary. Dolphins changed from living on land to living in water and this is where they remain to this day.

But there is something else that one has paid little attention to:

- Dolphins can virtually receive thoughts. Not in the shape of words, ergo not verbally, but in the form of concepts. They can receive mental images telepathically.

Psycho-science

The world at large has the wrong opinion in regards to supernatural phenomena. One is of the opinion that academic science distances itself from these phenomena because they cannot be explained in a conventional way, that is to say, with the help of scientific insights.

This concept is false!

Academic science doesn't reject these phenomena, but it feels incapable of explaining their origin and their legalities. This is the reason why one has relegated them to the boundary respectively the periphery of empirical science. Stated in a few words, all supernatural and occult processes belong to psycho-science.

The necessity arose in this sector to develop one's own science. Parapsychological institutes were founded in various countries, like for instance the USA, the Soviet Union and a number of other countries. These institutes work according to their own insights and methods.

Parapsychology (Psycho science) is certainly not a stepchild of university taught science. Only its jurisdiction is somewhat displaced. The average citizen is unfortunately unaware of this fact.

- To not clearly explain this fact to students is a great mistake. They are as ignorant and unenlightened as your average citizen.

It is therefore a mistake to assume that supernatural processes are rejected by the sciences because one does not want to deal with them. The sciences seriously deal with them, just not according to the tenets of empirical disciplines. A comprehensive acknowledgment of the supernatural has not been forthcoming, because a lot of things still have to be explained. Private initiatives have a clear advantage in this respect!

Questions and answers

Question : The sciences have asked themselves in vain why men also have nipples, even though they do not suckle children. Do you have an explanation for this?

AREDOS : Mother Nature – and I naturally mean divine creation - utilises certain symbols in very important situations. One can observe this with flora and also fauna. It is however a case of correctly recognising these symbols and of correctly interpreting them.

The husband is the producer of a child. It was not GOD'S intention to leave the responsibility and duty to maintain the viability of the child to the wife alone. The producer has the same responsibility and task to take care of the preservation of their progeny. Due to the fact that husband does not experience the sensations and the pain during the gestation period and the birth, he might easily be tempted to assume that the produced child no longer has anything to do with him. GOD gave men a SYMBOL in this case, one that places them on equal footing in regards to the duty of care of their children.

- The nipples are there to remind the husband that he is also fully responsible for providing nourishment and welfare for his child, even though he doesn't nurse it.

Primitive tribes have been guided by this symbol for millennia. An INNER VOICE told them - and the nipples confirmed it. Civilised human beings have gradually lost their sense of duty in this respect due to vital negative influences. They are at a stage now where they leave the duty of care and education in the hands of the wife or even complete strangers. This is a completely ungodly, ergo unnatural behaviour, something the divine symbols of male nipples verify.

- Male nipples are symbols of life and preservation!

Comment: What are the sciences going to say to this answer? Do the sciences have a better answer at hand?

Question : Medical science is engaged in some very daring experiments these days. It opens the chest when the heart suddenly stops and tries to resuscitate the patient through massaging the heart. Are such procedures intended within GOD'S plan or are they a sin?

ELIAS : You will be surprised, but these experiments are allowed within GOD'S plan. But people should certainly not be tormented. These attempts can only succeed if the soul has not yet separated from the body. The anchoring of the soul to the body goes via the brain. When a "short circuit" happens there, the exodus takes place immediately.

Question : There are a lot of unenlightened patients around that cannot deal with their suffering. How should an esoteric with a severe chronic illness behave?

ELIAS : Such an illness is naturally a very severe test. The esoteric does however know about these things. He knows that he will continue to exist after his demise. He also knows that he will then be rid of his suffering. Equipped with this insight, he should muster all his patience and trust in GOD, because HE will take his suffering away completely during the transition to the OTHER WORLD.

Question : A lot of people place great importance in knowing whether they will be dealing with a boy or a girl, before the child is even born. Experiments and research are carried out in this respect also. Is this alright?

AREDOS : No, certainly not! Let's assume that a mother that wants to bear a child absolutely wants to have a boy. Roughly in the middle of gestation period she finds out that it is not a boy, but a girl. This discovery can have catastrophic consequences. The developing child is no longer carried to its full term with the necessary LOVE and spiritual closeness. It suffers because of the mother's attitude.

Question : Dear ELIAS, you once talked about "forms of human life". Was this in regards to physical forms or forms in the realm of the spirit?

ELIAS : I was talking about physical forms and possibilities.

- The spiritual FORMS in the hereafter depend entirely on the spheres one is in.

Let's look at an example: A human being on another planet, one that differs from you physically, initially adopts the spirit form in the hereafter that he had whilst in his physical existence. This also applies to terrestrial human beings. But based on his spiritual maturity and development, his appearance changes. This is why we have DEMONIC BEINGS and also angelically beautiful LIGHT BEINGS.

Question : Do you believe that terrestrial science will be able to delve into spirit SUBSTANCES one day?

ELIAS : Yes, especially in regards to the ASTRAL SUBSTANCE, respectively ECTOPLASM. However not the soul. The ASTRAL SUBSTANCE constitutes a link between the spiritual SUBSTANCE and organic matter.

Question : Do the spirit SPHERES of other inhabited planets in space differ from one another?

ELIAS : All inhabited planets have their own spirit SPHERES around them. All deceased people from such a planet initially retain their own form or figure. But when they come as far as the terrestrial sphere – something that rarely happens – they adapt their form to their new environment.

Psycho-science

To rate communicating with the hereafter as part of occultism is a great mistake. The mysterious has been already been unveiled. The enormous literature about it verifies that one is no longer dealing with the unknown. Today's Spiritualism in its scientific form is a special science of great renown. Only badly informed people could hold a different opinion. All deception mediums are naturally excluded from it. The things psycho-science achieves these days is absolutely presentable.

During the last epochs of research into the hereafter one made the grave mistake of endowing those in the hereafter with a kind of omniscience. This had grave consequences, because the hereafter accommodates an incalculable HORDE of APOSTATES that are of a lower level than any present inhabitant of Earth from a mental and ethic point of view.

- Psycho science must break through this SPHERE if it wants to communicate with those APOSTATES that can actually orientate us.

One has been unable to imagine up to now that these APOSTATES could possible wear similar clothing to ours. The led to a general scepticism. The Churches did also not exclude themselves. Intensive research managed to remove this scepticism also.

- The APOSTATES consist of a spirit SUBSTANCE that has a different FREQUENCY that the physical matter we are familiar with.
- The OTHERWORLDLY create their clothing from this spirit SUBSTANCE and all personal objects that never leave their hands.
- All of these objects are an absolutely integral part of their own ASTRAL BODIES that are exceedingly malleable. They mould things for themselves according to what they experienced on Earth.

Questions and answers

December 1966

Question : Will our scientists also gain positive evidence of the habitability of other planets in the near future or will it still take a very long time before they know about this?

AREDOS: Terrestrial mankind will not garner this evidence from its own research. A close connection with extraterrestrials that have this knowledge will eventuate.

Question : Is there such a thing in the realm of the spirit as love and marriage in connection with the birth of children?

ELIAS : There is an anti-matter universe wherein all of this is possible. But the world of anti-matter is not the hereafter.

Question : Dear ELIAS, we are now dealing with three worlds: The here and now, the hereafter and the world of anti-matter. How can we make sense of all of this?

ELIAS : The world of anti-matter has been artificially verified. There is no longer any doubt about its existence. The anti-universe has a different polarity and this is why you cannot perceive it. The anti-world cannot perceive you also even though your universe absolutely exists. Verification is indeed possible, but it is perilous.

Question : People from the anti-world probably die also. Do these souls end up in a common hereafter, that is to say, in your realm of the spirit?

ELIAS : Whether we're dealing with this universe or an anti-universe matters not, they are all the same in regards to the soul. But every planet, every world – it matter not whether it's this world or the world of anti-matter – has its own SPHERES in the hereafter. Other planets have other levels of development and their otherworldly SPHERES are therefore adapted to their respective level of development.

You can see how enormously catholic creation really is. But everything belongs to a uniform creation in spite of this. Every terrestrial human being has eons of time at its disposal in regards to its own development.

- There is no absolute dissolution of the soul. Like GOD, it is immortal.

The worlds of anti-matter possess the same building blocks as your universe. They are however of a different polarity. Forms and beings, as well as fauna and flora found there are indeed similar, but every electric particle is of an opposite polarity.

Question : If souls always remain the same, even if they are reincarnated in the worlds of anti-matter, the assumption arises that every terrestrial human being can alternatively incarnate in this world and the worlds of anti-matter. Is this assumption correct?

ELIAS : No, that's not how it is. The ASTRAL BODY of individual human beings always represents an intermediate level. It is therefore undesirable to be alternately incarnated polarised this way or that way. The conversion to another FREQUENCY is too much of an imposition.

Question : Do we receive unfamiliar signals from the planets of the world of anti-matter?

ELIAS : No signals that you could possibly receive come from these planets.

- The worlds of anti-matter are there where you believe that no other stars exist.

Question : Is the universe limited?

ELIAS : Yes, that's correct. But you cannot begin to imagine its boundaries. There is an enormously large space where nothing exists and then there's another universe. All of this is however too high for any terrestrial mind.

- The farther stars are situated, that is to say, the closer they are to the boundary of the universe, the further the distance of atoms from their core.

January 1967

Question : One talks a lot about the subconscious. Can you tell us something about it?

AREDOS : One naturally means a function of the brain. But that is however incorrect! Thought processes and other conscious activities are of a cosmic nature. They lie outside the brain. The "subconscious" therefore also resides in the cosmos. It does however communicate with a specific part of the brain. But when people make any kind of deliberation, one is no longer dealing with the subconscious, one is dealing with the soul's activity.

- The subconscious is nothing but the whole cache of experiences and remembrances that is collected within the cosmos in the FREQUENCY of each individual person.

Question : Is it possible for somebody to dial in on the FREQUENCY of another person?

AREDOS : Yes, this happens daily. That person either turns into a genius or goes insane. But if we are only dealing with a momentary change-over, we are calling it telepathy.

Question : There is a location somewhere near Santa Cruz that contradict the law of gravity. A ball will roll uphill there, as if it was running downhill. What is happening there?

AREDOS : The gravitational field of planet Earth is not uniformly spread and this is why there are places that react differently. There are places on Earth where heavy rocks are moving. Heavy stones in the desert drag along the ground and leave their tracks behind. Changes within the Earth's radiation belt can considerably change the Earth's gravity, something that can also produce earthquakes.

February 1967

Artistic performances

An artistic performance can also take place psychically when it is carried out by hand. When the psychic ability is distinct through training, the otherworldly EFFORT encounters no difficulties. The artistic performance can be in the form of a drawing or an oil painting. The art of sculpture is also possible. The size of the object is virtually immaterial.

The distinction has to be made about whether the otherworldly EFFORT happens consciously or subconsciously. A mutual, unconscious support happens at times, a psychic co-operation as it were. The artistic efforts were always on a conscious level in our case, that is to say, it was either performed during a séance or after a request.

- Now if the otherworldly is not an artist of format, the performance by the medium is accordingly.
- The longer the contact with the otherworldly artist is maintained, the better the performances will be.

We experienced situations where an untalented drawing medium could not work with the otherworldly artist, even though the medium was extremely psychic and an excellent writing medium.

Well-known artists like Leonardo da Vinci and Michelangelo were undoubtedly great artistic mediums. They were certainly used as instruments by OTHERWORLDLY ENTITIES. This also explains their great stamina and overview over very large perspectives. Many of the depicted otherworldly figures also indicate an otherworldly CO-OPERATION.

These kind of great mediums are generally also good writing mediums and they received their respective instructions this way. This also applies to psychic composers.

Questions and answers

March 1967

Question : It was stressed during a Physicist's Congress in Munich that the universe had its boundaries that could be mathematically established. Is this theory correct?

ELIAS : To a certain degree, yes. But one has no concept of eternity, because if the present universe would no longer exist, HIS power would serve the purpose of creating a new universe and the eternal circle would be closed in the process.

April 1967

Question : Things were excavated in South America and in other countries. One uncovered artefacts with hideous grimaces. Are these artefacts mimics of a spiritual event?

ARGUN : No, we are dealing with negative inspirations. These artists did not have illustrative materials from the world of the spirit. But they possessed a negative fantasy, one that was supported by equally negative souls from the realm of the spirit. Everything in the HIGHER SPHERES is however very harmonious and extremely beautiful.

Question : Is it true that the negative thoughts of a great mass of people can trigger natural disasters?

ARGUN : Yes, this is unfortunately possible. Mother Nature is supervised by ELEMENTARY SPIRITS, that is to say, NATURE SPIRITS. Their ENERGIES can be influenced through the enormous amassment of thoughts. But this process is still beyond your comprehension. But don't forget that not everything is GOD'S WILL.

August 1967

Question : In spite of all spiritual evidence, leading personalities like Professor Bender amongst others, still turn a blind eye. They want to skirt around the truth and invent lame excuses. What does the realm of the spirit have to say about this behaviourism?

AREDOS : All scientific insights require a level of trust. This necessary trust in Spiritualism is missing. There are for instance surgeons that operate out of greed, even though an operation isn't necessary. – There are other physicians that unscrupulously prescribe medications that harm their patients. – There are physicians and other capacities that cause the death of a person through negligence or incompetence for instance. – But one still shows medicine or the sciences a certain level of trust in spite of this. Its mistakes are not publicised all that much.

The situation with psycho-science is completely different: When a medium fails or consciously deceives or when an experiment fails, these mistakes are then hyped up. The result of this is that the trust goes out the window and all positive successes are no longer evaluated.

- Mistakes and trickery or the abuse and misuse of good faith happens in all areas. But such derailments are absolutely welcomed in regards to Spiritualism, because they help to deny the whole thing.

We also see no logic in this behaviourism. But this lies INSIDE of immature people, namely to deny everything spiritual and above all, the immortality of the human soul. Besides, terrestrial human beings don't want anything to do with any otherworldly responsibility, because they are aware of their own character. They prefer to embrace a religious doctrine that assures the forgiveness of their sins without them having to make an effort.

September 1967

Question : An Austrian journalist participated in a scientific experiment whereby animals had to die under a glass bell, because one deprived them of oxygen. The students present that observed the death throes of these animals, found this amusing and laughed out loud. The professor who conducted these experiments didn't object to this revelry. These student are the doctor of the future that mankind will have to entrust its lives and health to. What do you say to this?

ELIAS : These experiments are designed to harden people's minds against suffering. Awe of life and awe of death can also harden people's minds. There is no need for frivolities here.

- The word "nature" must once again be replaced with the concept "GOD".

"GOD" as a concept has unfortunately been completely ousted out of the vocabulary of academics. They show no trace of humility and consider themselves so wise and omniscient that they see themselves as being almost god-like.

Question : Why can this happen?

ELIAS : Let's assume that the SANTINER would come down to Earth in their thousands and place planet Earth under their protectorate, terrestrial mankind would then have to obey. But people would still remain the same inside. One would force something onto them. But human beings reject all such coercions.

One will gradually find out through new insights and experiences in regards to the realm of the spirit that OTHER THINGS beside technology also exist on this Earth. But this does however require the dissemination of truths. This question has to be resolved above everything else, because the existence of the whole world depends on it. The necessary discernment is unfortunately and specifically lacking here.

Mankind requires an objective religion and it will never find it in your present day Churches and also not in other religious communities. Only the direct connection with the HIGHER SPHERES of the realm of the spirit can help you or the messages from the SANTINER.

Question : Do the SANTINER have a plan that can help us?

ELIAS : Yes, that's correct. They don't want to establish a foreign dominion on this Earth. Your governments are however afraid that this might happen. Therefore this rejection. Terrestrial mankind would also not feel comfortable under such a foreign dominion. Even if things were quite good under this foreign domination, one would still strictly reject any guardianship. This is the reason why all religious instructions are flatly rejected.

Human beings do not want to be dictated to by GOD or his MESSENGERS. The SANTINER certainly don't want to do this. All they want to do is find a partner for the COSMIC ALLIANCE the Earth has a right to participate in. But the Earth is unfortunately not mature enough to join this alliance.

Question : The sciences do not shy away from keeping a human head alive when it is adequately supplied through an apparatus. What does the realm of the spirit say to this?

ELIAS : We absolutely reject such experiments for ethical and religious reasons. Even though the seat of the soul is not in the brain, interrelationships between the soul and the relevant brain do exist. The brain is accurately dialled in to the FREQUENCY of the soul. This is the deciding factor the sciences are not aware of.

- The brain as a computer, and also as a relay station, gives the soul the opportunity to make itself known. This connection is so powerful, that – as long as the brains still functions – the soul has the impression that it resides in the brain, exactly the way you have the impression that you reside in your body and that you sit here, even though the CENTRE of your soul is located outside your body.

The SOUL'S CORE is actually found outside of the body. It is the most important component of a human being.

- The SOUL'S CORE contains the EGO-CONSCIOUSNESS and it harbours the person's individuality.

The SOUL'S CORE must also not be tied to a memory: Human babies are born with this connection to the SOUL'S CORE. Their memory develops later. It isn't quite as complicated as you might have assumed.

A number of definition to the subject:

- The ASTRAL BODY is connected to the physical body during a person's lifetime on Earth.
- The ASTRAL BODY is not the soul.
- The soul is the EGO-CONSCIOUSNESS and it harbours feelings and perceptions.
- The soul is the sum of experiences plus the ASTRAL BODY and the physical body.
- The soul is divine, it stems from GOD. (...in HIS image...)
- The soul is immortal, because GOD is also immortal.

October 1967

Question : We have now come to a very important question. The leader of the Parapsychological Institute in Freiburg/Breisgau, Professor Hans Bender said the following:

“I am not one of the Spiritists, I am an Animist.”

Spiritists are researchers that furnish thousands of pieces of evidence that one can make contact with spirits. – Animist do not deny this, but they interpret this differently. Isn't such an interpretation a stipulated intention to not admit the truth at all cost?

ELIAS : Professor Bender wants to verify that mysterious things do indeed exist, but that they can be explained naturally according to his opinion. He however forgets that otherworldly phenomena are also absolutely natural. The hereafter is also a part of man's sphere of existence. He is looking for the phenomenon in human beings and not in disembodied souls. Professor Bender, like so many others – leaves an escape hatch open. There could possibly be a chance that he was wrong after all. Well, that wouldn't worry him too much. This wouldn't diminish his success. But this attitude means the loss of valuable study time. All the sciences have to bear this enormous loss.

Question : We cannot comprehend that a researcher with certain means at his disposal, cannot find out that the spiritualistic interpretation is the correct one. How is this possible?

ELIAS : This is mainly due to the fact that the allegedly eminent mediums he used completely failed. This disappointment made him mistrustful.

Question : Based on our own experiences we are of the opinion that the elucidation of spiritual phenomena requires a certain level of humility. Do university researchers lack this humility? If yes, they would have to blame themselves for their failures.

ELIAS : These researchers endow people with abilities that have nothing to do with the intellect. But these abilities possess an incredible force, one that has not yet been correctly recognised and can therefore not be utilised.

- One puts the ingenious subconscious in place of the divine, immortal soul. This is the actual cardinal mistake that throws a false light on everything.

There are also researchers in your world that want to prove the opposite, namely that people possess an immortal soul. But one does not want to listen to them.

Question : What is decisive with this important research is that one approaches experts like Professor Bender in order to receive a real professional opinion. But his professional opinion is wrong and the world at large accepts this terrible mistake. Do you see it like this also?

ELIAS : Most fail miserably when asked to give such a professional opinion. This is actually our greatest concern. If at all possible, the sciences should not be dethroned. This would not be well accepted by all scientists.

Question : Wherein do we find the greatest deception that causes the sciences to assume that the soul is the product of physical matter?

ELIAS : This is because terrestrial human beings have this feeling that their consciousness is inside their terrestrial bodies. But this is not the case, because one's consciousness is indeed found outside of the body. But the effect is such that it feels as if consciousness is inside the human body.

- The soul is neither situated in the ASTRAL BODY that is invisible to you, nor in the physical body. Consciousness is a UNIVERSAL PROCESS that takes place in space. These VIBRATIONS are reflected into the physical body so that the body establishes contact with the soul.

To become aware of one's divine consciousness, to realise that one has one's own EGO, does not require a language and experience, it is simply always there.

- The individuality, the core of the consciousness, let's call it personality, is cosmically anchored and it is radially in constant contact with its allocated body, it matters not whether it is dealing with the ASTRAL or the physical body.
- Whether GOD is within you or not, human beings are of divine origin because of their consciousness.

The physical body only plays a subordinate role, it's there to facilitate the soul's development. But this body is unfortunately and erroneously overvalued. The whole thing is still rather complicated, because appropriate worlds are lacking.

- The soul can develop further and further under its own steam. It doesn't die when the physical body dies. It can develop along positive, but also along negative lines. This is the individual concern of each soul.

Comment: We received definitions here the like we have not seen before. Academic science should take note of them.

November 1967

Question : It has been ascertained that human beings do not utilise parts of their brain. Is this due to atrophy or does this have another reason?

AREDOS : This is correct, one half is not being used. But this is not because of atrophy, it is because this part of the brain is pre-planned. It will play a major role in the future.

- People will then - once they are mature enough – be able to perceive things that are still hidden from them. But people are presently still undergoing their mental development. The brain can therefore not be fully utilised yet.

December 1967

Question : Global weather patterns have not conformed to past patterns for quite some time. What are the reasons?

ELIAS : This has been explained to you a number of times before. People have interfered here. Remember the Centenarian Calendar: It was correct in the past, well at least 80% of the time. Global weather patterns have been subject to a very specific rhythm. This rhythm has been interfered with through human endeavours.

The Van Allen belt has become porous. The nuclear tests carried out years ago made a considerable contribution to influencing the weather – I am not talking about radioactivity – through their spontaneous pressure and heat waves. These gigantic explosions influenced nature's forces. This gave the weather on Earth a different direction. A different rhythm has now been exposed. Meteorologists do however not like to admit this, because they naturally fear repercussions from their respective governments.

January 1968

Question : We return once again to the subconscious. Today's sciences still don't know its function, ergo how the human consciousness really works. Can you tell us something about it?

ELIAS : Every word has an associated concept that produces a mental, that is to say, a pictorial image within the mirror of one's consciousness. This pictorial concept is arranged within the cosmos: Wood to wood, iron to iron etc. These concepts, (mental engrams) are traced and located by one's will. These concepts then appear on the mirror of consciousness that is in contact with the brain as a relay, through this reflexion.

The cache of memory stored in the cosmos is comparably similar to a large lending library. Everything there is orderly arranged and at one's disposal, that is to say, it can be borrowed. Those that keep their library well sorted have a good memory. But those that put the borrowed book back in a wrong shelf, leaving a gap behind and the book is then somewhere where it doesn't belong. It can then happen that wood is where all the iron is. The situation with thoughts is similar. People can achieve a high spiritual level through discipline.

- Whenever possible, words must be connected to concepts. The better the mental images are engraved, the better the memory will be. Abstract concepts must also be coupled with concrete comparisons. They are then easier to locate. The speed of this mode of operation is unimaginable.

Question : We have to assume then that an orderly person has an advantage, if this is the case. Is this also correct in regards to people's thought processes?

ELIAS : One can certainly draw a parallel here. An orderly person thinks in any case more positive. They take more accurate care in regards to their mental decisions too. There is one thing I keep telling you:

- The consumption of tobacco impairs your thought processes more than you can imagine.

The situation is different with absent-minded people, because they are amongst the dreamers, they have the advantage of encountering spiritual things that lie beyond their normal reach. This is why dreamy meditations bring good results. They are similar to a radio that indeed receives everything, some of it unclear, but broadcasts from much farther away.

February 1968

Question : How do you assess the development of the various races?

ELIAS : This human race was born on this planet and not on another planet. But terrestrial mankind walks along the same path of development as other human races do in other star systems. This path leads via Neanderthal man everywhere. This process takes place on all the others planets also.

Question : If mankind developed from Neanderthal man, why is it split into various races?

ELIAS : This is due to the varied living conditions. People live in sunny places, in cold and in temperate zones and in other geographical regions. It is also a case of different diets. All of these influences produced the various races. Their development is accordingly also very different. All of this took place over thousands of years. The mixing between the races also played a role. But the mental attitude is hardly ever given attention to. This is the reason why races are falsely assessed.

Question : One discovered a gorilla with white skin and blue eyes. One now assumes that one is dealing with a crossbreed between a human being and an animal. Is this possible?

ELIAS : We are dealing here with a mutation. It depends on how the chromosomes are grouped together. It is certainly true that native women are sometimes abducted by apes. They are raped, but this can never produce any progeny. This is utterly impossible.

- Human beings are creatures that can never crossbreed with any animal!

There are people out there that would dearly like to have the evidence that human beings descended from apes, but to furnish this evidence is impossible.

The first human beings had to be primitive, because they lived under primitive conditions. The world was hostile towards them. – Think of the kind of animals that lived in those days? – Also consider the enormous storms this Earth experienced then. Only their minds could help them progress. It refined over the course of centuries. Everything depended on the brain becoming an improved relay.

Question : Were negative, spiritual FORCES already at work in those days?

ELIAS : These FORCES are always active wherever divine creation is found. Wanting to or not wanting to – to call it like this – to be good or not, that's the question. It still depends on one's own free will.

- All human beings still have the freedom to make their own decisions, but they must however bear the consequences.

What people decide is solely their own affair. But one's education, environment and all external influences that have to be taken into consideration also enter the equation. But in the final analysis, people still retain their freedom to decide how they deal with everything.

Question : Atheists assume that human thoughts, respectively their consciousness, are a product of physical matter, ergo a form of appearance. What's your view of this thesis?

ELIAS : But physical matter cannot produce a conscience. This is positive proof that this thesis is not correct.

- Consciousness and conscience are non-physical characteristics.

ELIAS : The views of the Dialectic Materialism are unfortunately extensively spread all over the world. How was this possible?

ELIAS : Almost all academics think along stipulated lines. They process everything stereotyped. Everything that doesn't fit within this stereotype is flatly negated. Atheism is taught at all universities throughout the world, even if this subject is not included in any curriculum. All fellow student that hold a different opinion can expect that they will be expelled from their university. They can certainly count on being persecuted and ridiculed by their comrades. The truth is thereby turned into academic derisiveness.

Question : Is the truth therefore weaker than aberration? Is there no way out of this situation?

ELIAS : A Nobel laureate can certainly come up with a different opinion once in a while, but he will also be treated with scepticism. There are unfortunately too few of these courageous people, the student would otherwise follow. They would follow like a mob of sheep; something they do these days anyway. The professors are the taskmasters – also in regards to atheism. Puberty, inner stress and discontentment trigger a sense of rebellion and this is why they like to revolt, revolt against religion also.

Properly guided, students could do a lot in regards to progress. They are the future of nations. They should accept and administer the inheritance of this world. One can no longer imagine this world without the sciences. But psycho-science belongs in universities! It is an imperative part of the fundamental sciences.

Question : Why is atheism in particular so pronounced amongst students?

ELIAS : Once students at universities have learned something, they immediately think that they are smarter than everybody else. They will then no longer listen to a non-academic. Students then basically only accept indoctrinations from professors, but never again from other people. These teachers have the opportunity to correctly guide not just students – but youth in general. But they must also be good archetypes!

The sciences assume that highly developed cultures existed on Earth a long time ago, but that they perished. Is this really true?

ELIAS : Yes, that's correct.

- But highly developed cultures that could be compared to your civilisation never existed before. There has also never been a nuclear age on Earth either.

But ancient cultures and civilisation knew a lot of magic secrets that are still unknown to you.

Question : One assumes that life must also exist on other planets. But the sciences place a constrained in regards to intelligent life. One is not quite prepared to believe that other human beings could live on other planets. What do you say to that?

ELIAS : All human beings throughout the universe have like you, two legs, two arms, one head, two eyes, five fingers on each hand etc. There are no differences.

Question : There is a lot of talk about inherited character traits. Does such an inheritance exist?

ELIAS : Souls display a certain development that has nothing to do with inheritance. Human beings do however inherit all physical advantages and disadvantages. They do inherit certain inclinations and talents of character from their ancestors. These can be positive or negative. This is something they have to deal with. They can however decide the path they want to take themselves. These inclinations do not coerce, they only make them inclined to do something.

- But when people show a strong interest in specific epochs in time, it is usually based on remembrances of a specific past life. Talents can also stem from past incarnations. An interest in races, countries and their characteristics can also be in connection with various incarnations. There are a lot of subconscious elements from past lives.

Every one of you developed via the level of Neanderthal man. Each one of you helped to shape the world as it is today. Every one of you will in future find it the way you moulded it today and the way you prepared it for the future.

June 1968

Question : The sciences still hold the opinion that thoughts are produced within the brain. What can you tell us about this?

ARGUN : As I have always told you, the brain is a relay, but not a producer of thoughts.

- Thoughts are produced by the soul.
- The soul is however like your physical body.
- But all memories, respectively all thoughts – in as far as they are of importance – are located in the cosmos and they are stored there for an unimaginably long time. The soul can always detect and perceive these memories. The reception of these memories are controlled by one's will, respectively by one's wishes.

Question : It happens at times that one wishes to remember something, but there is no result. Why is this so?

ARGUN : If this is the case, the reception is blocked by other thoughts. I do mean by your own thoughts.

Objection : The sciences have still not been able to verify that thoughts are produced by the brain, but they assume that it does so just the same.

ARGUN : The brain has of course various functions. The brain can however adopt various functions of the soul. The brain returns these functions to the soul after one's demise.

Question : There have been cases where people have been mentally active just before their demise, even though a destroyed brain was discovered after. How can this be explained?

ARGUN : When a certain part of the brain is destroyed, the soul can under certain circumstances correspond via a different cord within the brain. The sciences hold the opinion that another part of the brain takes control, but if the brain is completely destroyed it naturally follows that the soul worked completely independently.

A hint for the participants assembled here: It is imperative that the participants concentrate on the theme and not think of other things, our contact will otherwise be made more difficult. We must achieve a lot and this is only possible through concentrated work!

Question : Do cells receive information from the genes during their construction, respectively from the inherited basis?

ELIAS : An organic cell has a similar character to a blank tape: It has the ability to record.

- The INFORMATION is imparted by the realm of the spirit. This is how the cell is being programmed. Based on this INFORMATION, the cell has the ability to multiply itself a million times.

Question : Does all this INFORMATION come from you or directly from GOD?

ELIAS : It comes directly from GOD, because the whole universe emerges from GOD'S COMMAND and WISHFUL THINKING. This divine COMMAND with all its details is mimeographed. An unimaginable number of INSTRUMENTS take care of its correct application and dissemination.

- However, negative INFORMATION also exists that interferingly intermediates; deformities can then occur that are not intended.

GOD'S PLAN can naturally being attacked. Such attacks can even come from terrestrial human beings.

Question : One unfortunately has to ascertain over again that the logic of the broader masses is absolutely below par. How do you see this problem?

ELIAS : Their conservative, materialistic thought processes turn into dogmas for most people. This hinders them from entertaining free and progressive thought processes. This attitude prevents them from being carried beyond the tracks of their imagination.

Question : Can one actually speak about logic when what's put forwards is directed against GOD?

ELIAS : You have put this very succinctly!

- The human existence alone verifies in every possible way that GOD exists!

When an atheist attacks you by telling you that there is no GOD, turn away from him by answering him: "You don't exist for me either, because if GOD doesn't exist, you cannot be here either, because it is impossible or prove to me otherwise."

- But if something would exist purely by chance without GOD, it would also be without meaning, that is to say, only utter chaos.

People unfortunately lack humility. They are too autocratic, because they would otherwise never ever entertain the illogical thought that there is no GOD that one would have to be grateful for anything.

September 1968

Question : Is the music of the twelve-tone row a progression of one's musical creative powers?

AREDOS : There are only two concepts in the realm of the spirit in regards to artistic music, namely the laws of harmony and the laws of disharmony. What keys find utilisation is inconsequential. There are also no norms for instruments. It all depends on what one wants to express. But there must be strict laws between harmony and disharmony. To mix them together botches the whole thing. Harmony is measured by the scale of emotions of human feelings. Harmony creates joy. – The popular disharmonious music that is much too stereotyped, creates discomfort and it makes people uneasy. The effect is damaging the nerves.

Question : A female student recently asked this question during a discussion: “How can something abstract actually survive?” – What do you say to that?

ELIAS : One would possibly have to rate anti-matter as something abstract, even though it is as concrete as everything terrestrial in spite of this. Seen from an anti-matter perspective, you are also anti-matter.

Question : So what is abstract in your opinion?

ELIAS : Really abstract are only concepts like: Love, faithfulness, hatred and humility. The realm of the spirit is an absolutely real world and it is everything but abstract. A soul can never die, because like GOD, it is immortal. The soul developed over eons and it will continue to live for eons. The soul does however have a tight connection to the ASTRAL BODY that is connected to the physical body.

- The soul continues to adhere to the ASTRAL BODY after its disembodiment.

Question : How should one have answered this female student?

ELIAS : Such people are negatively handicapped because universities display a predominantly atheistic attitude. The things a non-academic tells students are simply rejected as nonsense.

- The whole world would look differently if universities would teach a reasonable theism.

The detailed knowledge pounded into students sets boundaries for them and to cross them is frowned upon. There are however mavericks amongst them that dare to contemplate such things further; they actually guarantee progress.

Question : We found that the dreadful boundaries set by universities all over the world prevent any objective progress. Do you share this opinion?

ELIAS : Yes, I unfortunately have to say so. This dreadful boundary represents a dangerous fetter we call “Dialectic”.

- Everything can be talked out of existence with the help of dialectic, whereby everything just goes round and round. This standstill is unfortunately not being noticed.

Objection : The truth will remain hidden for a long time if universities continue to pursue such a course.

ELIAS : There are some amongst the scientists that do not shut their minds in regards to the truth and think ahead. Most scientists show – even though they seek the truth – a negative attitude towards the truth. But scientists will find the truth and once they have found it, they will find it difficult to comprehend.

- Those that are not interested in divine insights will have to accept it and it will be a bitter pill for them to swallow.

The truth takes a lot of time to be understood. Your endeavours have after all achieved more than you imagine. A lot of pundits deal with them, however only in private and secretly.

Question : In a new brochure titled: “Sputnik”, April 1968 issue, Booklet 1, we find a treatise about extraterrestrial spaceships. This treatise ascribes the LEGISLATION received on Mount Sinai to the SANTINER. The Star of Bethlehem is explained as a UFO. Where did the Russians receive these important explanations from?

ELIAS : A large portion of it stems from this circle. Inspiration however also plays a role. Russian scientists will naturally never say where they got their information from. We have a situation here where one actually endeavours to think outside the box. The most important explanations were taken from your UFO brochures.

Question : The sciences undertake very daring experiments with radiation these days. Can the immortal ASTRAL BODY of a human being be damaged through these experiments?

ELIAS : The ASTRAL BODY is indeed immortal and can therefore never be destroyed. But the possibility exists that an ASTRAL BODY can be affected by radiation experiments, electricity or a nuclear explosion. It is however only a question of time before the ASTRAL BODY is remedied again.

December 1968

Question : Were the sciences successful in regards to finding the key to unlock the information from cells?

ELIAS : Yes, they discovered such a key for DNA, but not the ORIGINAL FACTOR behind the INFORMATION from cells.

Question : Scientist only ever talk about “Mother Nature”. They shy away from using the word “GOD”. The rest of mankind imitates this behaviour, this terrible example. What do you say to that?

ELIAS : The spirit rates higher than physical matter – and what the sciences call “Mother Nature” is in fact physical. We are always dealing with physical functions.

- But nothing makes sense without SPIRIT INFORMATION. Your sciences can indeed change a code, but it cannot create a completely new code. Only GOD can.

Question : Our world has turned into an utter chaos due to false guidelines. For how much longer will this situation continue?

ELIAS : A so-called “dawn” is already rising. Scientific circles are prepared to assume that not only the Earth, but the rest of the universe might be populated by intelligent creatures. Not all solar systems, but lots of them. Thereby begin cosmic thought processes that are so important for further development. The sciences are led to the eminent truth through the back door as it were by modern research. The voices of the blasphemers will then gradually fall silent.

Objection : Because of their numerous experiences, the sciences would actually have to discover the truth already.

ELIAS : When the sciences have the truth tangibly in front of their eyes, scientists must either have a grain of sand in their eyes or they look in the wrong direction. But in spite of this: Veritas vincit (Truth wins).

Question : One holds the opinion these days that natural disasters have always raged. In other words, that it has nothing to do with the mistakes people make when such a natural disaster eventuates. What’s your opinion of this?

ELIAS : Such types of catastrophes have indeed always eventuated, but they could have actually abated more and more and they could be happening on a smaller scale if man had not interfered and created a “constant stream” of such natural disasters in the process. Nobody wants to admit this. Terrible times reigned thousands of years ago in this respect, but a lot of the recent major catastrophes are due to nuclear tests.

March 1969

Question : Subterranean nuclear tests are still being conducted. Does one not realise what one causes with them?

ELIAS : Subterranean nuclear tests are also a crime against planet Earth.

- Regions prone to earthquakes are afflicted by catastrophes first. One is aware of it, but one continues on regardless! This exposes their ungodliness. There is no respect for Mother Nature.

Subterranean fissures develop and they propagate further. Subterranean lava flows gain a different direction. Subterranean forces of enormous proportions are thereby shifted. Locations where the Earth’s crust is unstable are being shocked by the enormous pressure. This has produced numerous catastrophes. Its akin to a subterranean war waged against mankind. The scientists do indeed have models they are guided by, but these models do not always react like the Earth. Even after one has come to an agreement to cease all nuclear tests in the atmosphere, subterranean tests still have people jump from the frying pan into the fire. One artificially promotes a calamity there, where the Earth's crust has a weak point.

Objection : Geologists are surely able to determine through echo-location where such lava streams flow under the surface. They must be able to ascertain where these streams spread and change their course.

ELIAS : Yes, electric measurement are being taken, but this methodology is rather inaccurate, because electric impulses do not concentrate in one direction, they scatter.

July 1969

Question : There are a lot of religious denominations and some of them fight with one another. But there can only be one truth! This is the reason why mistrust arises, also against Spiritualism, because it is also seen as a superstition. What do you say to that?

ELIAS : Yes, this is true, but neither the Churches nor the overnments of the major nations hold the power these days. The absolute power and responsibility is in the hands of the sciences. If they were to admit that GOD lives and that his creation exists eternally, all religious persuasions would gradually accept this.

- All the different religions will continue for as long as the sciences take an atheistic stance. Wars are also connected to this situation.

A healthy dose of common sense and the inherent gift to be critical, people were endowed with for a reason, should actually preserve them from atheism.

Question : Is it possible to approach scientists through inspiration?

ELIAS : Institutes for parapsychology are the forerunners for such a development.

Question : Is there another possibility to turn the sciences away from atheism?

ELIAS : No, the sciences have the GENUINE KEY already in their hands. You must not forget that institutes for parapsychology are a part of universities. But whether their existing position is actually still tenable is already very much in doubt.

Question : What can we do to help?

ELIAS : Proceed as you have. You have absolutely participated in shaking the view of the world of this mankind. You are presently unable to foresee the consequences. You have encouraged technicians and engineers, well even theologians and politicians, at least some of them, to think cosmically. There are clear cut indications in lots of publications that your scripts have left their mark. In the meantime, almost all astronomers on Earth begin to accept the theory of the big bang that produced the universe.

Comment: This explanation was published by us 10 years ago.

It is equally correct that the Earth had visitors from space times immemorial ago. A lot of scientists already discuss whether man origin is in space, respectively whether human beings were brought to Earth via spaceships from another planet. This naturally brings an end to the idea that we descended from apes and the story of Adam and Eve. But even this question still leaves a second question open: If human beings did not develop on Earth, how did they develop on another planet? – The answer would have to be: They also arrived there from another planet! At least a more appealing version than the one from Darwin.

Comment: The SANTINER told us that there were no apes on their planet.

Question : We assume that the sciences publicly admit too little and that they already know more. Are our assumptions correct?

ELIAS : The sciences very carefully selects the things they want disseminated over radio, the press and television. Everything that could change the existing order, or disorder if you like, is being kept secret if at all possible.

Objection: The three astronauts that circled the Moon would surely have to have changed the way they think.

ELIAS : And how! They saw planet Earth from a great distance. They saw their home planet – “good old Mother Earth”. But they saw no borders and restrictions, only one unified planet. This gave them a feeling of pride and humility. This gave them a very specific and special sense of nostalgia, not for their own country, their nation, but for good old Mother Earth. This is why we regard the achieved results as absolutely positive. We will only be concerned if these journeys are strategically abused. A cosmic alliance between the Soviet Union and the United States of North-America will soon eventuate in spite of this.

Objection: This is surely opposed by the contrast capitalism represents.

ELIAS : This contrast disappears more and more. The great interests shown by both nations and the huge cost involved will gradually abrogate such differences.

August 1969

Question : Very controversial discussions are still taking place in regards to whether human beings descended from apes or not. What has the realm of the spirit to say about this?

ELIAS : When one looks at the development of human beings one finds that not only apes are involved, but almost all animal species. Divine creation gained experience that eventually benefitted human beings through a myriad of experiments and attempts. But the creation of human beings is based on a very systematic development.

- Besides, human beings are not just terrestrial beings, but also cosmic, meaning that their species is represented on many other planets.

There are so many different ape species that I would like to ask scientists from which of these ape species do people descend from? Something that was once possible always sets a precedent or it is completely eradicated.

- Human beings can never cross-breed with apes, this is utterly impossible.

Certain similarities bear no importance, they do not turn apes into human beings and they never will. The ape theory is the topic conversation for atheist who deny GOD'S existence. But a spark of GOD is present within all animals.

- A parrot can utter human words and other vertebral mammals have a heart, stomach, kidneys and a lot of other characteristics human beings also possess.
- Human beings procreate at any time of year and thereby differs from a lot of animals.
- No animals can grasp creation or make observations about it. The universe was created for human beings. Human beings can contemplate it!

If human beings had developed into highly intelligent beings from apes, it should also be possible for them to develop back into apes. All of this is nonsense!

Question : Is there a danger that astronauts can suffer damage to their brains because of radiation?

ELIAS : Astronauts are protected against radiation. Their thought processes are therefore not impaired. But the supply of water and oxygen can impair the brain. The thought processes of human beings are COSMIC and not without mistakes. In contrast to computers, human beings are planners. A machine only works technically, mechanically, respectively electronically. It replaces and compliments specific human thought processes where mistakes can easily be made. The machine represents an enormous aid to people. But there is still a certain danger inherent within it, because a single mistake in the construction or the wrong programming might not be recognised by a computer and it is then incessantly repeated over again. Human beings are superior in this respect, because in spite of their imperfections they recognise where mistake are made. They correct things and are therefore far superior to any machine. Human beings think ahead, machines only carry out commands.

Question : During the launch of the rocket to the Moon, the SANTINER would have had an excellent opportunity to show themselves with an impressive flight of a UFO. Why didn't they do this or at least do something similar?

ELIAS : The supreme commanders of the UFO flotilla know exactly what they do. They think ahead and know the consequences they would be dealing with. Terrestrial human beings usually don't know this.

What AREDOS tells us

September 1969

Question : How does the realm of the spirit assess the landing of terrestrial human beings on the Moon?

AREDOS : We are undoubtedly dealing with a grand pioneering effort. Nobody can imagine the things that these astronauts were actually asked to do. But you have to know that the success of this undertaking was supported by millions and more millions of prayers. These prayers gave the astronauts their endurance, thrust and energy. It represents an important step towards space, respectively the universe. You have to remember that compared to the SANTINER, this undertaking was carried out with incomparably primitive means. Apart from using rocket propulsion, you have no other means available. This must be given specific attention to, because it was a miracle of technology, science and precision. Terrestrial mankind took one step closer towards the possibility of an encounter with extraterrestrials. But the inhumanity of lots of wars still reigns supremely with you.

Objection : Landing on the Moon was a prestigious result for the USA in its battle for supremacy over the Soviet Union.

AREDOS : No, I hold a completely different opinion. Their success does neither mean prestige nor loss of prestige for America or Russia. On the contrary! Besides the technological and scientifically brilliant performance, we are dealing with the greatest disgrace that was ever witnessed.

Question : What are we to make of this?

AREDOS : Absolute billions were invested in the Apollo mission. Thousands of excellent technicians and scientists were involved. Endeavours were undertaken the like no other field of knowledge has ever seen. A whole world concentrated with eager expectation on this endeavour. Nobody can imagine the efforts and care, the planning and the foresight it took to accomplish this. If the launch had taken place from a peaceful Earth, the whole thing would have been a grandiose success. But the launch and alighting on the Moon was unfortunately accomplished by a human race that mutually and unequally hates and fights each other.

- These astronauts did not go there in peace, but as representatives of an ignorant world that has sufficient means at its disposal to destroy the whole world. This success hides thoughts and plans that are by no means peaceful.

Mankind however verified that it is capable of great feats of pioneering. One could carry out the same kind of positive pioneering act with the same efforts, the same courage, the same science and technology and with the same computers, namely the fight against social misery, the removal of all animosities amongst nations, the disarmament of sinister weapons, rendering bacterial and poisonous gases harmless and lots more. Landing on the Moon verified that mankind can remedy these dismal conditions, if only a positive will was there. But the USA and the Soviets prefer to set foot on a dead piece of rock; both of these nations directed their enormous efforts on one goal, one that stands way down the list of things to do on Earth.

- This unprecedented ignorance in regards to the human existence blinds all logic and allows the aspiration of false goals.

Questions and answers

October 1969

Question : Astronauts have in the meantime set foot on the Moon, but how the Moon came into being still remains a mystery. Is there an explanation for this?

ELIAS : Scientists have ascertained that the Moon is older than the Earth. One also knows that one will set foot on other planets also. That it is only a matter of time.

Question : If it is correct that the Moon is older than the Earth, it would contradict the idea that original creation was the result of a cosmic explosion. What do you say to this?

ELIAS : New stars are born and other stars die. This certainly doesn't contradict the explosive act of creation, because it hasn't been completed by a long shot. Original creation spans across eons of time. You must imagine this cosmic explosion like a rocket that blows up in space, ergo a giant fireworks.

- Individual spheres are initially strewn about and they then burst. This is how whole galaxies come into being. Just imagining this infinite largeness must make your heads spin.

Question : Certain measuring processes are used to measure long periods of time, so for instance radioactive decay. These measurements are used to determine periods of time of millions of years. Do such measurements have real value?

ELIAS : They might be roughly correct in regards to certain periods of time, but the reliability diminishes when millions of years are involved. I don't regard measurements of many millions of years all that important. There are lots of other insights waiting for you.

Question : Did the astronauts see UFOS?

ELIAS : Apollo 8 photographed a spaceship. But as this picture doesn't show clear outlines, one doesn't quite know what to do with light effect in the photo.

Question : Scientists ascertained that the asteroid belt split apart. One regards this as an indication that new heavenly bodies are created in this way. Is this correct?

ELIAS : That physical matter knits together with other matter due to their respective mass is correct. But no planets are created in this manner, because these heavenly bodies do not possess an inner fire and can therefore not produce life.

This process is according to the divine LAW of ORDER. Based on this LAW, new heavenly bodies adopt an orbit around a larger heavenly body.

Question : Where are the worlds of anti-matter in relation to our physical universe?

AREDOS : The physical world penetrates the world of anti-matter and vice versa. Both worlds occupy the same space.

Question : Is the process of dematerialisation independent from the reversal of polarity to anti-matter?

AREDOS : Dematerialisation is a process that differs from anti-matter.

- A dematerialisation is a process where atoms move away from one another, whilst a reversal of polarity to anti-matter is an electromagnetic process.

This major insight within the natural sciences would also be accessible to you, if there wasn't the danger that you would abuse this possibility.

The exploration of the realm of the spirit

November 1969

Not too many years ago the sciences regarded the transference of thoughts (telepathy) impossible. Telepathy is nowadays acknowledged due to exact scientific evidence. But this extraordinary insight is unfortunately immediately abused. A lot of spiritual phenomena are explained as telepathy, even though they have nothing to do with it. The reconnaissance of spiritual processes is unfortunately very difficult, because it requires the kind of comprehensive literature no financial means are available for. The support fund for the sciences is not large enough to also include the occult. Besides, private research is not being supported at all by the sciences.

There is a great many things to say about telepathy. We are dealing with very complicated and deceptive processes and they take place in the sector of the spirit.

- All human beings are psychic in regards to telepathy – without exceptions. This transference happens in most cases completely unconscious so that it gives the impression that one is dealing with one's own production of thoughts.

To assume that thoughts emanate from the brain is a great mistake. On the contrary – the cosmic spirit emanate the thoughts into the brain, ergo conversely. We are already seeing a deception here. When one captures thought waves electrically one is not dealing with thought concepts, but with electrical impulses the brain emits when it is excited. It is nothing more than a secondary effect. The PRIMARY cannot be measured with today's available instruments. Telepathy is a characteristic, respectively an activity of the spirit and this is why it isn't just limited to incarnated human beings.

- Telepathy is the original cosmic language, that is to say, the way the whole universe communicates.

When assessing thought activities one has to distinguish between electrical and mental IMPULSES. The thoughts of the soul do indeed run through the brain where they are captured and send on their way again, but this doesn't change their cosmic character.

- Due to the fact that thoughts are not restricted to terrestrial human beings, the association of thoughts also exists between spirits in the hereafter and people who live on Earth. This happens on an unconscious level most of the time, but there are cases where this connection takes place on a completely conscious level.

Inspiration is also a part of these mental connections. A genuine inspiration is always an appeal, respectively the co-operation of a spirit being that dialled in on the THOUGHT FREQUENCY of the receiver. This is the reason why Japanese Spiritualism calls otherworldly spirit beings otherworldly thought bearers. Research into telepathy is unfortunately still in its infancy. One is only aware of very little. But this field belongs to the most important natural sciences that directly concern human beings.

- The mental derangement a lot of people suffer from is completely misdiagnosed by psychiatrists most of the time, because they lack the correct knowledge in this respect; this knowledge has not been taught at any university on Earth up to now.

The leader of the Psycho-scientific Research Community has enormous personal experience in this specific field. We will report about this more elaborately in the next booklets. Mankind unfortunately has no inkling about the degree it is influenced and controlled by invisible POWERS.

Questions and answers

December 1969

Question : A very large painting has been hung outside the “Europa Centre” building that depict human suffering. The horridness of this picture is heavily criticised. What is your opinion to this?

ELIAS : I have seen it. The guilty party of such an atrocity isn’t necessarily the painter alone, but those that are responsible for propagating such works by encouraging a lot of other painters that might be of good will, to come up with even worse horridness’s.

If only sensible paintings were accepted it would provide an impetus to paint better paintings. A lot of painters would enthusiastically endeavour to paint far better paintings. But one prevents the positive. – If artists would concentrate on the positive, they would have the full support of the WORLD of the SPIRIT. All this beauty would make this world a richer place and new and more beautiful ways to express oneself would be found just the same.

The painter’s motive was certainly a positive one. He wanted to draw mankind’s attention to the misery of this world in his own way. He was however aware that if he were to express this in a natural fashion, he would not find favour with anyone. One would have dismissed such a painting as “non-artistic”.

In spite of all this misery on Earth, I ask you to not despair, because you have to know that a lot of spiritual insights have already taken hold. COSMIC THOUGHTS naturally require an onset. But a start has already been made.

The exploration of the realm of the spirit

December 1969

Telepathy is the transference of thoughts from one human to another human, ergo an activity of thoughts. To assume that thought activities come to an end with one's demise is a great mistake. There would be no inspiration, no possession and no support from a GUARDIAN ANGEL if this was the case. There are also people in the hereafter and like the people that live on Earth, they can also exchange their thoughts. This is the reason why Japanese Spiritualists call those in the hereafter THOUGHT BEARERS.

The difficulty with the transference of thoughts consist in sensing whether one is dealing with one's own production of thoughts or whether it is an external influence. This exchange of thoughts is not duly differentiated in most cases due to a lack of practise. External influence (Inspiration) is erroneously also regarded as one's own production of thoughts. It would be a fine thing if the sciences would better acknowledge this fact. In order to better explain this difficulty with telepathy to terrestrial people, the circle's leader was asked, because he constantly experienced this himself:

"My indoctrination took place telepathically. For about three month during the summer I was woken up by an INVISIBLE HAND every morning at around 3 am. My body was properly shaken until I was wide awake. I then heard a spiritual (not acoustic) VOICE that I could understand very well word for word. I immediately recognised that this VOICE was from an external source. This VOICE said to me:

- 'Take care, your lessons are continuing. You are at a kind of university of GOD. What is about to happen is not just for your own indoctrination, but dedicated to all human beings.'

I was then asked a question that I had to answer immediately. I made an effort to find an answer. The VOICE said to me:

- The answer was correct, but it wasn't from you, it was telepathically, respectively suggestively transferred to you.'

Another question followed and I once again gave an answer. But the VOICE said:

- The answer was very good, but only half of it stems from you. I gave you support and I assisted you with the answer (inspiration).'

These exercises repeated themselves day after day and they always ended exactly at 6 am. – At other times I was asked questions again. They were mostly philosophical questions. I answered as before, but only after I had given them considerable attention. I gave the answer also in my mind, but I noticed that I was immediately and very clearly understood, faster than I assumed. My spirit TEACHER then answered:

- You found the answer all by yourself this time. I didn't help you. I thank you for the good answer.'"

We can see from this example just how much we are in telepathic contact with the WORLD of the SPIRIT. With some training I was able to distinctly differentiate between the otherworldly VOICE and my own thoughts. But these are exceptions. The teamwork between the WORLD of the SPIRIT and the world of the here and now usually happens on a completely subconscious level in most cases. At least 50% of our problematic decisions are based on this teamwork. The connotation of "inspiration" is nowadays completely falsely interpreted. A genuine inspiration constitutes HELP, respectively CO-OPERATION. But such CO-OPERATION can also be very negative!

Questions and answers

January 1970

Question : Our sciences recognise limits to velocities. Do velocities exist in space that do not coincide with our present insights?

ELIAS : One can certainly say so! The speed of thoughts for instance:

- A thought can travel from one solar system to another without actually being comparable to any concept of time.
- The SANTINER travel in their spaceships at velocities you would consider impossible.

March 1970

Question : The sciences want nothing to do with magic. Is such an attitude not downright un-scientific?

AREDOS: One could certainly say so. There is more to magic than one assumes. Your sciences constantly deal with magic. Hypnosis and suggestion are also a part of it. I could list hundreds of such examples.

- It seems to be rather the case that a lot of scientists are afraid of Occultism and Spiritualism.

Extraterrestrial people can thank magic for a lot of their great discoveries and inventions. Their spaceships also use the LAWS of MAGIC. Magic is certainly not something unnatural, it also has its legalities, but they are however beyond those that apply to physical matter. These LAWS can however exert a strong influence on physical matter. Its ENERGIES are very considerable!

April 1970

Question : The sciences deal intensively with the hereditary factors of human beings. Will this research lead to the result that one will recognise the immortality of the soul?

ELIAS : All this research has something positive about it. The DNA factors that determine the heritage are however only responsible for the information of the body. The soul is excluded from this. What is of importance is the information within the DNA. But all information requires an INFORMER, one that gives the information. Without an INFORMER, DNA would be akin to an empty tape or a film that hasn't been exposed.

Your scientists have not yet grasped the fact that this information comes from the realm of the spirit. The whole universe emerged from GOD'S COMMANDS and WISHFUL THOUGHTS. This is the actual difference between GOD and human beings, namely that GOD can do something that human beings can never achieve, ergo create something from nothing. A divine COMMAND is mimeographed with all its details and everything builds from that.

- But duplications can also arise from negative COMMANDS. This is for instance the case with cancers. Cancer is a mutation illness, but other mutations can also be traced back to this.

May 1970

Question : We still have scientists that strongly support the theory that human beings descended from apes. What do you make of this?

ELIAS : For human beings to compare themselves to animals is completely wrong. An animal species will never be able to develop the kind of intelligence human beings possess.

Question : Does this doctrine have anything to do with the question of race?

ELIAS : Absolutely. A lot of people assume that the coloured races are closer related to the animal kingdom than Caucasian people. A dangerous form of discrimination results from this.

June 1970

Question : We know from you that consciousness is cosmic. Is the brain substantially involved in the thought process?

ARGUN : An interrelationship between the brain and soul exists for as long as the human soul is connected to the physical body. The brain naturally adopts a lot of functions, but they are returned to the soul again after one's demise. The head is the most important part of a human being. Feeble-minded people suffer from brain shrinkage.

- But alcohol can also change the brain to a degree where it can no longer function properly. One's logic is particularly affected by it.

Logic is indeed a divine function within man's consciousness. Those that damage this logic through alcohol or nicotine – actually through any other intoxicants – commit a sin against divine logic.

July 1970

Question : It was also emphasised on television that human beings could possibly descend from apes. What do you say to that?

AREDOS : All of fauna and flora made the human design possible. Human beings naturally also change. But nobody should entertain the thought that they are related to apes. If we are talking about similarities human beings could just as easily stem from parrots, because it is well-known that they can learn to talk.

Human beings possess a mind that cannot be compared to any animal. Besides, a human being is – like some animals also – a cosmic being.

- There are lots of planets where human beings live, but no apes.

Not all of you will comprehend it when I tell you that apes, in all their different mutations and species, represent experiments by the negative creator. He was certainly not successful in copying human beings correctly.

- The cross-breeding between a human being and an animal has never been implemented. If this had happened only the once, the universe's developmental history would have been arrested and it would have repeated itself over and over again.

We are aware that the sciences avoid the DIVINE the way a cat sneaks around the bush.

October 1970

Question : Can you tell us something about the genesis of human beings on Earth?

ARGUN : Human beings certainly do not descend from apes. – Organised creatures have existed for about 1.5 million years. – Man with a human soul has existed for about 800,000 years. Human-like creatures however existed before, but they were not endowed with a human soul.

January 1971

Question : A telephone was developed in Austria that can receive VOICES from the realm of the spirit. There is still a limited selectivity, but one believes that this blemish can be removed. What do you make of this invention?

ELIAS : A lot of experiments were undertaken and numerous apparatuses were built in this field, but these terrestrial apparatuses were not adaptable to otherworldly FREQUENCIES. The transmission principle is entirely different. The AMOUNT of ENERGY is unimaginably small, but constant in regards to any distance. The velocity can be zero or infinite.

The whole thing is similar to a type of telepathy the SANTINER developed. The apparatus does indeed not produce thoughts, but they are transmitted onwards and made audible. A laser beam plays a major role. Thoughts are the fastest.

- A humble attitude is naturally required so that this apparatus is not used for the wrong purposes, because it is in contact with the HEAVENLY SPHERES and with HELL.

March 1971

Here is an account of a message from the realm of the spirit that was published in 1959. It now offers an opportunity to make comparisons.

Question : Does the far side of the Moon look similar to the side that is turned towards us?

ARGUN : Yes, the far side of the Moon also has craters.

Question : Are the differences in temperatures between night and day really that extreme?

ARGUN : Yes, the sciences are correct there also.

Objection : There are psychic presentations that tell a different story.

ARGUN : These transcripts were neither cross-checked nor verified by another medium. Woe to fanatics! Everything must be tested! Everything that comes from or comes via terrestrial human beings is subject to the deficiencies and inadequateness of this human race. This is due to the stage of development this planet is in.

Question : Why do a lot of scientists reject the idea of human life on other planets and therefore do not believe that we could be visited by other human beings?

AREDOS : Besides the problem of the speed spaceships would have to travel at, Darwinism also plays a major role.

- Darwin came up with a theory and the sciences turned it into a doctrine.

This is why they are solidly convinced that human beings descended from apes through a lot of mutations. Human beings are therefore creatures that solely exist on this Earth. If this was the case, no human beings could exist anywhere else in the universe. No extraterrestrial human beings could therefore exist that could visit us. This is the reason why extraterrestrials are described and depicted as monsters.

Question : The sciences took all our numerous similarities with apes into consideration. Can one actually apply these similarities and arrive at such a finding?

AREDOS : The sciences contradict themselves over again. An example: A very eminent scientist, one that also gives lots of lectures on your television, said that he didn't deny that intelligent human beings could exist on planets in other star systems, but that the distances involved were too great for them to reach us. The same scientist simultaneously promotes the theory that we descended from apes, a theory he considers to be absolutely correct. – This a huge contradiction, one a serious scientist should never make, because these distant human beings on other planets would also have to have descended from apes. We consider this scientific theory just too apish. Where does the respect for creation remain?

The exploration of the realm of the spirit

June 1971

We reported about experiments some time ago, namely that one had undertaken experiments with a technical apparatus. This Psychophon, a kind of radio receiver that can be coupled to a tape recorder, brings loud VOICES from the hereafter via a simple microphone recording.

We initially took a reserved stance because we know the hype that surround such experiments. We heard from Austria in the meantime that this invention is being further optimised. A number of telephone calls indicated to us that a lot of interest is shown in this Psychophon. Technology imposes now itself on psycho-science and verifies something that has been known for millennia, something it was not prepared to admit.

This VOICE RESEARCH has already received a name, namely: Imago Mundi. The congress Imago Mundi took place in Puchberg near Wels. Experts within the field of psycho-science lectured at the congress, amongst others a Dr. Peter Rohner, Munich – Dean and Professor Josef Kolb, Innsbruck – Professor Dr. Resch, - Professor Dr. Sven Krohn, University Turku – and Professor Dr. Jörg Klima, University Innsbruck. It was ascertained that supernatural VOICES had already been captured and registered by the thousands. But a boisterous battle ensued about the origin of these hereto unidentified VOICES that manifested themselves in whole groups most of the time. The objection was raised that one might possibly be dealing with voices of interplanetarians that were recorded on tape by coincidence. This was however countered by the ascertainment that these strange VOICES actually answered questions put by the participants.

A highly sensitive apparatus has now tried to research something that we have already done via a medium and our contact seems to be still far better at this point in time. But the results are gratifying just the same. Technology will furnish the evidence that can then no longer be talked out of existence, even if its quality isn't as good as psychic results. Any further development has every chance of showing that the Soviet Russian Dialectic Materialism is absurd. This is a blow to the politics of all nations, one that couldn't be more severe.

A lot of famous scientists of various directions, physicists, electronics technicians and psychologists amongst them, have examined and tested these voices with all available means, there are supposed to be more than 80,000 recordings of them. The result of their analysis was that this phenomenon was of a completely objective origin.

What did Professor Dr. Bender have to say about it?

“This phenomenon is so meaningful that it can be placed on par with the science of nuclear energy.”

Even though almost all scientists are convinced that this momentous phenomenon can only be explained spiritually, Professor Hans Bender warns of coming to conclusions too early. (What else could he do?) He was probably not too pleased to see his own strange analysis now finally refuted with the help of technology. But in order to avoid any difficulties one doesn't come out and say that one is dealing with VOICES from the WORLD of the SPIRIT, but that the “voices are of unknown origin”.

- The time has come for the sciences and technology to pay attention to a REALM that has always existed and that represents the original home of the human race.

Questions and answers

August 1971

Question : The last three Soviet cosmonauts arrive back on Earth dead. Can you tell us what they died of?

ELIAS : This was due to the system of their spaceship. The American system isn't all that reliable either. The Russians will naturally not admit that the system was at fault. The entrance of the spaceship into the Earth's atmosphere was momentarily too fast. This moment however sufficed to increase their weight tenfold. Their hearts failed.

Question : Do the Russians know that this was the cause?

ELIAS : No, they have a different explanation for it. They believe that the oxygen supply was defective.

Question : Are subterranean nuclear tests also dangerous for mankind?

ELIAS : Yes, they can produce earthquakes. Negative radiation can also escape to the surface through fissures in the Earth's crust. The purpose of these tests doesn't even have a strategic nature.

Question : So what is the reason for them?

ELIAS : One tries to find out whether it is possible to create shafts and tunnels at ultra-depths. This would enable them to build and excavate faster.

Question : Is one trying to get at natural gas in this way?

ELIAS : One should rather leave this alone, because a certain internal pressure must remain inside the Earth. Everything is there for a reason!

September 1971

The exploration of the WORLD of the SPIRIT

A lot of scientists held the opinion up to now that the exploration of the WORLD of the SPIRIT is unimportant, because it allegedly has nothing to do with our world. This attitude led to a situation where one completely discarded the idea of a hereafter.

But further research into invisible energies and rays have considerably changed this point of view. The unmeasurable and invisible no longer seems so abstract or even impossible these days. The exploration of the WORLD of the SPIRIT isn't just an interesting hobby, but a science of extraordinary importance.

This difficult research is unfortunately not correctly understood by the layman. This is understandable, because the layman isn't familiar with the basic rules. If we ask average citizens about their understanding in regards to physics and chemistry, respectively which basic rules they are aware of, we do not receive correct answers; they will look at us with a blank expression on their faces. We have the same situation with Spiritualism which is very closely related to magic.

The Churches have also been unable to give an answer. On the contrary – they are afraid of this science. The brethren of the Church still cannot (want not) comprehend Spiritualism. They regard it – something that has been insinuated to them – as a devils cult.

The main task of researching the hereafter consist in making it clear to academic science just how enormously important parapsychology is to human beings. Mankind requires good archetypes and good pedagogues. These are hard to find on Earth, but they can be found in the realm of the spirit. We have to look for them and then make contact with them so that we can gain their LOVE and their FRIENDSHIP. We have done this and the success is enormous.

- It must also be possible for others to achieve the things that we achieved. The way they handled things must have been wrong, if this hasn't been the case up to now.

Lots of reports from other circles land on our desk. Shivers sometimes run down our spines when we read them. The way mediums and circle participants are taken for a ride by sophisticated means is incredible. What particularly stands out is a graving for recognition, well it's more of a validity delusion. The pathological pompousness of these people is utilised by negative beings from the hereafter. Instead of genuine doctrines, they are served sweet honey. One protocol mentions amongst other things:

“...my dear child, you are already a true angel here on Earth. CHRIST has taken you close to his heart – and he is pleased that you are his instrument. Fear nothing when the world comes to an end, because you are in the saviour's arms, nothing can happen to you.”

This is just one example of thousands! To read these documents makes you sick! – In order to perform real psychic work in the service of mankind it is imperative that one's own personality is completely pushed into the background. The name of the medium is unimportant. The names of the SPIRIT TEACHERS play absolutely no role. They can at most serve to distinguish between them, because they have different tasks to perform. We do not require treatises. – We do not require fancy phrases. – We do not require promises. – We do not require fantasies.

- What we require is good advice, elucidation and human understanding.
- A message from the hereafter is only a genuine message, when it contains a positive, usable doctrine. – Everything else ends up in the rubbish bin!

Pious, hypocritical behaviourism affronts us and only arrest our progress. We have not come across one single book wherein genuine guidelines of spiritistic and spiritualistic basic rules have been recorded. But there are hundreds of thousands of books that contain the kind of nonsense that confuses the seekers. From thousands of spiritual books one could make half a book that comes somewhat closer to the truth.

To sit in meditation and having all kinds of thoughts go through one's mind is not INSPIRATION by a long shot. But it's a different story when one receives a dictation that one can contemplate by the by, like listening to a telephone conversation. But it can become very dangerous when one doesn't exactly know with whom one has contact with, particularly when one believes that invisible entity.

This is why the Bible states:

“People must test whether the spirits come from GOD.”

This is easier said than done. How can one test the spirits? – It is only possible with the yardsticks of logic. We ascertained that hardly a medium or a circle participants is in possession of an absolute yardsticks of logic. It is therefore impossible to test a spirit, if one has not informed oneself exactly and a priori about the truth and logic.

- Blind faith, a prayer, trust and a good heart – all of those do not suffice for such a test.

When fallen spirits are very intelligent, they have great powers over their listeners. They will falsify their writing and the truth so sophisticatedly that everybody will be duped by them. It takes years of experience before one can recognise a SPIRIT TEACHER for what he is. We are convinced that our readers are already capable of applying yardsticks of logic to test a spirit.

One must ask the spirits questions that they have to answer. If they avoid the question and wants to change the subject, they will arouse suspicion. A positive spirit will politely say thank you, but will not waste his listeners' time with adulations. If a "Christ" or an "Archangel" would announce himself, we would immediately interrupt the contact.

- All extremely great TEACHERS of the WORLD of the SPIRIT come nameless. Their legitimation is solely the value of their communication.

Let's take a closer look at the Psychophon one is presently talking about across the world. Lots and lots of paranormal VOICES appear on this apparatus that announce themselves with famous names. We do however know from experience that most of the celebrities from this Earth lost their glory in the hereafter and that they reside in DARK SPHERES, where they are sedentarily arrested.

- A great otherworldly TEACHER doesn't say, I am "Napoleon" or "Socrates", but will announces himself with a name used by religious orders, for instance PRUDENTIUS. Brotherly love, patience, tolerance, discretion and HIGHER KNOWLEDGE are his characteristics.

Neurologists and psychiatrists should give the Psychophon some thought. The things that are recorded on tape can also take place in the brain of a psychically gifted person. Pathological clairaudience, particularly a painful case of possession, shows the same characteristics. One will then no longer be able to flippantly talk about "Schizophrenia", but the pathological contact with the WORLD of the SPIRIT, that is to say, the contact with the base, negative SPHERES of the hereafter. Drug addicts and severe alcoholics establish such contacts that they are then unable to stop. One says: They "hallucinate". The reality is that they "telephone" with the WORLD of the SPIRIT or already have an insight into the lower SPHERES.

Questions and answers

Question : The sciences would like to find out how long life has existed on Earth. The results they come up with vary quite a bit. Can you tell us something about this?

AREDOS : GOD'S WORKS look back on eons. They represent the maximum possible experience. The experience of human creations is comparably zero. The things mankind holds bodacious and good are hardly backed by experience. Human beings will only realise at a much later periods of time just how inadequate everything that exists now really is. The things that have not proven successful up to now will hardly remain. Only their illusions makes people triumph. The ANTI-SPIRIT unfortunately still triumphs.

Question : We ascertain over again that the sciences avoid all spiritual insights apart from philosophy, because it is purely based on human thought. How do you see this?

AREDOS : The sciences dealing with the human existence mainly look to the past in order to understand the present. The key to all truths is however not found in the past, but in the WORLD of the SPIRIT. It is impossible to explore this WORLD with today's lecture room knowledge. This is why mainly private pundits carry out such thrusts with success.

Question : People generally have a strong disposition to imitate everything, even if it is ever so negative. Can one actually still be guided by the majority?

AREDOS : The most dangerous word here on Earth is “modern”. This word is ungodly, because it represents disharmony and un-healthiness and also the decline of development. Almost everything modern is obtrusive and stereotyped. It bears all the hallmarks of unreasonableness. The beguiled and ignorant that adore this word strive to imitate everything that is supposed to be modern.

- Please replace this word with actions that are really progressive and that do not harm the divine and universal harmony.

The exploration of the realm of the spirit

February 1972

We published the following in our Menetekel brochure in January 1971:

“A number of great inventions and discoveries will somewhat change the world’s views. One will finally realise during this dangerous year, that POWERS exist that escape human perception if one is not blessed with being able to clearly recognise them.”

A Russian professor has been successful in inventing an apparatus that can be used to photograph the LIGHT AURA of people, animals and also plants.

- One has even been able to photograph the exit of the ASTRAL BODY during the dying process.
- Amputated limbs were also made visible after an amputation.

This enormously valuable invention virtually shocked the Russian sciences. The Soviet Dialectic Materialism thereby breaks down, because telepathy also enters the equation. This Russian invention is only the beginning of NEW KNOWLEDGE and an enormous step towards the exploration of the realm of the spirit. Besides, our readers received further confirmation that our prophetic statements came true. We have been able to verify this quite often before.

If it is already possible to photograph the invisible aura, it might soon be possible to also make parts of the realm of the spirit visible. These types of ghost photos will then no longer be declared deceptions or a fraud. Our otherworldly friend and teacher ARGUN once told us:

“GOD will not light his LIGHT at the brightest places on Earth, but there where it is darkest.”

The fact that this invention was made in atheistic Russia of all places, is food for thought!

Research into the hereafter is ancient. CHRIST was already a researcher into the hereafter who assembled a circle and became its leader and at the same time its best medium. But he also understood the LAWS of MAGIC that gave him the reputation of being a Son of God.

A large section of mankind is still inclined to assume, based on Church doctrine, that one must avoid everything supernatural, metaphysical and occult, ergo the whole region of the hereafter, because it is unnatural and macabre. This attitude considerably hinders mankind’s progress and leads to all kinds of mistakes.

The Russians, influenced by communism/atheism, do not like the word “soul”, because they do not believe in an afterlife. But the latest experiments with an aura-apparatus however show that – apart from physical matter – another FABRIC is present in living things, one that can visibly separate from the body. This fact cannot be doubted, because it was scientifically proven and this experiment can be repeated daily. There is nothing macabre about this, the actual findings are revealing and highly interesting. This represents a step into INVISIBLE LIFE.

Well, the Russians do not call this astral body “soul”, they call it “energy body”. But the Russians also do not say “God”, but “nature”. Whatever one might call it, it doesn't change the facts, for we are dealing with something EXISTING. One will eventually gain the highest insights via detours also. If one adds the negative experiences of drug addicts to the equation, one gains a relatively clear picture, namely that there is no greater mistake and nonsense than the Russian's assertion that consciousness is tied to matter.

Technical séances

The VOICE-PHENOMENON, respectively the technical connection with the hereafter, creates an increasing global sensation. After lots of technological tests with the new medium, Spiritualists and Esoterics no longer doubt the genuineness of these contacts. Scientists and technicians, they have always been amongst the sceptics, are searching for other explanations, explanations that better conform to their own view of the world.

This voice-phenomenon is still in its infancy, but technology strides forward with giant steps. One can assume that these contacts can be improved. In the meantime, it is getting more difficult for atheists to talk their way out of this dilemma.

Even though we have access to some very good apparatuses, we don't require them to make contacts. Our spirit GUIDANCE advised against it. If we take a closer look at this decision, we have to admit that they were right. It would surely mean that we would have to begin again from the start. The contacts via our mediums are so excellently developed and clued up that it would hardly be possible to improve them. And then there is the PROTECTION we established that is imperative for all good contacts. We stick with the best instruments there is, namely the human medium

Researchers interested in technological séances from a technical point of view make a great mistake that we find impossible to comprehend, but that shows how inexperienced and ignorant they are from a spiritual point of view: Experimenting electronics technicians and scientists turn to other experts in the sectors of wave and oscillation research for help. But these experts are not Spiritualist, they have absolutely no inkling about the realm of the spirit and its INHABITANTS and they are also not familiar with its LEGALITIES. They are inexperienced, curious people that dare to deal with a sector that towers way above our earthly existence. They still haven't realised that their profane experiments not just deal with the so-called Heaven, but also with hell. We assume that these researchers neither believe in GOD nor his ANTAGONIST, because they unsuspectingly accept the greatest nonsense lying and hoaxing spirits dish up. These people should study good literature before they deal with this, like for instance the work of Dr. Emil Mattiesen: “The personal survival after Death” or that of Dr. Wickland: “30 years amongst the Dead”.

Our question is: Why do these researchers not turn to experienced Spiritualists? These experts indeed know how to deal with entities from the hereafter. It very much depends on sufficient experience to ask the right questions and to assess the opposite side correctly. Success only comes via LOVE, the truth and friendship. If we are not prepared to help otherworldly entities, we cannot expect them to help us.

Using the technological path, the lower SPHERES are always approached first to begin with. One then has to work one's way up SPHERE by SPHERE until one reaches the ELITE. It is clearly evident that a throng of base spirits likes to make itself known, because names are mentioned that we are still very familiar with.

- Atheism is a state of temporary mental derangement.

This fact is particularly evident with beings from the hereafter. It isn't any different with us here on Earth.

- Ungodliness prevents all enlightenment.

Questions and answers

September 1972

Question : The sciences still maintain that mankind descended from apes. Why can't this question be unambiguously answered?

ARGUN : The people on Earth unfortunately make the mistake of actually identifying themselves with the animal kingdom, it matters not whether with apes or original cells. This is the reason why they do not think that they make a mistake when they develop impulses and inclinations in themselves that only have validity in the animal kingdom. This is why human beings are cruel and driven by urges to commit inhuman acts. The sciences should specifically deal with and get rid of this mistake before they begin to explore man's origin.

The EVIL one likes to approach certain scientists in order to blind them, because he knows that the masses listen to scientist and believe them. Most scientists are therefore good instruments for the antagonist.

- When dealing with man's origin you have to know that all of flora and fauna preceded mankind as an experiment. This naturally includes apes, because they have indeed been around longer than human beings.

September 1972

Question : All human beings possess a certain cache of memory. Is it possible to penetrate into this cache of memory?

ELIAS : This is only possible telepathically. Hypnosis can support this process. Memory of cosmic ENGRAMS exists that can be located. They reflect things like a mirror.

Question : Are there no brain engrams?

ELIAS : No. Memory is a cosmic process. We are dealing with mental VIBRATIONS that occupy a very specific location. This is why one talks about the “Book of Life”. This “book” is a cosmic region.

October 1972

Question : We like to get back to Darwin’s Theory of Evolution once again. To what degree has the human evolution something to do with that of apes?

AREDOS: Apes are a species of their own. Human beings never had any connection with apes, even if they were ever so similar. Human beings developed via animalistic precursors up to Neanderthal man. Neanderthal man was however given something that no animal possessed and never will possess, namely a human soul, one that continuously grows and develops further. This soul has the ability to contemplate why it is alive and who might have created it.

- Darwin once said: “I gave people a theory and they turned it into a doctrine.”

And something else: Apes always have completely different eyes than human beings. The eyes of human beings have always been more animated than those of an animal or a gorilla. It might not be immediately apparent, but by taking a closer look and making a comparison, any reasonably intelligent human being would have to notice it:

- Apes are a satanic creation!

GOD created man in his image. Satan therefore also wanted to have something in his image, because he constantly tried to copy GOD’S creation. After many attempts, the gorilla was a creature that came closest. Apes also have a lot of the antagonist’s characteristics from a mental point of view.

July 1973

Question : Why do scientist adhere so strongly to the theories they absorbed during their studies?

ELIAS : It unfortunately happens quite often that the human way of thinking is programmed at universities and colleges so that their own logic ends up in the background. But these mister scientists must then find out that their dear old insights, theories and so-called evidence is being eroded away by new insights.

Question : Are scientists actually capable of judging concerns they never practised themselves in an unprejudiced and level-headed way?

ELIAS : This is exactly the thing that hinders progress. This particularly applies to psycho-science. When scientists wear academic blinkers they are no longer in a position to recognise things correctly. They will then only be able to recognise the things offered to them within their restricted horizon.

Objection : It has been our experience that a lot of scientists ask the people they are going to be engaged in conversation with about their academic standing first. The questioner must therefore hold the opinion that only and exclusively academics are objective.

ELIAS : Only when scientists are prepared to accept that unnatural phenomena and apparitions might be possible, will they be able to make a really objective judgment. This is the only way they can delve in any direction without prejudice and achieve genuine results.

Question : Is the trust in past insights so exaggerated that misjudgements arise from it?

ELIAS : Most academic scientists make the mistake of trusting well-known names. When Professor X states that this is how it is, they accept that his announcement is an absolute, irrevocable law.

Comparisons with statements by other well-known capacities are therefore inappropriate. One even rejects further research because Professor X said that no other definition is possible. This is where almost all experts fail, particularly when dealing with something new that is difficult to comprehend.

Question : The extraterrestrial universal teacher ASHTAR SHERAN once told us:

“Remember that around 50% of the Earth’s population consists of anti-human beings that would never acknowledge anything unusual. They are however to be found in the highest positions within world governments or at least support them.”

How do you see this?

ELIAS : Parapsychologists learn something new every day and they gradually turn more subdued. Young students nowadays already feel that their teachers keep truths from them, because they promote old insights. But this exasperates them. One has in the meantime also ascertained that some of the greatest geniuses have been wrong.

Question : Dear ELIAS, could it be possible that the subconscious of scientists might still contain something of the general world religion?

ELIAS : Such scientists can publicly reject something or call themselves atheists, but they sense in spite of this that there is something wrong. This is a very important chapter, because it has to do with conscience. Neither heaven nor hell may exist in their eyes and also no survival after death, because that would be a danger to themselves. This specifically applies to those that are engaged in the development of ordnance. These scientists naturally reject everything divine, spiritual or transcendental and find all kinds of negative explanation for them. But such statements are immediately and globally disseminated.

- The results of our joint work are now also acknowledged by scientist all over the world. But they do not talk about it, because they are afraid of exposing themselves to ridicule.

August 1973

Question : Did the people in ancient times have a uniform language?

ARGUN : The first human beings on this Earth did utter inarticulate sounds, but these were not part of any language. These people however understood one another just the same, because they had control of telepathy to a high degree, even though they were not aware of this. Communicating like this was something common place to them. They always knew what was meant, even though they were not clear about the process. These people did not communicate through words, but through the concepts and images they send one another.

November 1973

The exploration of the realm of the spirit

Questions put to the circle's leader Herbert Viktor Speer:

Question : What do you think "acknowledgment by the sciences" means?

Speer : One has to differentiate here: There are scientists that acknowledge something on a personal level, whilst others do not. A scientific acknowledgment only comes about when universities publicly proclaim a concrete opinion.

Question : How do universities react towards Spiritualism?

Speer : University sciences have abandoned their absolute rejection these days. But they still lack the courage to acknowledge the existence of the WORLD of the SPIRIT.

Question : Why didn't the sciences accept the work by Dr. Emil Mattiesen as evidence?

Speer : Because the will to acknowledge it is lacking. The greatest truths are always attacked when their acknowledgment is suited to decisively change the whole world's philosophy. One intensively searches for mistakes in such cases in order to discriminate against them. We also experienced the same, namely that one searched for a misplaced comma in amongst the great truths and insights in order to justify a criticism. The work by Dr. E. Mattiesen also contains lots of orthographic mistakes and false phraseologies and this led to a situation where the author's level of education was questioned.

Question : Are there specific circles that completely acknowledge that Spiritualism as the doctrine from the hereafter?

Speer : Spiritualism is a nationally recognised religion in England. Other nations also take a positive stance in regards to this doctrine. Spiritualism is of great importance in Brazil and it already started to displace the Catholic Church there.

Question : What does the financing of research into this field look like?

Speer : The situation in Germany is very dismal in this respect and hardly worth mentioning. Things are somewhat better in other countries, because people there are more open minded.

Question : One hears that parapsychology makes great strides in the Soviet Union. How is this possible with atheism playing a major role in the party program there?

Speer : The Soviet Union spends the most money on it, followed by the USA. The USSR presently spends about 13 million Russian Roubles on paranormal phenomena.

Question : How high are the costs for your psycho-scientific research?

Speer : We are neither supported by the state nor by institutions. But we have been working privately in this field of knowledge for more than 20 years in spite of this. The costs, including the dissemination, are of a sum that isn't always covered by the revenue we attract. The research work that we do is therefore often on the brink of collapse, but we do not see the work we do as a source of income, but as a mission of global elucidation.

Question : Where do the means come from to cover the balance?

Speer : We must unfortunately deal with everything ourselves, something national institutions don't have to do.

December 1973

Questions and answers

Question : One still hasn't found an explanation why there are so many different races on Earth. Can you tell us something about it?

AREDOS: Every country, specifically every continent has its own coloured population that has achieved various levels of development.

- Every human soul must have been through or go through all of these levels of development.

Through reincarnating on Earth, every human being has to opportunity to be born into a different race. This is why it is an enormous mistake for the races to fight one another.

- It can happen through the LAW of KARMA that the pursuer turns into the pursued.

It is GOD'S LAW that all human beings achieve spiritual maturity. The time it takes matters not. But human beings can save themselves a lot of inconveniences if they endeavour to gain this maturity. However superstitions and senseless necromancy get very much in the way. Cults are actually fertile ground for unilateral negativity.

Question : Is there one race that is further developed in their spiritual maturity?

AREDOS: The Caucasian race is somewhat better off. This race has already experienced incarnations in many coloured races in their development. This race should therefore be a conspicuous archetype for the other races. This is unfortunately not the case.

- Its predilection for bellicose behaviourism indicates that the Caucasian race has missed out on the highest insights.

False religions also guided Caucasian people along the wrong path. Anyway, all races will achieve spiritual maturity once they have an objective religion first, one that individual races can be guided by.

June 1974

The exploration of the realm of the spirit

The sciences assert that insights can only be acknowledged when the experiments required to furnish evidence can be repeated. It is furthermore asserted that spiritual insights cannot be accepted, because they cannot be repeated.

It is furthermore asserted that conjurors and illusionists can indeed imitate the phenomena of Spiritism. The layman, having no inkling of genuine phenomena, must admit that the sciences are probably right, because their demands cannot be fulfilled.

The facts look different:

Most phenomena can be constantly repeated. During well over 1,000 séances, we have been able to repeat automatic writing promptly, actually to the minute. But this fact is ignored in all of these cases and one tries to enervate the evidence. We are mostly dealing with scientists that never managed to go beyond their school taught knowledge and above everybody else, atheists that assert that there is no CREATOR and this without actually being able to verify his alleged non-existence.

We also talked to journalists about this theme. They had this to say:

“For somebody to sit down and to write away at something almost illegible and then assert that this writing stems from spirits, cannot be regarded as evidence.”

A lot of people that never witnessed a séance will hold this opinion. But psychic writing differs from normal writing in many ways.

- It consumes a lot of energy and this quickly leads to fatigue and it brings about a craving for sustenance.
- Besides, a measurable loss of bodyweight takes place.
- The way the writing is arranged is different and it is adapted to the applied ENERGY.
- There is a system that the otherworldly WRITER abides by.

These observations were made on an international level and they all concur. The writing runs like a snake, the words are not separated from one another, they are connected and a new line is introduced by a long line running from right to left.

- Otherworldly entities endeavour to prove their presence during the first phase. — Once they achieved this they move onto the second phase that concentrates on indoctrination.

All otherworldly WRITERS exhibit their personal characteristics.

- Temperamental outbursts can be observed when the speed of writing increases or when one word or a sentence is emphasised, the word or the sentence are then thicker or are underlined numerous times.
- Language is no hindrance. All languages the otherworldly have command of can be utilised.
- Writing mediums can write upside down without having practised this, meaning that the letters stand on their heads or mirror writing is sometimes used, the way the medium Leonardo da Vinci wrote.
- We received drawings of portraits and messages in complete darkness.
- Corrections were made on portrait drawings at times that neither the participant nor the medium saw as a mistake a priori.

There was certainly no lack of evidence of their genuineness!

July 1974

Questions and answers

Question : Are researchers correct when they say that an already highly developed culture existed on Earth a long time ago, one that then perished?

ELIAS : Yes, that is correct.

- There has however never been a high enough culture that could be compared to your civilisation. There has also never been a nuclear age on Earth before. No such technological wars have also never taken place and your kind of present day aviation existed neither.

But these old cultures, they were also aware of other civilisations, exhibited different accomplishments and insights. They were aware of lots of magic secrets that are no longer known to you these days. They also had valuable contacts with extraterrestrials who advised them.

Objection : Extraterrestrial are almost always depicted as enemies or monsters in movies nowadays.

ELIAS : All human beings throughout the universe have two legs, two arms, one head, two eyes, and five fingers on each hand etc. There are no differences there whatsoever. Extraterrestrials are also very highly evolved and this evolution also included beauty. Do you believe that monsters could dominate space, that they could build spaceships that can race across unimaginably long distances beyond the speed of light? – Those that believe this are mentally retarded.

Question : Are there limits to man's power of imagination?

WHITE EAGLE: Learn to disengage yourself from the limitations of your person, from your lower self and your physical mind so that you can use the wings of your power of imagination to swing higher. This is how you become free, because in the LAND of LIGHT meditation makes accessible to you, you can see behind the scenes your physical life represents. If you do so, you will understand the true meaning of brotherhood. You will then understand that you can only then get closer to the CHRIST-IDEAL, namely when you serve from deep within your heart, with your whole soul and all of your mind. You are inseparably connected to the great OCEAN of LIFE and you cannot harm your brothers, be they human beings, animals or plants, without harming yourself. Love one another! – Love one another!

Question : Atheists hold the opinion that they can manage without GOD, because they do indeed live without prayers. What do you say to that?

OGAMI SAMA: Bless your own life's journey through sincerity and by acknowledging that you are a lost NONENTITY without GOD and therefore think for at least one second: Am I a true human being?

Question : Will mankind continue to go astray in a maze?

OGAMI SAMA: It is high time for mankind to awaken to the simplicity of all truths as it races past the insights of a happy life because of so many erroneous endeavours and ending up on the roads that lead to blind and hellish confusion. Those that do not turn towards heaven, the HARMONIOUS POWER within, will have a hellish time. It is up to individuals to choose. None other but one of the two lots that GOD'S PERFECTION has allocated for human beings.

Question : We are astonished that there are scientists that invent a negative explanation for every spiritual phenomenon in spite overwhelming evidence. Why is this so?

AREDOS: When a well-known scientist is confronted with having the task of explaining psych-phenomena, he cannot simply assert that such phenomena are of a spiritual nature, because this is not part of the task he feels called upon to do. This scientist can only find acclaim if he devitalises spiritual phenomena, he is otherwise disloyal to his cause and he will be chastised accordingly.

Question : A question arises with our highly developed sciences and technology, namely why do spiritual insights lag so far behind?

AREDOS: People show an incredible interest in everything negative. This is why crime shows are so popular. People heedlessly walk past beauty most of the time or they blaspheme it. People are often subjected to OTHERWORLDLY COERCIONS.

October 1974

Question : Is there a limit to the universe?

AREDOS: The universe is a space that no human being can comprehend. It is probably unlimited:

- Because there isn't just one universe, but a myriad of universes!

In the service of the truth

The decision to publish things about supernatural phenomena is increasingly made. One would have derisively smiled about this only a few years ago. We are at a stage these days where the derisiveness gives way to a certain amount of seriousness.

The search for new insights shows more and more interest in the unusual. One does indeed ask for evidence – and rightly so, because the world's religions can only offer little evidence and it is mostly subjective.

The question is: Where is the evidence?

It looks as if the evidence isn't available and therefore has to be assumed. But this is a completely wrong point of view, one that unfortunately prevails at universities. As it is the norm, the evidence was naturally recorded in writing. But not a lot of people know that such evidence actually exists. It can be found throughout the world's literature and it is recorded on more than 100,000 pages. There are scientific accounts from known scientists and famous researchers amongst them. The works by Dr. Emil Mattiesen contain a lot of documents that constitute a life's work. Well-known researchers that also deal – on the side – with mysticism or occultism, do however not offer the guarantee that they placed themselves in the service of the truth.

Just how backward this field of knowledge still is, is verified by the assessment of the possessed. Almost all of them are regarded as “schizophrenics” and accordingly chemically treated. The fact that genuine possessions exist is not acknowledged, one avoids the truth like the plague because one is afraid that it could actually be true.

But who should examine and assess spiritual phenomena?

Apparently alleged experts.

But the experienced Spiritualist finds that these experts are everything but experienced Spiritualists. Only an experienced researcher into the hereafter, searching for and in the service of the truth, can assess this. A so-called expert is not in a position to do this, because we are most of the time dealing with cases where one thinks from the outset: The sciences are confronted with an enigma. – But because these enigmas cannot be solved with school taught wisdom, there is nothing else left for the experts to do but to contemplate whether it could possibly be different and this without hurting school taught wisdom's feelings. This is the greatest mistake of all and beyond that, completely unscientific.

The objectivity of most academics is very much restricted through prejudices and their own contemplations based on pre-programmed knowledge.

Spiritual phenomena defy school taught wisdom, because we are dealing with LAWS of NATURE that have nothing to do with the laws of physics most of the time. SPIRITUAL FORCES are indeed different and they are superior to the forces of nature.

Those that deal with Spiritualism and honestly search, must be clear about the fact that they are in the service of the truth and that this truth comes with responsibilities.

But the truth lies with GOD and almost all academically trained scientists are not interested in GOD.

Equipped with this resolution they avoid the truth, which is so incomprehensible to them, and they come up with their own thesis' and theories that they can actually not verify, but that are easier to comprehend than the complicated truth that defy the laws of nature one has learned.

December 1974

Questions and answers

Question : There are still some behaviourists that coquet the idea that we descended from apes. What else can you tell us about this?

Answer : The difference between apes and human beings becomes most apparent when looking at the difference between the souls. The conscious activity of a human being has no relationship to that of an ape. Human beings can think and plan, they possess fantasy and they can amass a huge cache of memories – and because of their logic, human beings are connected with GOD. People unfortunately misjudge this all too often, because they allow Lucifer's helpers to repress their congenital logic.

January 1975

Question : One assumes that because the sciences and technology are so advanced, civilised humankind is already quite enlightened. Do you also see it like that?

Answer : Something monstrous happens on your planet in spite of this, something unique within the whole universe that the positive side will never be able to comprehend: There are people amongst you that have the gall to assert that they sense and know more than the CREATOR because of their standing, ergo their scientific symbols of honour.

- The people on this planet are so blinded by academic titles and dignities that they are prepared to believe the scientific nonsense of a coincidental self-creation of the whole universe.

I know that you make fun of the CREATOR. But I also know that this derision is not directed at the CREATOR of the universe, but at a God your Churches have conceived – a God that doesn't exist. The name has nothing to do with it.

- The GREAT INFORMER is your actual CREATOR and the absolute origin of the universe.

If you do not think it necessary to honour and to respect HIM, if it seems to be a reason to blaspheme instead, you'll find that this happens because you know and recognise in your impotence, just how abject and exposed to all kinds of forces you really are. But if you were to correctly identify, love, respect and honour your own origin, it would be possible for you to comprehend GOD the way HE really is and it would then be impossible for you to deride HIM.

Truly, your origin makes you more important and more capable than you suspect, because all of you were created from the CREATOR'S INTELLIGENT MASS. But when one neither knows one's heritage nor the size of the gifts one is endowed with, one can also not remember how to utilise one's great gifts.

The INFORMER and PLANNER doesn't demand that you should blindly obey HIM. All HE asks is that you should obey your own positive thoughts. Learn to discipline yourselves. Learn to think progressively! GOD doesn't want subjects, moral cowards, hypocrites, beggars and no public orators in GOD'S name either. All HE wants are genuine friends and veracious co-workers to further the construction of the universe. I know that GOD only wants souls of equal rights that stand at HIS side with LOVE, advice and actions. The CREATOR will confer all the powers to them. Contemplate this for a while!

February 1975

Question : Various scientists still hold the opinion that consciousness without a brain is not possible. This is why they refuse to admit that thought process are also possible outside the body. What do you say to that?

ELIAS : Cells, atoms and molecules do not have a mind like human beings. They do not require a brain to absorb the divine INFORMATION that is akin to a COMMAND. Human beings can also telepathically receive and deal with COMMANDS with or without a physically active brain. There are cases where this process was revealed, namely when a skull was opened and its content was everything but a brain. The mind still worked excellently in spite of all that destruction. The whole organism, including all muscles and nerves, is controlled by the ASTRAL BODY in cases like this.

The same thing happened when the great healer CHRIST healed the lame and the blind. CHRIST activated the ASTRAL BODY through his enormous POWER of SUGGESTION so that it could take over the physical functions. A premature spiritual SEEING and HEARING or the control of muscles and nerves took place, that is to say, before their demise.

Comment: Scientists have ascertained that the functions of damaged parts of the brain can be replaced by other parts of the brain. One therefore assumes that the tasks of certain nerves are taken over by other nerves. The reality is that these tasks are taken over by the ASTRAL BODY in such cases, but the contact for this must be triggered first. CHRIST could do so.

An atom or cells can absorb and store spiritual VIBRATIONS of the FINEST ORDER. They can actually infinitely multiply this cache, roughly like a stencil allows duplications. What is however important is that all INFORMATION cannot be effected through physical matter, that it actually represents a mental ENERGY that emanates from a UNIVERSAL THOUGHT-CENTRE. Therefore remember the formula:

- GOD is pure nature, a UNIVERSAL THOUGHT-CENTRE of enormous proportions. All INFORMATION and all COMMANDS to all of creation come from this CENTRE.

GOD could naturally give COMMANDS to mankind also, for instance to be good and not engage in wars. But HE would have to take mankind's free will away and turn them into robots, automatons that only receive COMMANDS in order to carry them out. But human beings are designed to be GOD'S co-workers and independent thinkers. So the freedom of making their own decisions doesn't bind human beings to such COMMANDS. People however abuse this freedom of thought and action.

The things GOD can do can also be done by his antagonist Lucifer. He too can give commands to atoms and molecules, because he also participated in the act of creation. This is why GOD'S antagonist can influence the brain, respectively the consciousness of people. The antagonist can dupe people. He can disguise himself. He can formulate his commands in such a way that one cannot recognise the intentions behind them.

The antagonist abuses his powers of creation, controlled by his pathological hatred, in unimaginable ways: He can trigger epidemics, he can interfere with the development of embryos, spread leprosy and lots of terrible diseases like for instance cancers. This is the reason why there is only one effective protection against these attacks on human beings, namely positive thoughts and actions, they close the DOORS on such attacks.

- The devil can be effective and successful where people offer him an easy opportunity, namely through their negative behaviourism. People are approached by Satan and his vassals via the brain every minute of the day.

Through their free will people can withstand these temptations. But human beings are generally weak and they do not do so, because the devil promises advantages that turn out to be deceptions and frauds later on. Ungodly people are most at risk, because ungodliness ousts all protection and the devil has clear access. The devil applies coercion. – GOD doesn't!

Question : Most people cannot imagine a SPIRITUAL LIFE in a SPIRITUAL REALM. How can one explain their survival?

AREDOS : You must become clear about the fact that there is more than one life on Earth for human beings, that the life of every human being is a UNIVERSAL LIFE that is divided into many levels and forms. The life of the soul, that is incarnated over again, is constantly subjected to training and development.

- A life on Earth is one of those levels, one with the specific aim of purification, that is to say, the recognition of GOD'S creative POWER.

Due to the laws of nature, human beings naturally return over again to the BIG HOUSE. Through divine GRACE, human beings receive every now and then a temporary body that makes a life in the physical possible.

The here and now and the hereafter are closely connected with each other. Everything that concerns human beings is a kind of co-production, because human beings are mentally supported by or misguided from the hereafter.

- The hereafter appears transparent to the physical world.

The souls in the realm of the spirit can see this transparent world, but incarnated human beings on the other hand that can do so are very rare exceptions. The reason why people cannot correctly imagine this is due to the fact that they omitted to adopt the experiences of Spiritualists and mediums. One is more open minded in this respect these days and research is carried out with more scientific interest. It will only take a few more years before mankind will accept this knowledge. An enormous spiritual reversal, the like the world has never seen before, will then take place. A so-called pseudo-science has managed to distort and to talk the most important facts and evidence out of existence.

Question : Should one keep quiet about it?

AREDOS : No. The knowledgeable should make themselves heard and present their point of view logically.

Objection : Scientists often ask whether objections and indoctrinations stem from an academic. When they hear that they are dealing with a non-academic, they immediately rate that person a non-educated smart aleck.

AREDOS : Such a case provides the evidence that a self-educated person can possess more knowledge than any university could teach.

Objection : Academics are unfortunately often snobs. They believe that because of their studies they are different from their non-educated fellow human beings.

AREDOS : People do like to raise their own status. They would like to be like GOD.

- The higher snobbish people raise their status, the further they distance themselves from GOD.

Human beings only really raise their status to that of GOD, when they become more like the CREATOR, when they think and act like the CREATOR. This perfection is absolutely possible. Expressed differently, it is called INFINITE LOVE.

Questions for ASHTAR SHERAN

Question : There are scientists amongst us that hold the opinion that the Earth is the only planet in the universe where human beings can live. What do you say to that?

A.S. : The immensity of the physical universe provides mankind with a concept of the enormous MAGNITUDE and POWER of the CREATOR. To assert that physical creatures, specifically human beings, only exist on this Earth is therefore an incredible blasphemy. Strange as it may seem, one finds it easier to assume that fauna and flora might exist on other planets, but when it comes to human life, doubts start that end up in completely denial.

- To reject or actually doubt that other human life, also in physical form, exists within the whole universe is a conscious curtailment of the CREATOR'S almightiness.

The physical, phenomenal world of the whole universe has been absolutely unerringly and mentally pre-planned. The physical world is there to fulfil a very important purpose, namely to add to mankind's experience and to train and refine its spirit creatively in the eyes of GOD. Looking at the unimaginable vastness of the universe, Earth could never be the only, tiny opportunity for such training and refinement. Those that assume this are mentally incredibly limited and they are completely uncomprehending in regards to GOD.

Objection : One also finds the phenomenon of UFOS unnatural.

A. S. : The occupants of so-called UFOS, the SANTINER, are absolutely not unnatural, even though they can realise the things they planned through inspiration from the divine REGIONS. It is on no account unnatural for a psychic person to suddenly see or even exchange a few telepathic words with a deceased relative, because that relative is in GOD'S REALM.

When people blaspheme about this and brand the truth a lie because they want to express their ungodly opinion with force and a lot of clamour and would like to force it upon others, you'll find that this is unnatural and hostile towards GOD. Nuclear tests and wars are unnatural because they do not create anything, they destroy the created and the configured.

Terrestrial mankind only obeys when it is afraid of something. This is why the DIVINE LAW must also be feared.

But the LORD'S LAW doesn't just apply to one's terrestrial life. On the contrary – it also has an effect after one's terrestrial existence. The MESSENGER CHRIST forcefully emphasised this important point. GOD'S LAW doesn't just concern the behaviourism of people they way GOD wants them to behave, his LAWS are more than terrestrial laws, they are a part of the laws of nature.

Those that act against the laws of nature will feel the very distinct force of the consequences. This doesn't always have to be in this life. Every law is connected to chastisement and atonement. There is only one salvation from it – through expiation. But not through the words of a priest.

- The things people encumber themselves with must be absolutely absolved, even if it takes centuries.

No human being can be made responsible for the sins of another human being. No human being can atone for the sins of another human being. The MESSENGER CHRIST can also not do so. This is an intentional lie spread by the Church in order to get financial support.

A life on Earth should not only serve one's material development, it should specifically make one spiritually mature. This maturity is found in the recognition and the correct assessment of things. This maturity can however never be achieved through trespassing against the laws of nature and its associated atheism or through mendacious behaviour.

Questions and answers

Question : Can the sciences comprehend the existence of the human soul whilst they assume that the process of consciousness takes place in the brain?

AREDOS : Thoughts are made to vibrate through one's will. One's own will is part of the soul and not the brain. The soul sends an IMPULSE. This makes the THOUGHT ENERGY present within the universe vibrate.

- The energy of all vibrations that exist on Earth diminishes with increasing distance. But the reverse is true of thought vibrations, they increase with increasing distance, that is to say, their rate of vibration rises. This is only possible because the substance of thought is spread right across the whole universe.

It immediately makes contact with your memory that is not within you, but preserved within the cosmos. It aims for it and the thought related to the memory is instantly here. There is no time factor involved. The will is the driving force. The will is your EGO-consciousness. You think in concepts, words and images and all of this is located within the enormous space of the cosmos. Your whole consciousness is therefore found in the cosmos, however on an individual FREQUENCY.

This should make you appreciate how important human beings are, because they are the key to this individual memory cache within the universe and their immortality is therefore also a part of it. The death of the physical body never extinguishes this cache, it continues to remain at the disposal of the soul, it can be located by the soul at any time.

ICARUS : Well, human beings have the gift of communication via language. They can convert all mental concepts into symbols and sounds. Human beings specifically differ from animals in this respect.

- This fact alone would actually have to verify that they do not descend from apes, but that they went through a separate development and must still be going through a separate development.

The CREATOR constructed the universe. HE is the great ARCHITECT throughout the whole cosmos. But HE transferred the maintenance and monitoring of the universe – from the giant spirals (galaxies) to the tiniest unit – to billions of existences in spite of this; they would be superfluous if they didn't have a task to perform.

- Every individual human being has a divine ASSIGNMENT within the creative plan. Every reasonably minded human being would have to contemplate this.

Divine intelligence stands behind all physical matter, that is to say, behind individual thought processes within the realm of the spirit. GOD'S LAW therefore stands behind physical matter, it takes care of its continuance and its progressive and expedient operation. For one single movement to eventuate within the universe without intelligence or without a rational thought is impossible. Rational thought processes are even more intensive, more logical and more factual on a spiritual LEVEL than in your terrestrial existence.

- The things that envelop your souls and externally surround you are the result of RATIONAL THOUGHT PROCESSES according to the LAW of a SPIRIT who initiated it in the first place, somebody you call "GOD".

There is however a UNIVERSAL ENERGY that is at the disposal of spiritual INTELLIGENCES. This ENERGY on its own would be aimless and without benefit if it wasn't animated, that is to say, if it wasn't correctly controlled and monitored by highly intelligent and reliable thought processes.

- There is not one single speck of dust within the universe that isn't guided, informed and inspired by THOUGHT PROCESSES that are incomprehensible to you.

Some specks of dust might seem superfluous to you, even if they are separated from something larger or destined to amalgamate with something larger. In any case, every molecule or atom is a building block for the CONSTRUCTION of the DIVINE HOUSE.

- The universe consists of islands (galaxies). But things will be entirely different in billions of years from now, because these islands will gradually amalgamate into unimaginable continents, into a uniform REALM of GOD wherein all creatures of creation will find sufficient space and sufficient opportunities to lead a meaningful existence. Everything is at a preliminary stage at this point in time, but a specific goal was set right from the start.

Question : One is still trying to find out from whence terrestrial mankind developed from. Can you tell us something about this?

ELIAS : Mankind was not called into being on this planet. It experienced its first incarnation on a different planet. All incarnations of human beings and animals on this planet Earth took place at a time when sufficient SUBSTANCE (OD) was available for such basic materialisations, but it has now been almost completely consumed. The human mind cannot grasp the size of the universe. Large section of the universe exhibit multi-tiered life.

- At least one third of this space is inhabited by different human life and a part of this human life is advanced of terrestrial mankind by more than 12,000 years.

Billions of solar systems form the divine universe. Human beings have no idea of the enormous versatility of life connected with this.

But all of this would be meaningless if human beings with their souls, ergo with perceptions, feelings and thoughts, were not the observers of this universe. This enormous CREATION only becomes meaningful, because they can contemplate it. It was created and equipped for human beings. The universe is at the disposal of all human beings.

April 1975

Question : The latest series of nuclear tests brought disorder to the whole terrestrial sphere. The weather is no longer the same and the seasons are all confused. What does the realm of the spirit have to say about this?

AREDOS: The world had sufficient warning. But the powerful blasphemed about it. The SANTINER also had a serious word to say about it. Derision and mockery did not fail to appear. The world now has the mess it apparently wanted.

ARGUN : The last act of the nuclear sin has been committed with force. The world is now finally aware: This power is so abhorrent that one has turned away from it with horror. Because this power has been abused, it brought about its own demise. A blessing turns into a curse. If another, equal power were to follow this example, it would also lose its whole prestige. The process of discovering this power has already started. This clearly indicates that the Old Age with its satanic methods is ready to be pulled down.

July 1975

Question : What do you regard as magic?

AREDOS : Magic is a subject within the natural sciences, one can explore and utilise ENERGIES that lie outside physical matter, but that can have an influence on it. All materialisations (spirit body) are magical experiments from our point of view.

Your medical practitioners don't believe in magic. This is a grave mistake, because it can naturally lead to unexpected healing successes. Hypnosis is also a sector of magic and suggestion also belongs with it.

Question : Does the thought process take place in the brain or in the soul? Scientists still hold the opinion that thoughts happen within the brain.

AREDOS : The thought process always takes place in the soul, but a part of the thought process is directed at the brain.

- The part of the thought process that is not directed at the brain is the so-called subconscious. Only completed results are furnished to the brain itself.
- Thought represents the highest velocity within the universe. It surpasses the speed of light by numerous factors and it reaches across unimaginable distances.

Comment: One's intellectual education is something that doesn't die, it is taken beyond the grave. This is the reason why education is important and never useless, even if it takes place on the last day of one's existence. The bodacious brochure "What is truth", produced with the co-operation of ASHTAR SHERAN, communicates the kind of comprehensive education that cannot be found in any other lecture. Therefore my dear readers, make use of this unique opportunity and read this important document of revelation numerous times.
